FRENCH OBDURACY ON GERMAN DEFAULT DELAYS CONFERENCE

FRANCO-BELGIAN DISPUTE

Drafting of Report Without Belgian Concurrence Causes Trouble—Americans Active in Committees.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, July 18.—Some progress was made today in the preparations for the session of the Interallied Conference, though the debates in the committees were marked by heated controversy and a show of obduracy on points held by the French delegates to be vital.

This was notably the case of the First Committee, which is concerned with the problems of possible German default. France has in principle accepted the view that it is unnecessary, if not impossible, to define the exact nature of the penalties to be imposed in case of wilful default, but she is not willing altogether to exclude the possibility of separate action against Germany.

It is hoped that some compromise may be reached whereby all the signatories may bind themselves to concert and execute jointly such measures as may seem proper, but France may still think it necessary to make it clear that in the event of such measures appearing to her to be inadequate she will feel in no way debarred from independent action.

Investors Must Be Considered.

The danger of explicitly making such a condition would be, it is pointed out, that it might be found unpalatable to the investing public, which looks to the present deliberations to rule out the idea of another "Ruhr adventure." It is not now thought likely, however, that any stipulation to this effect will be inserted.

The British and French views, which had been put into writing, were argued out at length. Mr. Snowden is understood to have agreed to drop the stipulation that no measures involving occupation of German territory shall be taken. Naturally, this does not imply that such measures are definitely foreseen, but there is simply to be no reference to action of that sort. The American members of this committee were active with helpful suggestions, and the Italian and Belgian delegates vied with the Americans in seeking a solution acceptable to both France and Great Britain.

In general, it may be said that French delegates fully realize the necessity of reassuring the bondholders and are ready to agree to give absolute priority to the service of the reparation loan. If an American is nominated to the Reparation Commission for the purpose of adjudicating on default, this will, it is hoped, produce the desired effect.

The military experts of the French and Belgian delegations were summoned in private consultation to give their views on the safety of the troops in the occupied area during and after the withdrawal of the Franco-Belgian railway men now working there. It was decided that it would be absolutely necessary to retain a nucleus of not fewer than 3,000 men, as otherwise a German strike might paralyze the railway organization at any moment. On the other hand, it is hoped to arrange for complete economic evacuation in two stages instead of five.

The Third Committee practically completed its work. It concluded its examination of the problem of transferring reparation payments from the interallied receiving agency which is to be set up in Berlin under the Dawes scheme to the various creditor countries. It is understood that each country is to arrange its own machinery for receiving payment, which may be made in either cash or kind.

Belgians Dispute With French.

In regard to the Second Committee a hitch arose out of the drawing up of a report by M. Seydoux, the French delegate, relative to plans for the restoration of Germany's fiscal and economic unity without previous consultation with the Belgians. As a consequence this committee was not in a position to hold a meeting today. The difficulty, however, was adjusted and the committee will meet tomorrow morning under the Presidency of J. H. Thomas.

Most of the delegates are preparing to take things easily during the week-end. Premier MacDonald, who began the day by having M. Herriot, Signor de Stefani, M. Theunis and Ambassador Kellogg to early breakfast and then discussing points with his guests until 10 o'clock, went to Chequers this afternoon and will have a number of the chief delegates lunching with him at that delightful country residence on Sunday. Arrangements have been made by the British Government Hospitality Committee for most of the members of the foreign delegations to visit Wembley Exhibition tomorrow afternoon. Today's atmosphere is described as a distinctly good one.

Americans Fail to Effect Accord.

LONDON, July 18 (Associated Press).—The first setback of the interallied conference came today when an unsuccessful attempt was made to thresh out the fundamental differences in the

Toast King George and Dawes At London Conference Dinner

LONDON, July 18.—King George and Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes shared honors in the only two toasts given at the British Government's official dinner to the delegates to the Interallied Conference at Lancaster House last night.

After the last course had been served Premier MacDonald rose and gave the traditional British toast to his Majesty. He then announced that there would be no speeches.

After a few moments of conversation among the diners the French Premier, M. Herriot, rose and proposed a toast to General Dawes, which was received enthusiastically.

ARREST FALSE 'EMIR' ON VAGRANCY CHARGE

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Sied Zerdecheno, who calls himself the Emir of Kurdistan, is under arrest here on the technical ground of "likely to become a public charge" while officials of the Immigration Service are making an investigation to determine whether he obtained entrance into the United States on a forged passport.

Zerdecheno caused a sensation in Washington three years ago when he came here as the major domo of "the Princess Fatima of Egypt" and with the "princess" was received by President Harding. On his present visit to America he arrived in New York on the Homeric July 9 and passed the immigration officials by showing a passport, issued by a Turkish Consul in France to "H. R. H. the Emir of Kurdistan." He was ousted from the St. Regis and other New York hotels, and then disappeared while the immigration authorities were searching for him.

Zerdecheno came to Washington on Wednesday. Yesterday he visited the State Department, where he failed to impress officials with his story that he was the Emir and had come to get information for the benefit of his country. Then he went to the Egyptian Legation, asserting that he was an Egyptian subject. The police and the immigration authorities got word of him there and he was arrested.

The warrant on which Zerdecheno was arrested was issued in December, 1922. It is charged that he came across the Canadian border into the United States without authority and was likely to become a public charge.

Zerdecheno refused to talk to reporters as he lay on a cot in a cell in the police station. He intimated to the police that he would commit suicide and that this would involve the United States in another world war. Zerdecheno said that he had sent word to his wife in New York that he wanted $1,000 to obtain his release. Mrs. Zerdecheno was said to have been Kathryn Spigli of Kentucky.

Has Been in London and Paris Jails.

The self-styled Prince Sied Zerdecheno Mohammed Said, Emir of Kurdistan, has had a somewhat checkered career in the last two years for a man who says he is a direct lineal descendant of Usuf, who at the age of 17 was chosen to rule over Egypt about the year 3000 B. C.

After having duped many prominent people here in 1922 he was ejected from the Hotel Pennsylvania for non-payment of his bill. With him at that time was "Her Royal Highness the Princess" who prior to her marriage was Kitty Spigli of Kentucky. In December, 1922, he sailed for Europe in the second class of the White Star Liner Olympic. Shortly after his arrival in Paris he was sentenced to jail for three months for defrauding hotel proprietors. On the expiration of his sentence he was ordered to be deported.

On April 13, 1923 he was sentenced to six months' imprisonment in the second division in London for fraud, and was ordered deported on the expiration of his sentence. Nothing further was heard of him until his arrival in New York on the Homeric of the White Star Line on July 10. On the strength of what appeared to be a diplomatic passport, im-

FIND EMPTY CANOE OF 7 LOST CHILDREN ADRIFT IN SOUND

AIRMEN JOIN IN THE HUNT

TOOK CRAFT AT FAIRFIELD

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 18.—A canoe in which seven Bridgeport children had disappeared yesterday from Fairfield Beach was found late this afternoon by Captain Joe Green of the Bridgeport Towing Line tugboat John Glen a short distance off Middle Ground Light, about half way across Long Island Sound. The craft was overturned.

The children, who had gone paddling, were driven from shore, unseen by anybody, in the stiff gale which accompanied yesterday afternoon's thunderstorm.

With the discovery of the canoe, hope of finding the children was virtually abandoned. None of them could swim. The parents still cling to the faint hope that the four girls and three boys may have been picked up by some passing barge or Sound steamer.

Those missing are Alva Nordquist, 13 years old, and Clinton Nordquist, 12, of 294 Ellsworth Street; Ethel Borquist, 14, and Walter Borquist, 12, of 22 Seaside Avenue; Alva Anderson, 14, of 86 Lee Avenue; Florence Benson, 15, of Stratfield Road, and Ernest Peterson, 8, of 86 Midland Street.

The canoe was brought in here late this afternoon and the owner, George Mills, from whose place the unsubstantial craft was taken, identified it. It was found floating bottom side up and its two chairs were found underneath it. There was no trace of any clothing, nor any other sign of the party.

While detectives from the Bridgeport police were occupied in running down the numerous false reports, searchers on boats vainly grappled all along the shore here, without any positive information as to where the adventure-seeking children were last seen.

Every point on the shore of Connecticut and Long Island has been notified of the tragedy by the State police, a special detachment of whom have been assigned to the case.

Neighbors representing themselves as speaking for the family of Florence Benson agitated the shore all across the State with their assertion that a message had been received from her from New London, stating that she was safe. The report proved groundless. The group of homes of the children, all near to one another on the shore of the Black Rock section, was the centre of sympathizing crowds that numbered thousands.

Until darkness set in tonight, airplanes, seaplanes, motorboats and Sound steamers kept up a search for the children or their bodies. The parents, too, have been cruising up and down the shore since the disappearance.

Details of the disappearance were broadcast by radio at the request of John Philip Sousa Jr., son of the bandmaster, who is stopping at Fairfield Beach for the Summer at a cottage a short distance from the place where the children paddled away.

The mother of the Nordquist children had warned them when they started for the beach not to go on the water. They apparently disregarded the warning, for about 3 o'clock the seven youngsters were seen getting into a canoe in front of a cottage adjacent to the Borquist cottage, where all the youngsters were gathered to play in the surf.

When Mrs. Mills, whose husband owns the canoe, refused to rent it to them, the children are said to have taken it anyway, leaving 50 cents as payment.

Captain Drayton was accompanied by a mechanic. They flew low over the waters, almost skimming the surface at times, but their search was without avail. They had but little time to work, for it was dusk when they were asked by John Philip Sousa Jr. of Bridgeport to take up the hunt. The flight from the field to the Sound near where the children had last been seen took about twenty minutes.

Copyright, 1924, by The Chicago Tribune Co.

TEHERAN, Persia, July 18.—Major Robert Imbrie, United States Vice Consul here, was brutally murdered and Melin Seymour, an American, who had been detained at the Consulate for a year for alleged mistreatment of citizens in the south oil fields, was beaten so severely that he will die, by an excited mob here when they attempted to take photographs in a quarter of the city where a miracle was said to have taken place.

A large number of maimed persons had gathered seeking a cure at the place where the miracle was said to have been performed. Ignorant of Persian customs, the Americans failed to heed the warning of police not to take photographs, as women were present. They got into a carriage, however, but the excited rabble spied the camera which they took to be a machine for spraying suffocating gas.

The mob followed the carriage in which the Americans attempted to flee, arming themselves with whatever weapons they could get their hands on. Their number was increased by shopkeepers and others along the road.

Police stopped the carriage after it had proceeded a short distance to examine the Americans, whose action was considered criminal. Then the mob caught up with Major Imbrie and Seymour, dragged them from the carriage and beat them mercilessly.

More than thirty constables and officers were seriously hurt in trying to save the Americans from their assailants. The police succeeded in getting the two men to the Central police station, but the mob followed, broke in and beat Major Imbrie into unconsciousness. He died at 1 P. M.

Mr. Seymour was still alive late this afternoon, but he is not expected to live.

In August, 1918, Mr. Imbrie, who was a native of Baltimore, while serving as Vice Consul at Petrograd, was notified by the Bolshevist Government that a state of war existed between Russia and the United States. Immediately lowering the American flag over the consulate, he turned the interests of this country over to the representative of the Norwegian Government there.

Then he sent a cable message to Secretary Lansing notifying him of the declaration of the Bolshevist Government, but the message was delayed by the Russian officials for twenty days. Mr. Imbrie had notified all Americans in Petrograd, after lowering the flag, to leave Russia at once. He informed the Secretary of State in his message that so far as he could determine there were only twenty of his countrymen in Petrograd at the time, one of whom was under arrest and another in hiding.

He complained in his message that for ten days before he had been notified that a state of war existed, American citizens in Petrograd had been subjected to abuses and persecution by the Bolsheviki, their homes being entered and ransacked without provocation and much of their property being destroyed.

Mr. Imbrie, in December, 1922, while acting as observer for the State Department, married Miss Katherine Gillespie of New Rochelle in Constantinople. Miss Gillespie at the time was Director of the Near East Relief Orphanage. The marriage took place in the chapel of the Benedictine monks and came as a surprise to the friends of the couple. Their romance had begun a year before at Angora, where Miss Gillespie was caring for Armenian and Greek orphans. They announced that they would spend their honeymoon in a hazardous trip back to Angora.

Mr. Imbrie served later as Vice Consul in Constantinople.

SLAIN BOY'S FATHER TO JOIN IN SEARCH

MURDER STILL A MYSTERY

Police Have Absolutely No Clue—Thousands Attend the Funeral of Child.

Patrolman Albert McDonnell, who has been on duty in Manhattan, was transferred to Staten Island yesterday to participate in the search for the murderer of his eight-year-old son, Francis, who was strangled to death last Monday in the woods at Port Richmond, S. I.

McDonnell will work in plain clothes under the direction of Captain Ernest L. Van Wagner, Chief of Detectives in Staten Island. Ten other policemen who live on Staten Island—four patrolmen and six detectives—have also been transferred to Staten Island from other parts of the city to work on the McDonnell case.

"If I catch the murderer," McDonnell said quietly yesterday, "I'll turn him right over to Captain Van Wagner. I'll not harm a hair of his head. I want to see him punished as he deserves, but the law must take its course."

Despite the questioning of several suspects and the performance of a vast amount of painstaking work in eliminating suspects, the detectives had to admit last night that the case was just as much of a mystery then as it was on Tuesday evening, when the body was discovered. The police have absolutely no clue to the identity of the murderer.

Questioned and Released.

Information given to the police by a fifteen-year-old boy caused a young man who lives near the McDonnell home to be questioned at the St. George Police Station yesterday. The man's name was withheld, as he was not detained. The boy who caused the young man to be questioned said that about six months ago the piano teacher took him into the woods and sat talking with him for some time on a stone about fifteen feet from where the McDonnell boy's body was found. The boy identified the man today, but the latter denied ever having seen the boy before. The man said that he had spent Monday afternoon and evening at his home. He said that he gave music lessons three times a week. Captain Van Wagner said he did not think the youth had anything to do with the murder.

Detectives are trying to find out whether Peter Tortorella of 79 Mulberry Street, Manhattan, was in Staten Island on Monday. This man, a vegetable wagon driver, was arrested yesterday and held in $1,000 bail by Magistrate Shore in the Fifth Avenue Court, Brooklyn, on the charge of impairing the morals of a minor.

Another man was held in $1,000 bail on a similar charge yesterday to give the Staten Island police time to investigate him. This was Nicholas Venginimel, 33 years old, a Pole, who was charged by children with annoying them at their playground in Kings Park, Jamaica. The man said he lived in a lodging house, but could not tell its address. He denied having been in Staten Island. A stone tied in a piece of handkerchief and $2 in small change were in his pockets.

The police were disappointed in the failure of the criminal to appear yesterday at the funeral of the McDonnell boy. They hoped he would do so, on the theory that it would have an irresistible fascination for him, and believed that if he did he would give himself away by excitement. Detectives mingled in the crowd at the funeral, watching everybody carefully, but if the criminal was present he did not betray himself.

Thousands of mourners watched the funeral procession pass between the McDonnell home at 353 Decker Avenue, Port Richmond, and St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, on Richmond Terrace, between Treadwell and Sharpe Avenues. Brief services were held at the house, and neighbors and friends were allowed

OUSTS 2 INSPECTORS, FINES 7, FOR LAXITY

ABOLISHES OLD DISTRICTS

Divides the City Into 9 Divisions Instead, Making a Sweeping Shift in Personnel.

Police Commissioner Enright dropped two Police Inspectors from the service yesterday, fined seven others, exonerated three and made a series of radical changes amounting to a complete reorganization of the Police Department.

Fines of from five to fifteen days' pay each were inflicted on Inspectors Thomas E. McDonald, James S. Bolan, Thomas T. Ryan, George T. Liebers, Byron R. Sackett, Thomas F. Walsh and George R. Wakefield.

In each case Commissioner Enright acted on the recommendation of First Deputy Police Commissioner John A. Leach, who tried the twelve Inspectors on charges that they had failed to stop bootlegging in restaurants and clubs and had in other ways neglected their duty.

By another order yesterday Commissioner Enright wiped out the existing thirteen inspection districts and divided the city into nine parts which he designated "Divisions," making a clean sweep not only of the old geographical distinctions but of many of the police technical terms.

Complete new staffs were assigned to the newly created "Divisions." In addition to the nine geographical "Divisions," Commissioner Enright ordered reforms in the police nomenclature so that the Traffic Division will hereafter be known as the Tenth Division, the Special Service Division as the Eleventh and the Headquarters Division as the Thirteenth.

Attacks the Federal Courts.

In an official order Commissioner Enright attacked the Federal courts, virtually accusing them of letting bootleggers have information of impending raids. Some of the Inspectors in their trials made the charge that, after applications for warrants to the Federal courts, information leaked in some mysterious way to the places marked for raiding. In holding the Federal courts to blame for the seeming delinquencies of the Inspectors he exonerated, Commissioner Enright arraigned these courts in this language:

"I am not unmindful of the fact that the Federal laws governing criminal procedure are archaic, insufficient and highly technical and that in many cases the absence of a proper code for the prosecution of persons violating the national Prohibition law and sufficient court and law officers to insure a speedy trial of such offenders tends to provide a shelter for the guilty, rendering futile the efforts of alert and efficient police officers. In many instances where officers of this department have undertaken to obtain and execute warrants for offenders against the Federal Prohibition law the unreasonable delay in obtaining such warrants has rendered our efforts futile to enforce the law.

"In many instances members of the department have been compelled to wait for hours, and frequently for several days, in the Federal courts to obtain warrants for the arrest of offenders on evidence obtained after persistent endeavor and at great expense, only to find that the service of such warrants and subsequent raids became fruitless for the reason that the offenders were undoubtedly warned of the impending raids and arrests."

Result of Old Bone-Dry Order.

The punishment of Inspectors and redistricting of the city for police purposes are the results of Commissioner Enright's "bone-dry" order of more than a year ago. After the repeal of the Mullan-Gage act Commissioner Enright announced that the police would

DAVIS NAMES SHAVER NATIONAL CHAIRMAN; NOTIFICATION AUG. 11

CANDIDATE GOES TO MAINE

New Chairman Probably Will Have an Advisory Board and Possibly a General Field Manager.

John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for President, left this city last night for a ten-day vacation in Maine, barely managing to catch the train. He announced before he left that Clem L. Shaver, National Committeeman from West Virginia, and the "original Davis man," would be the Chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Mr. Shaver left last night for Washington, where he will confer today with Cordell Hull, whom he will succeed as Chairman of the National Committee. After their conference it is expected that Mr. Hull will issue the call for a meeting of the National Committee at Clarksburg, W. Va., to follow the notification ceremonies, which will take place Aug. 11. At the meeting of the National Committee Mr. Shaver will be elected and active campaign organization begun.

It is anticipated that there will be a headquarters in Washington, where the National Committee maintains its permanent office, and a headquarters in New York. Whether New York will be a financial headquarters only or an active campaign base will be determined later between Mr. Shaver and Mr. Hull. It will also be determined whether the Chicago and San Francisco offices shall be headquarters or branches.

To Take Office on Aug. 11.

The selection of Mr. Shaver was made known in the following typewritten statement:

"Announcement was made today by John W. Davis, the Presidential nominee of the Democratic Party, that he had decided to recommend the appointment of Clem L. Shaver of West Virginia as Chairman of the Democratic National Committee."

Although the recommendation of Mr. Davis operates as a mandate, Mr. Shaver cannot take office until the National Committee elects him. The committee adjourned the day after the National Convention ended, to be recalled at the call of the Chair, and it was understood the next meeting would be at the time of the notification ceremonies, the time and place of which were designated in the following statement:

Announcement was also made that Mr. Davis will receive notification of his nomination and deliver his acceptance speech at Clarksburg, W. Va., Aug. 11 at 8 P. M.

The hour set was a distinct surprise. Heretofore notification ceremonies have been held about noon or shortly thereafter. The evening hour was the result of a desire to get as much as possible out of the radio possibilities of the notification ceremonies. The photographers are apparently in the discard for the time being in favor of the radio audience.

Headquarters to Be Ready.

The meeting of the National Committee apparently will be called for late on the evening of Aug. 11 in Clarksburg. After that meeting the opening of the New York headquarters may be looked for, and it is likely, in view of Mr. Shaver's propensity for looking ahead, that the headquarters will open here early on the morning of Aug. 12 with a full staff in charge and that the Chicago and San Francisco headquarters will be in readiness by that time.

Before he announced the appointment

Special to The New York Times.

NORWALK, Conn., July 18.—Shrill cries late last night on the country estate of Edward S. Martin, editor-in-chief of Life, at Cannondale led to the discovery of a blacksnake in the bed of Mr. Martin's granddaughter Julia, 5 years old.

Awakened by squirming beneath the bedclothes, the child screamed and fainted when she saw the snake. It was caught and killed. It measured 5 feet.

It is believed that the snake squirmed through an open window upon the bed and wriggled beneath the bedclothes, later snuggling up to the child to get warm.

DIFFICULTIES BESET CAMPAIGN BY RADIO

WINDJAMMER IS DOOMED

Radio Listeners, Says Expert, Would Tune Out Perpetrator of Old-Fashioned Harangue.

Managers of national, State and local political organizations who have recently flocked forward with announcements that they intended to make a "radio campaign" are doomed to some disappointment, according to opinions expressed yesterday in the offices of the big broadcasting companies. Discussion of the subject was precipitated by announcements in yesterday's newspapers from William M. Butler, Republican National Chairman, that President Coolidge would make few public appearances during the campaign, but devote his speech-making largely to the microphone.

"That makes it unanimous," said one broadcasting manager. "Now they've all said they're going to do it. The demand is going to exceed the facilities by far, and some of them are going to be disappointed. We have not only Presidential candidates and the national campaign to handle, but we have State campaigns and others of a more local nature. It simply cannot be done. Radio men in touch with the various national committees have found out one thing, and that is that their officials know almost nothing about the practical problems involved. It devolves upon us to straighten out the tangle. They announce they are going to broadcast, but it is we who will have to deliver the goods."

It was learned yesterday that so far no definite arrangements have been made by any of the national committees for broadcasting. The subject is being actively considered, however, by the radio men, who realize the unprecedented problem they have to face.

First Radio Campaign.

They pointed out yesterday that a national campaign by radio is a complete novelty. There never has been one before. There are no rules. The rules will have to be made up as they go along. Nor are there any data on hand as a result of past experience to serve as a guide to what may be needed. The whole question will have to be studied from the ground up.

An official of one of the largest concerns that broadcasts, who is known for the broad viewpoint with which he looks at all the problems of the industry, consented yesterday to discuss the subject for publication provided his name was not used nor his company identified.

"Radio provides an important utility for employment in the forthcoming campaign," this man said, "and of course we want to make it available to the greatest possible extent. But the fact remains that the demands all the political managers have expressed would swamp us if we attempted to fill them. They cannot be filled as they stand. What we are faced with,

NOMINATE WHEELER FOR SECOND PLACE WITH LA FOLLETTE

Radical Committeemen Will Get His Answer Today and Expect Acceptance.

LADD, REPUBLICAN, IN RANKS

Report Says Hiram Johnson Will Join the Movement—Talk of Reed Also.

GOMPERS' SUPPORT SOUGHT

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, who recently refused to support John W. Davis, his party's candidate for President, was today nominated by the National Committee of the Conference for Progressive Political Action as the Vice Presidential candidate on the independent ticket headed by Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin.

Mr. Wheeler took the nomination under advisement and will make known his decision to the Progressive leaders tomorrow. It is thought probable that he will accept.

Following the nomination of Mr. Wheeler, the Progressive leaders were informed of another notable addition to their ranks, through the formal announcement of Senator Edwin F. Ladd of North Dakota that he would support La Follette in his own State, "without leaving the Republican Party." Senator Ladd said:

"I am a Republican, a Progressive Republican—as are most of the people of my State. The Republican ticket is the one we generally support and that is what I shall do in this campaign.

"However, the people of North Dakota are not averse to disregarding an individual machine ticket when it is necessary. They will vote for La Follette at the rate of about two to one for any one else, and there is no doubt that my vote will be cast along with theirs."

Mr. Wheeler, who is serving his first term in the Senate, was "prosecutor" in the Senate's inquiry into Harry M. Daugherty's administration of the Department of Justice. He received a few scattering votes for the Presidential nomination in the recent Democratic Convention in New York.

Early this week Senator Wheeler said that because of what he termed Mr. Davis's "Wall Street affiliation" he could not support him. He made it known that he looked with favor on the independent movement and would go on the stump for Mr. La Follette.

In the statement proclaiming his opposition to Mr. Davis and announcing his endorsement of Mr. La Follette Senator Wheeler said he would not accept the Progressive Vice Presidential nomination if it were tendered him. Since then he is said to have had a change of heart.

La Follette Pleads With Wheeler.

Following the action of the National Progressive Committee, the Vice Presidency was formally offered to Mr. Wheeler by a subcommittee headed by Representative John M. Nelson of Wisconsin, the La Follette campaign manager. Senator La Follette later personally urged Mr. Wheeler to accept the nomination.

As a result of the pressure Senator Wheeler consented to take the offer under consideration. Progressive leaders are confident that he will make the race as running mate of La Follette.

When the Progressive leaders got down to business at their afternoon session today they gave first consideration to the selection of a Vice Presidential candidate. Senator La Follette having indicated that Mr. Wheeler would be entirely acceptable to him, organized labor, the Socialist Party, the Farmer-Labor organization and all other groups represented at the session voted unanimously for Mr. Wheeler as their choice.

The unanimity that marked his selection and the earnestness of Mr. La Follette's personal plea almost persuaded Mr. Wheeler, it is said by some of his friends, to give an immediate acceptance. He decided to "sleep over" the nomination, however.

The sub-committee that notifed him of his nomination today will wait on Mr. Wheeler again tomorrow.

With La Follette as the Presidential candidate and Wheeler holding second place, "on the independent ticket," say the committeemen, their campaign would be in the hands of two of the most adroit political leaders in the country.

Those serving on the subcommittee notifying Senator Wheeler, were William H. Johnston, Chairman of the Conference; Congressman John M. Nelson, national manager of the La Follette campaign; Mrs. Mabel C. Costigan of Washington, D. C.; Basil M. Manly of Washington, D. C., and Morris Hillquit of New York.

Would Stress Corruption Issue.

Should Senator Wheeler accept the nomination, it is declared that alleged corruption in the executive departments under the Republican Administration will be given great prominence by the independent combination.

Mr. Wheeler introduced the resolution which authorized the Senate inquiry into Mr. Daugherty's activities as Attorney General and he was one of those who led the fight for investigation of the Sinclair-Doheny oil leases.

At the height of the investigation of the Department of Justice, Mr. Wheeler was indicted on a charge of practicing before the executive departments in violation of law. He was cleared of

Wife Asks Alimony of $50,000 a Year From President Hartford of A. and P. Stores

Charging abandonment, Mrs. Frances Hartford filed suit for separation against John A. Hartford, President of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, in the Supreme Court yesterday. At the same time she applied for $50,000 a year alimony and $10,000 counsel fees. Argument on the application will be heard in Special Term, Part 1, Monday morning.

Mr. Hartford, according to his wife's affidavit, has an annual income of approximately $250,000.

The couple lived together only six months, when Mr. Hartford deserted her, the wife charged. He has been living at the Ritz-Carlton since, but it was said yesterday he was out of town.

The Hartfords were married June 28, 1923, in Danbury, Conn. He was then living in his country home at Valhalla, N. Y., and his wife was making her home at the Hotel Berkley, at 170 West Seventy-fourth Street. The room clerk there said yesterday that she was Miss Frances Bolger before her marriage and that she had been residing at the hotel for several years. According to the complaint, the store owner's town house was situated at 19 West Fifty-fifth Street.

Immediately after the wedding, said Mrs. Hartford, they spent seven weeks at Long Beach, and later returned to Valhalla, where, she said, Mr. Hartford's estate consisted of 310 acres. Her servants were many and she had every luxury, including automobiles, she alleged. In fact, she contended, they were living at the rate of $125,000 a year.

During part of the time, however, they stayed in New York, and it was while they were in the town house, she said, that he abandoned her "without cause." This, she asserted, was on Dec. 27 1923, and, she added, she was ill at the time. He went to the Ritz-Carlton to live.

"I wrote to him asking him to return," she alleged, "but he has neglected and refused to do so, saying that he will never return and does not intend or wish to live with me again."

She said her husband had been President of the A. and P. stores since March, 1923, and was the son of George Hartford, founder of the company. His salary, she asserted, was $75,000 a year, but adding to this his income from stock dividends, she figured that his total annual income is $250,000.

Government Loses Another War Fraud Case; Phillips and Other Lumbermen Acquitted

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Department of Justice lost today another of the so-called "war frauds" cases instituted during the régime of Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, when a jury in Criminal Court No. 2 returned a verdict of not guilty as to the defendants in the Phillips lumber case, who were indicted on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the Government out of about $1,500,000 in sales of surplus air service lumber.

Two other war fraud cases had been lost by the department in the courts of the District of Columbia, one being the Morse war shipping frauds case, and the other the Crowell cantonment case. The Government also lost the harness war frauds case in the courts of West Virginia.

Those acquitted today were: John L. Phillips, former Republican State Committeeman of Georgia; Frank T. Sullivan, lumberman, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Charles Phillips Jr. and Charles Shotwell, former business manager for the Air Service. George M. Chambers, also a codefendant, is dead. Ernest C. Morse, former Director of Sales for the War Department, and John Stephens, a lumberman, of Jacksonville, Fla., were exonerated by a directed verdict at the close of the Government's case two weeks ago.

There were three other defendants in this case—Roland Perry, a Washington lumberman, who was granted a separate trial, but who probably will never be brought to trial; Gus Eitzen and A. Mitchell Touart Jr. of the Eitzen-Tourat Company of Pensacola, Fla., who also were granted separate trials with a declaration by the Government that they would testify against the other defendants.

The Government also sued the defendants in equity for an accounting. It is expected now that, since the bottom has fallen out of the criminal phase of the lumber contracts, the civil case will not be pushed.

About 50,000,000 feet of lumber was involved in the case. John L. Phillips and John Stephens were alleged to have had an agency contract with the Government under which they were to dispose of the surplus lumber and receive a commission of 12 per cent. They were alleged to have "worked both ends against the middle"; that is, collected commissions, or "graft money," from the purchaser and collected the regular commission from the Government.

The other defendants were charged with having acted in collusion to sell lumber for less than the price agreed upon and fixed by the Government.

The case had been on trial since May 2, and had taken ten trial weeks to be completed. The indictment was returned July 18, 1922.

When the jury announced the verdict J. Butler Walsh, an attorney associated with some of the defense lawyers, applauded, and was ordered arrested by Justice Bailey.

this charge by a Senate committee headed by Senator Borah of Idaho, although the indictments are still pending.

Mr. Wheeler has been identified with the Progressive bloc in the Senate and has frequently shown that party restraint was irksome to him.

Senator Wheeler was born in Hudson, Mass., in 1882. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and began the practice of law in Butte in 1905. He was elected to the State Legislature in 1910. He served five years as United States District Attorney. He was nominated for Governor in the Democratic primaries of Montana in 1920, but was defeated by Joseph M. Dixon, the old Bull Moose leader. He was elected to the Senate in 1922.

He is a forceful speaker, and if he goes along with the progressives he will be asked to make addresses all over the country.

Senator La Follette has a high regard for Mr. Wheeler and looks upon him as one of the ablest and most aggressive of Progressive leaders.

Expect More Senators to Join.

Five Senators are now lined up with the La Follette organization, and at today's meeting predictions were made that others would soon announce their affiliation. Messrs. Shipstead and Johnson, Farmer-Labor, of Minnesota; Frazier and Ladd, Republicans, of North Dakota, and Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana are the Senators who now are on record for La Follette.

It is said that Senators Norris of Nebraska, and Brookhart of Iowa will support La Follette, and Progressive leaders are hopeful that Senator Johnson of California will settle in the new camp.

The Progressives feel that they have the sympathy of Senator Borah, but they doubt that he can be persuaded to oppose President Coolidge. They point out, however, that Mr. Borah has announced that he will support H. F. Samuel, Progressive candidate for Governor in Idaho.

Neither Senator La Follette nor his son, Robert Jr., who was in active charge of the pre-convention stages of his father's candidacy, attended the meetings of the National Committee today.

At the committee meeting it developed that some friction has arisen between the Socialist group and Labor and Farmer-Labor groups. Morris Hillquit asked stronger representation on the National Committee for the Socialists.

As a result it was decided to add seven to the National Committee, making it an organization of fifty members. Norman Thomas of New York, Joseph Sharts of Ohio, Mrs. Bertha Hale White of Illinois, and Alexander Kahn of New York are the new Socialist members of the organization. The other members are Charles McGowan of Illinois, Paul Scharrenburg of California and Algernon Lee of New York.

Lay Organization Plans.

A plan of organization to guide the State groups was considered. A subcommittee was named to iron out jurisdictional disputes between the Conference for Progressive Political Action and other organizations that are supporting the movement. This subcommittee, of which William H. Johnstone, Chairman of the National Committee, is the head, will take up the question with Mr. La Follette, Campaign Manager Nelson and other leaders.

A subcommittee was also named to attend the work of placing electors on the ballots in all States. It was agreed that the designation of the party by name, in compliance with State laws, should be left to the discretion of the State groups. It was announced, however, that in practically every instance the term "Progressive" would be adopted.

One subcommittee was entrusted with the duty of choosing a party emblem. Another was directed to make a survey of the country, taking into consideration geographical areas and the voting power of various groups, with a view to coordinating the activities of organizations and individuals.

There was an extended discussion relative to the probable attitude of the American Federation of Labor. Former Representative Edward Keating of Colorado declared the officers of the Federation might be won over to the independent movement. It is the understanding that he will appear before the Executive Committee of the Federation, which will meet in Atlantic City in August, and outline the purposes of the La Follette candidacy and explain the platform.

Will Bid for Labor Support.

Leaders here hope that at the Atlantic City meeting Samuel Gompers and other members of the Federation Executive Council will make a pronouncement favorable to the independent ticket.

At the Atlantic City session, the Federation's Executive Council will seek to determine the position of the organization in the national campaign. A semi-official statement emanating from Federation headquarters today said the Council would consider which Presidential candidate will receive labor's support and would base its decision upon an analysis of the platforms, records and pronouncements of the candidates.

Forty members of the Progressive National Committee are in attendance at the present session. Among them are Morris Hillquit of New York, the Socialist leader; Perley Parker Christensen, who was the Farmer-Labor Presidential candidate in 1920, and James H. Maurer, President of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor.

At the meeting of the committee tomorrow the establishment of headquarters in various cities and a plan for the collection of campaign funds will be given consideration. Indications are that headquarters will be maintained in New York, Denver, San Francisco and Washington in addition to Chicago.

Informal announcement was made today that Gilbert Roe of New York, former law partner of Senator La Follette, will have charge of the campaign in the East, with headquarters at New York.

Heard Brandeis Would Decline.

WASHINGTON, July 18 (Associated Press). — While the subcommittee of the Progressives was offering Senator Wheeler the Vice Presidential nomination today, others of the National Committee continued in session considering who might be selected in the event Mr. Wheeler remained aloof.

It was understood that word had reached the committee that Associate Justice Brandeis of the Supreme Court, whom Senator La Follette was said to look upon with favor, felt it would be a mistake to leave the bench.

DEBS ACCEPTS PARTY CALL.

As National Chairman He Defends Socialist Choice of La Follette.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Eugene V. Debs, veteran leader of the Socialist Party, issued a statement today from the sanitarium in which he is confined near here. This was in the form of an open letter to the party, accepting the nomination of the recent Cleveland convention as National Chairman.

The letter was a defense of the action of the convention in failing to nominate a Socialist ticket.

"There are times when a retreat is actually an advance," he wrote in commenting upon the decision of the convention to support the La Follette candidacy.

"Let us of the Socialist Party get behind this movement unitedly and wholeheartedly; let us enter the campaign with all the support at our command and help make it an overwhelming success.

"I am aware of all the objections made to the convention of the Conference for Progressive Political Action and to the results of its deliberations, but the fact remains that the historic gathering of labor's forward-looking forces was in embryo the American labor party."

Mr. Debs said he would not be able, because of his physical condition, to take any active part in the campaign, but looked forward with confidence to the eventual restoration of vigorous health.

CONDUCTORS FOR LA FOLLETTE

Directors of the Brotherhood Endorse His Candidacy.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, July 18.—The Board of Directors of the Order of Railway Conductors has formally endorsed the candidacy of Senator La Follette for the Presidency, according to a statement given out by President L. E. Sheppard today.

The vote was almost unanimous, he said, adding, "While the individual can do as he pleases, I believe the great bulk of the membership of our order will support Mr. La Follette."

For the Vice Presidency the board members are favorable to Senators Howell of Nebraska, Dill of Washington, Shipstead of Minnesota, Wheeler of Montana, Representative Huddleston of Alabama or W. S. Stone, President of the Brotherhood of Engineers, Mr. Sheppard said.

Candidates on the Republican and Democratic tickets who are friendly to labor and especially to the Railroad Brotherhoods, he said, will continue to receive the support of the conductors.

SENATOR REED KEEPS MUM.

Won't Tell Yet Whether He Will Support La Follette.

Special to The New York Times.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 18.—Senator James A. Reed refused today to deny or confirm reports that he would bolt the Democratic ticket and support La Follette for President.

It was indicated that the Senator desired to see where John W. Davis stood on the League of Nations before he committed himself, as Reed himself is a bitter opponent of the League. Because Mr. Davis is for the League, friends of Reed have doubted that Reed would support him.

For several days a rumor has been discussed in local Democratic circles that the Senator was planning to support La Follette and it was recalled that Reed in 1920 went to Wisconsin and campaigned for La Follette in preference to speaking for the Democratic ticket.

When informed that news dispatches from Washington last night announced that La Follette's managers were expecting his support, the Senator said:

"I will not be cajoled, badgered or tricked into making a statement at this time."

Referring to the La Follette allegation of his support, Reed said:

"No one on earth has any authority at this time to say what I'll do or where I'll stand."

HIRAM JOHNSON EXPECTED IN.

Chicago Hears He Will Join La Follette Movement.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Information indicating that Senator Hiram Johnson may be out with an indorsement of Robert M. La Follette for President within a few weeks was received today at the La Follette headquarters in Chicago.

California friends of Senator Johnson are at work in the ranks of the La Follette organization on the Coast, according to advices received here.

Following the nomination of Coolidge, some of the California Republicans who supported Johnson said that while they would maintain their party regularity they did not expect to be able to give much attention to the campaign.

Five thousand invitations to the State conference of La Follette Progressives, to take place here July 27, are being issued, Charles McGowan, Chairman of the State Committee of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, announced tonight.

The invitations go to all farm and labor organizations, Mr. McGowan said, to individual farmers, the Socialist Party, the Illinois Farmer-Labor Party, the Women's Progressive Committee of Illinois, cooperative societies, racial groups, including the German-American Citizens' League and Scandinavian and Polish groups, the Public Ownership League, the Single Tax Club and Progressive Republican and Progressive Democratic Clubs.

The labor party organized at Peoria by associates of William Z. Foster will not be invited, Mr. McGowan added.

Special to The New York Times.

WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wis., July 18.—For the first time in twenty-five years, the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor, in convention here, endorsed a political party when it adopted today a resolution urging support of Senator La Follette for President and call for the formation of a new political party. The resolution read:

> We recommend the approval and adoption of the report from our delegates to the Cleveland Conference for Progressive Political Action.
> We further recommend that the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor urges the voters of the State of Wisconsin to give their active support toward the election of Robert M. La Follette for President of the United States and the program of the C. P. P. A., and further recommend to the C. P. P. A. the formation of a new political party.

The resolution was opposed by Frank J. Weber of Milwaukee, founder of the State Federation, who said he had always opposed endorsement by the Federation of any political candidate or party and would not change now. He said he was for Mr. La Follette for President, and would do anything he could to elect him, but he did not believe the Federation should go on record as endorsing him by name.

Several delegates spoke for the resolution, declaring the crucial time had come and that labor must declare where it stood in reference to Mr. La Follette's candidacy.

DRY PARTY WANTS FUNDS.

Faris Says It Would Win If It Had Money.

KANSAS CITY, July 18.—Efforts are being made by the Prohibiton Party to obtain a fund large enough to finance a vigorous nation-wide campaign, H. P. Faris of Clinton, Mo., the party's Presidential nominee, said here today.

Mr. Faris asserted that the party is seriously handicapped in presenting the issues to the people because of lack of funds, and added that "if we had $1 to the hundreds the big parties have, we'd win this election."

The Presidential nominee made it plain that it will not be surprised or disappointed if his fortunes are crushed under an avalanche of votes, but he said he is ready to go to the White House in the event of a prohibition landslide.

"We've been electing the issues for fifty years and the other fellows have been electing the officers," he said. "It ought to be our turn to elect the officers, and if men voted the way they talked you would see us win. Everywhere people are clamoring for a square deal; everywhere there is dissatisfaction with prohibition enforcement.

"Our party is the real progressive party. Our party has advocated all the great issues that have been put into effect in the last fifty years.

"Four constitutional amendments—the sixteenth, seventeenth, eighteenth and nineteenth—found birth in our party and were advocated by our party before they were accepted by any party. This is a great record of constructive progress—the popular election of United States Senators, the income tax, the prohibition and woman suffrage."

McSparran for Democratic Ticket.

FURNISS, Pa., July 18.—John A. McSparran, master of the Pennsylvania Grange and Democratic candidate for Governor in 1922, said today that he would not accept second place on the La Follette ticket if it were offered to him, saying: "I have the highest regard for Senator La Follette, but would not want to join the movement because I believe the Democratic Party has a more progressive platform."

Ford Distributes Coolidge Pictures.

DETROIT, July 18.—Large-size photographs of President Coolidge have been sent from the Dearborn offices of the Ford Motor Company to all Ford dealers in the United States, it was learned today. Officials of the company are emphatic in declaring that no influence will be brought to bear on dealers to have them support Mr. Coolidge.

BUTLER BELITTLES TEAPOT DOME ISSUE

Calls It "Ephemeral" and Says "Coolidge and Dawes" Is Important Thing in Campaign.

PLANS BIG FIGHT IN WEST

Teapot Dome is not much of a campaign issue, according to William M. Butler, Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

"I read about Teapot Dome in the newspapers many weeks ago, but I have not heard anything about it since," he said at the Biltmore yesterday afternoon, when asked by reporters what the Republicans would do to meet that issue. "It is not much of an issue. It is purely ephemeral."

Mr. Butler was told that the Democrats expected to make much of Teapot Dome—in fact they regarded it as the dominant issue.

"Well, they are a good way off," said the National Chairman.

"What are the big issues in the campaign?" he was asked.

"Is it your opinion that the personality of the candidates will be the dominant issue of the campaign?"

"We'll learn more about the issues after the campaign gets under way," was the reply. "Of course, we must not forget that there are two big parties in the campaign and that each party has a platform."

Mr. Butler was asked if he had any comment to make on the statement contained in an interview by Isidore B. Dockweiler, published yesterday, in which he said that the presence of Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska on the Democratic ticket as a candidate for Vice President might lead to a concentration of conservative votes behind the Democratic ticket to insure the election of John W. Davis and prevent the election being thrown into Congress, with the possible consequence of Mr. Bryan being elected by the Senate, thus becoming President of the United States.

Hot Weather Views.

"We must remember," said Chairman Butler, "that this is the warm season when once in a while people express themselves in a fervid manner."

The statement made by Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Montana Democrat, that he could not support the Democratic ticket because Mr. Davis, whose name heads it, has been the legal representative of J. P. Morgan & Co., was put up to Mr. Butler with request for some comment.

"The question has been asked me several times and I have declined to make any statement," he replied. "I may say, however, that Senator Wheeler's statement did not make much of an impression upon me."

"Would you say something regarding the claim of the La Follette people that they expect their candidate to carry twenty-five States?" Mr. Butler was asked.

"That statement could not have been founded on an analysis of any situation that exists," he replied. "I hate to make comment on off-hand notions like that. I have my own impression regarding it, but that I do not care to express for the present."

"What is your opinion with regard to the strength of the La Follette movement?"

"I am not alarmed," Mr. Butler replied. "I think the whole thing has been greatly exaggerated."

"How do you expect to meet the La Follette propaganda in the agricultural States of the Middle West and Northwest, where there is unrest among the farmers?" he was asked.

"We are planning to meet the people of that Western country pretty freely, just as I did in the pre-convention campaign," he replied. "We will proceed with an educational campaign, and, of course, we will have the cooperation of the various State organizations throughout that section."

Mr. Butler was asked if Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt would be active in the campaign. In the last national campaign he proved very effective on the stump in the fight for Harding and Coolidge.

"I assume that Colonel Roosevelt will be active and make a number of speeches, just how many I cannot tell. There has been no definite arrangement made as yet with regard to speaking schedules."

Denies Report About Snell.

Asked about a report that he favored the nomination of Representative Bertrand H. Snell of St. Lawrence, for Governor, as a move that would be helpful to the national ticket in this State, Mr. Butler said:

"There is no truth to that report. Undoubtedly Congressman Snell is a splendid Republican, and we expect to see a great deal of him at the Eastern headquarters in this city and look to him for valuable assistance in the campaign. But the nomination of a candidate for Governor in this State is no concern of mine; it is a matter for the Republicans in this State to determine."

Mr. Butler said he was not yet prepared to announce who would be the manager of the Coolidge campaign in the East.

"Two or three men are under consideration," he said. "The manager of the campaign here will not necessarily be a National Committeeman. I expect that Vice Chairman Charles D. Hilles of the National Committee, who is your National Committeeman, will be at headquarters a great deal and take an active part in the campaign. But another man will be appointed director because the business affairs of Mr. Hilles would not permit of him giving all his time during the next few months to the work of the campaign."

Mr. Butler left for Boston late yesterday afternoon. He will spend his week-end at home. On Monday morning he expects to be in Washington. From Washington he will go to Chicago the middle of next week. He may return to this city a week from next Monday, by which time it is expected that the Eastern Branch headquarters here will have begun operations.

LA FOLLETTE HOPES IN WEST VIRGINIA FAIL

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Supporters of Senator Robert M. La Follette who want to have his name placed on the ballot in West Virginia were examining the State laws today in the hope of finding some loophole. They were forced to the conclusion, however, that Senator La Follette could not arrange for his appearance as an independent candidate in that State.

The laws of West Virginia, home State of the Democratic nominee, are conflicting, but apparently they exclude Senator La Follette. One section states that petitions for nominations must be filed thirty days prior to the primary election; another that the petition must be filed within twenty days after the primary election. The primary election was held on May 27.

Section 26-A (1) of the West Virginia election laws provides that Presidential Electors shall be nominated at a direct primary election. Section 26-A (23) further provides as follows:

"Political parties having national organization, and having cast less than 10 per cent. of the total vote cast for Governor at the last preceding general election, may nominate candidates for public office otherwise than by conventions or primary elections. * * *

"Such certificate shall be filed not less than thirty days before said primary election."

In most of the New England States the law provides that Senator La Follette must submit a list of his petitioners for the approval of Town Clerks or Supervisors, and while there is time to do this it will require a lot of work if the letter of the law is obeyed.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 18.—Senator La Follette will be able to get his name on the ballot next November as a Presidential candidate provided his party meets in this State between Aug. 1 and Aug. 15 and names electors, it was declared today by Secretary of State Houston G. Young in commenting upon reports that La Follette's campaign managers had found difficulty in complying with the election laws of the State.

Admitting that legal opinions differed as to the eligibility of the candidate, Secretary Young said he would construe the law to mean that the duly nominated electors' names shall be printed on the ballots just the same as any other candidate.

"It will be up to some one else to get their names off, but I can see that they go on so long as the law is complied with," he said.

No opinion was forthcoming from Attorney General E. T. England's office, it being declared there that no decision had been asked for and until one was requested none would be given.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 18.—Senator La Follette's managers may find it difficult to have his Presidential electors placed on the ballot in Maryland for reasons somewhat similar to those barring him in West Virginia.

Under the State election laws revised by the last Legislature parties that poll 1 per cent. or more of the votes cast at a previous State election within two years may make nominations by going into a primary election. Maryland delegates to a National Convention must be chosen or their nomination ratified by State Convention.

None of these requirements has been met by La Follette. His only recourse now is by petition to the Secretary of State and such petition must be filed within thirty days before the election in November. The Secretary of State and Board of Election Supervisors may then grant the petition if it meets the necessary requirements.

SHAVER IS CHOSEN CHAIRMAN BY DAVIS

of Mr. Shaver Mr. Davis conferred at length with Thomas Taggart of Indiana and George Brennan of Illinois. Taggart was a Ralson backer in the convention and Brennan was the strategist of the Smith forces. Their visit to the house of Frank L. Polk, where, despite the opening of headquarters in the Murray Hill Hotel, Mr. Davis conducted most of his business during the day, apparently had little to do with the selection of Mr. Shaver, but it did have a bearing on the campaign, and it is likely that as a result of these conferences both Senator Ralston and Governor Smith will make speeches in favor of the national ticket during the last few weeks of the battle. In fact, Brennan said as he left the Polk house:

"I suggested to Mr. Davis that Governor Smith be asked to make an intensive campaign tour of the East and Middle West all the way to Illinois. I pointed out to him the magnetic appeal which the Governor has for the average voter and I told him I thought the Governor would be the strongest man we could send 'on the road.' Mr. Davis received my suggestion cordially. He has not told me directly that he will accept it, but I am sure that he will."

Leaders Want Governor Smith.

It has been known for some days that the Democratic managers have had it in mind to put Governor Smith on the stump for the national ticket in the hope that he might overcome the strong feeling that was engendered in the convention over the religious issue. But Governor Smith is not, at present, disposed to acquiesce in the suggestion that he stump the country.

While Mr. Shaver, as Chairman of the National Committee, will have direction of the Davis campaign, it is expected that a campaign manager will be appointed independently of the committee Chairman. These details, however, will be worked out between Mr. Shaver and Mr. Hull while Mr. Davis is in Maine. Mr. Davis, while he is away, expects to have little to do except to rest and to prepare his speech of acceptance. The plans for organization, however, have been thoroughly gone over between Mr. Davis, Mr. Shaver, Frank Polk, personal friend of the candidate, Norman Davis and others and there is no likelihood of a serious hitch.

No details of the form of organization were forthcoming. It was learned, however, that a board of strategy, under the direction of Mr. Shaver, is to be formed and that the new Chairman will have around him such experienced campaign strategists as Vance McCormick, Homer Cummings, Mr. Hull and George White of Ohio, who has been in conference with Mr. Davis every day for the last week. With these men will be associated the district or regional managers from the East, North, South and West.

Gets a 10-Cent Contribution.

Mr. Davis saw many visitors yesterday. Among them was James W. Gerard, formerly connected with the financial end of Democratic national campaigns and likely to be drafted again in a similar capacity. In the course of the day Mr. Davis broke up a conference to announce to reporters that he had received a contribution of 10 cents from Asbury Park. The letter said:

"Enclosed find my contribution to your campaign fund. This is all I can afford."

Mr. Davis spent only a short time at the Murray Hill Hotel, returning to the Polk home for a hurried dinner. As he left the house in an automobile to catch his train a neighbor introduced his wife to the candidate, so that the Davis party in three limousines had to make quick time to the Grand Central Station, arriving a few minutes before the train for Rockland, Me., on which reservations had been engaged, departed. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Davis's maid, Frank Polk and Mr. Polk's valet, Bill Nye, who is Mr. Davis's bodyguard, and Mrs. Nye, and the corps of correspondents who will remain with Mr. Davis probably until the campaign ends. Mr. Davis is to spend about ten days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson at Islesboro, Me., not far from Bar Harbor.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Clem L. Shaver, formally named as Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is expected here tomorrow to confer with Cordell Hull, George White and others about plans for the coming campaign.

It is understood that Mr. Shaver will announce the appointment of an advisory campaign committee, which will sit with him and help direct the campaign. Among those who will be on this committee are Mr. Hull and Mr. White, both former Chairmen of the National Committee, and Norman E. Mack, national committeeman, of New York.

CHARLES DANA GIBSON ILL.

Artist Host of John W. Davis Will Be Unable to Meet Him Today.

ISLESBORO, Me., July 18.—Charles Dana Gibson, the artist, who will entertain John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential candidate, for several days here, became ill tonight and his physicians said he must go to a hospital. He will be unable to meet Mr. Davis tomorrow when the candidate arrives from New York.

It was said tonight that plans for the entertainment of Mr. and Mrs. Davis at the Gibson estate on a 700 acre island would not be altered because of Mr. Gibson's illness.

Mr. Davis and his party will arrive at Rockland tomorrow morning and cross Penobscot Bay on the regular steamer to Dark Harbor. From Dark Harbor they will make the half-mile trip to the Gibson home in a speed boat.

COOLIDGE TO AVOID ANSWERING DAVIS

PLANS FOR SIX ADDRESSES

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—In his speech of acceptance, which will be made three days after John W. Davis formally accepts the Democratic nomination, President Coolidge will devote himself largely to a recital of his year of stewardship and his efforts to bring business system into government, a White House spokesman said today. There will be no attempt to answer his rival.

After his acceptance the President will map out his campaign, and this, it is understood, will be confined to six set speeches in different parts of the country and numerous speeches over the radio.

Mr. Coolidge is hearing favorable reports of the political situation, which he regards as satisfactory, although it was admitted at the White House that it was too early to analyze any apparent trends of opinion.

Maryland cannot be put in the Democratic column this year by any manner of means, Senator Weller of Maryland told President Coolidge today, in discussing the general political situation in his home State.

"Although Maryland is normally a purely Democratic State and has about 50,000 more registered Democrats than Republicans," the Senator said, "there is a vast majority of business men of liberal minds who vote as they think, and not along strictly party lines, and it is not at all unlikely that the Democrats of Maryland will swing to vote for Coolidge, as Maryland went for McKinley by 33,000 in 1896 and by 18,000 in 1900."

The reason Senator Weller gave as making it possible for Maryland to swing Republican is that, although John W. Davis has a large following in Maryland and is considered very strong as well as safe and sound, the "regular" Democrats are less than lukewarm toward the ticket as a whole.

"Davis is weak in the West and Bryan is weak in the East," Senator Weller told the President, "and Maryland doesn't like the combination. Maryland helped defeat William Jennings once, and brother Charlie is even less popular."

If McAdoo had been nominated, Senator Weller continued, there would be no question that Maryland would have joined the Republican ranks, but with Davis's popularity it was a different story. As for the choice between Davis and Coolidge, the voters of Maryland could not get very excited either way, the Senator found, just returning from a trip throughout the State, but the assured the President that there were other factors that might have a strong effect toward defeating the Democratic ticket.

The Vice Presidential candidate's unpopularity might have a bearing on the vote, Senator Weller said, particularly if there were an apparent likelihood of a deadlock in the electoral vote of the nation, with the possibility of the House naming Bryan for President. Then, too, the President learned, Maryland is dissatisfied with the attitude taken by the Democratic Convention on the Ku Klux Klan question and the religious feeling stirred up there.

Senator Weller told the President he believed Senator La Follette would poll a vote of real proportions from the discontented element among the labor classes. He thought there would be a much larger labor vote registered than ever before in the State. This, however, the Senator said he felt absolutely confident, would work to the benefit of the Republicans, as the labor vote would come entirely from the old-time dyed-in-the-wool Democratic organization.

COOLIDGE CITES OLD STORY.

Applies It to Define Difference Between 'Progressive' and 'Insurgent.'

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—President Coolidge believes that all political parties which have lived any time in American history are progressive, and that there is much confusion between the terms "progressive" and "insurgent." He said today that the real difference between them had been well defined by the man who explained what was orthodoxy and heterodoxy.

This man said that orthodoxy was "my doxie," and "heterodoxy" was the "other's doxie." This is how the President explained the difference between "progressive" and "insurgent."

WETNESS POOR POLITICS, DECLARED TAGGART

WINONA LAKE, Ind., July 18 (Associated Press).—"Some of the meanest bootleggers in America are women," Mrs. Elizabeth T. Stanley, President of the Indiana W. C. T. U., declared at the conference of the World League Against Alcoholism here today, in announcing that a request was to be made that a woman be added to the Federal Prohibition Enforcement staff at Washington, so that the activity of female bootleggers might be dealt with adequately.

"They are too smart for the male enforcement officers," she said. "You need a woman officer to catch a woman bootlegger."

"Making heroes of bootleggers" was another evil Mrs. Stanley condemned. "There is too much sympathy wasted on them. We must rid ourselves of maudlin sentimentality."

She said she intended to form a new society in Indiana to be called the "Speakups," composed of people pledged to meet the curbstone fallacies of the wets and "speak up" and tell the truth about prohibition's success.

She quoted from a letter sent to her by Thomas Taggart, the Democratic leader in Indiana. "For a man to be 'wet' now," she quoted him as writing, "is not only bad morals but it is poor politics."

Rich women were a stumbling block to law enforcement, Mrs. Stanley continued. She quoted Mrs. John D. Rockefeller as saying in her presence in Washington that it would take a long time to get rich women to rule wine out of their homes.

HONDURAS GETS WARNING.

Washington Sends Word That We Bar All Revolt Leaders.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The United States has notified General Tosta, who became temporary President of Honduras after the recent revolution, that this Government will not recognize any Government there if it is headed by a leader of the revolutionary movement or by one who held a high post or command in the revolt.

Definite announcement was sent to General Tosta through the Minister at Tegucigalpa, who informed him that the Washington Government would base its future policy in recognition of Central American Governments upon the provisions of Article 2 of the Treaty of Amity signed by the five Central American countries as the result of the Washington conference.

The other Central American countries were already bound by the terms of the treaty, which all had ratified, to take similar action, and are understood to have called that fact to the attention of the temporary Government of Honduras.

The correspondent handed to General Tosta expressed concern that "certain leaders" of the revolution apparently were endeavoring to promote their candidacies for President, adding that it was feared this might interfere with recognition of the Government. It then quoted the article of the treaty in which the signatory powers agreed not to recognize any Government which came into power through a coup d'etat or revolution against a recognized Government, or to accord recognition of revolutionary leaders who were thus elected to be Presidents.

MAKES ALCOHOL MONOPOLY

Polish Diet Also Authorizes Loans and Rises in Taxes.

WARSAW, July 18.—The Diet has passed bills creating a Government alcohol monopoly and empowering the President to issue decrees effecting economies, to negotiate loans not exceeding $75,000,000 and to increase taxation.

The alcohol monopoly is expected to yield $64,000,000 yearly, about one-fifth of the total budget, and may be used as a guarantee for a loan which Premier Grabski may try to float in the United States.

Woman Socialist on Committee.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Miss Bertha Hale White of Chicago, elected to membership today to the National Committee of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, which will direct the La Follette campaign, has been active in the Socialist Party for several years, and recently has been serving as National Secretary of the party. She was the directing head of the Socialist National Convention early this month in Cleveland.

OKLAHOMA MINERS RAID NON-UNION PIT

WIRES CUT BEFORE ATTACK

Recruits From Other Fields Join Party, Which Works Quickly and Quietly.

McALESTER, Okla., July 18.—About 100 miners, most of whom were armed, today overpowered guards at the Kali-Inia mine at Cambria, on the Pittsburgh-Latimer County line, and, without apparent violence, forced the non-union crew to quit work.

The march on the mine, from all appearances, was carefully planned, the invading party gathering at Cambria several hours in advance and cutting telephone wires into the little settlement before proceeding to the mine workings.

There, according to reports from Latimer County authorities who rushed to the scene, the marchers disarmed the guards stationed at the mouth of the mine and entered the mine and ordered out the men at work there.

The affair seemingly ended quietly when the visitors, their mission accomplished, left Cambria in motors and headed in various directions. The homes of several miners were searched and all guns found were confiscated. No arrests have been made.

No open labor trouble of serious proportions was known to exist in connection with the operation of the mine. It had, however, been reopened recently on a wage scale which was the same as in 1917, in defiance to the opposition of miners' union officials.

The invading party was said to have been composed of miners from various fields, including Texas and the Henrietta (Okla.) area. Workers in the mine had abandoned the union when they returned to work, according to officers of the mining company.

Simultaneous with the reopening of the Kali-Inia mine, other coal pits at Lutie, Degnan and Caladonia also resumed operations on the 1917 wage scale, employing miners who left the union to accept work. The defection from the union ranks was declared to be sufficient to give the open shop a foothold in the district.

All of the mines had been closed for some time.

SMITH AT LAKE PLACID.

Governor Will Open Democratic Campaign at Upton Lake.

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., July 18.—Governor Smith and his family arrived here today to begin a brief vacation in the Adirondack Mountains. The Governor was in conference tonight with James J. Hoey, Chairman of the State Home Rule Commission, which has been in session here regarding the commission's work in preparing legislation supplementing the Home Rule act passed by the last Legislature.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 18.—Governor Alfred E. Smith will address a mass meeting of Dutchess County Democrats Aug. 7, it was announced today by Franklin D. Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt said the Governor and his family would be week-end guests at the Roosevelt home in Hyde Park, near here, and that the Governor's talk would be the opening of the Democratic campaign in this section.

Mr. Roosevelt indicated that Upton Lake would be selected as the place for the meeting.

WOMAN KILLED IN SUBWAY.

Traffic Delayed While Body Is Taken From Under Train.

Thousands of subway passengers were delayed for twenty-five minutes during the rush hour yesterday afternoon while police, wrecking crews and passengers labored to extricate the body of a young woman who had been run over by a southbound I. R. T. train at the Twenty-third Street station.

When the body was finally recovered it was taken to the morgue to await identification. Witnesses said the woman, well dressed and about 25 years old, either jumped or fell from the platform as the train was entering the station. She was about five feet six inches tall, weighed about 135 pounds, and was of dark complexion. She wore a blue silk dress, trimmed with brown lace, black low shoes and flesh-colored stockings.

"This being a national campaign of course the national committees are talking about broadcasting the speeches of their candidates 'all over the country.' They are faced with disappointment right there, for that cannot be done except in very limited instances.

"The trouble seems to be that the political managers believe broadcasting to San Francisco is as simple as getting a through telephone wire there. Those who know radio know that is very far from the truth.

Land Wires Essential.

"In broadcasting on a national scale, we will have to fall back on the land wires of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company as a basis. These wires will receive the speeches from the microphone, wherever it is set up, and take them to the cities from which they are to be broadcast, whereupon the local stations in those cities will put them on the air. In other words, the main wire channel is limited to what the American Telephone and Telegraph Company can provide. It has a service to maintain, and cannot throw overboard everything to give right of way to broadcasting. So we come upon a limitation there.

"It is not generally considered likely that the newly developed system of short wave retransmission can play any important part in broadcasting Presidential speeches across the continent. This has been demonstrated with some success, but is still on an experimental basis. The difficulty is that all atmospheric disturbances are transmited along with the sound waves, whereas the land wires deliver the sound at the terminal exactly as it was put in.

"The broadcasting of the two National Conventions extended the country's facilities about as far as they would go, and they were based on the capacity of the A. T. & T. wires. At first the telephone company thought it was up against an almost impossible problem. Then its long lines department got busy and worked out a scheme. Finally the company went to the National Committee with a list of twelve cities to which it could deliver the convention proceedings. It told the National Committee to choose its cities and make the arrangements with local broadcasters, and when this was done the handling began, with most excellent results.

"The national campaign will be far more complicated. There will be not only the Republican and Democratic Parties to attend to one at a time, but they will both want facilities at the same time and there will be the La Follette party and perhaps others.

Advises Local Field Units.

"One of the first steps the radio men will take will be to advise the national parties to break up their nation-wide scheme as far as possible into local units. A speech which is aimed, for instance, at the industrial centres of the East would have little application to the campaign that will be made among the farm sections of the West.

"It should, therefore, be confined to the local stations of the East. Arguments addressed to the farm issues, similarly, should be localized in that region. Where the broadcasting can be confined to one locality the problem will be greatly simplified. The overland transmission problem, which is the greatest, will be eliminated. It then becomes a question of how much political stuff each local station will want to include in its programs. Often these speeches can be made direct from the studio—exclusively a radio problem.

"Of course, a certain number of speeches by President Coolidge, John W. Davis and La Follette can be broadcast from coast to coast. But there will have to be a limit somewhere.

"The question of expense enters into the problem considerably also. The expense of broadcasting the National Conventions was about $10,000 for six days. This was borne by the broadcasters and not charged to the National Committees, for the former felt it was interesting material which the public wanted and they could handle it as part of their regular expense of putting out programs.

Problem of Expense.

"It is a question whether the broadcasters will feel the same way about the campaign. They will undoubtedly be willing to transmit a certain number of speeches by the leading candidates at their own expense. But if the thing keeps up they will probably feel the expense should be borne by the National Committees. For this will be a service from which the parties will benefit and, as they pay for other means of campaign publicity, the broadcasters will probably feel they should pay for this.

"There is a question whether the campaign managers understand as well as the radio men that too much broadcasting will not help their cause. We know what people will listen in on and we know they will not listen indefinitely to political speeches. Unless the broadcasting of politics is kept within reasonable bounds, the public will tire of it as soon as the novelty wears off. It will then be a question for the broadcasters to settle individually whether they will clog their programs with material they know their hearers will not follow. The station that does too much of that will suffer.

"We shall be absolutely non-partisan in our attitude. The radio industry gave as good service to the Republican as to the Democratic national convention, and vice versa. We also offered to transmit the proceedings of the La Follette convention at Cleveland. One of the New York stations has on its program shortly an address by the Socialist-Labor Party candidate for Governor of New York. The industry as a whole believes that the air should be free to all within reasonable limitations, and that it is up to the people to decide on the merits of the individual speakers and their viewpoints. They make the final disposition, not we.

"And that brings up another new question involved in this first national campaign by radio, and upsets another precedent. Hitherto the broadcasting stations have been very chary about letting speakers broadcast controversial matters of opinion. The difficulties in that are obvious. As soon as any one side of any question is presented, there are bound to be a certain number of people who will complain that the station is seconding propaganda.

Hard on the Spellbinder.

"During the forthcoming campaign the studio restrictions in that regard will have to be let down to a considerable extent. It is obvious that a Republican campaign speech is not going to be devoted to the merits of the Democratic party, nor that the Democratic orators are going to spend much time extolling the virtues of their opponents. How and where can the line be drawn in fairness? We don't know now. That is one of the things we shall have to learn about as we go along, as we shall have to learn a good many other things in this unprecedented situation.

"If the campaign managers will take the advice of those of us who have studied the problems of broadcasting, they will not attempt to put on the air long-winded political speeches. I have no hesitancy in saying that the ordinary political speech, as we have known it for years to be delivered from platforms in political campaigns, will not go at all with radio audiences. They will tune out in the middle of it and get some station that is sending jazz or a symphony concert.

"The politicians should realize they are facing an entirely new situation, absolutely unique in the history of American politics, and change their methods to meet it. No longer are their orators addressing crowds of their own followers. When a political speech goes on the air in this campaign it will be going to the homes of Republicans, Democrats, Progressives, Radicals, Socialists and all the brands there are.

"The methods should be changed to meet this situation. The old-time political speeches will not fill the bill. Broader viewpoints must be adopted. Rather than broadcasting speeches of a partisan nature, the campaigners should send out meetings and debates and addresses by those who speak with a broad appeal. If they do not, they run the risk that before they are half through their audience will have melted away. It can be done with a twist of the wrist. And the speaker will never know it. So they had better watch out."

STATES WHY BRITISH BAR LEAGUE TREATY

SEES DANGER IN ALLIANCES

Premier Thinks Guarantee So Precarious That No Government Would Materially Reduce Forces.

GENEVA, July 18 (Associated Press).—Carrying out the obligations imposed by the provisional draft treaty of the League of Nations would involve an increase rather than a decrease in British armaments, Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain declares in the course of a document detailing the British objections to the treaty, which has been received by League officials.

While repudiating the essential provisions of the treaty, Mr. MacDonald emphasizes that the League's study of the problem of reduction of armaments has been fruitful and has demonstrated an international desire to find a solution to the problem.

After pointing out that on the practical side an advance in the reduction of armaments has already been made in Central and South America and in carrying out the recommendations of the Washington Conference, the British Premier declares that his nation's policy is that the Governments of the world, including those not yet members of the League, should meet at some favorable opportunity and confer to devise schemes for the reduction of armaments.

It should also be the task of such a conference to study all suggestions, including those contained in the Treaty of Mutual Assistance and also constructive proposals, such as defining the zones of demilitarization between States, safeguarding special frontiers under some form of international control and granting further powers to the International Court.

Mr. MacDonald finds the League agreement unsatisfactory because of the uncertainty and difficulty in determining what constitutes an act of aggression and because of the difficulties which the council of the league would encounter in deciding within four days which nation is the aggressor. Another important objection he finds is the long delay liable to occur before the forces at the disposal of the League could be brought into effective operation against the aggressor State.

He affirms that the experience of the World War does not justify the assumption that where the forces of several nations are involved, immediate acceptance or rapid execution of plans of operations can be counted on with certainty because the States, owing to public opinion at home or commitments elsewhere, may not be in a position to help with military force.

Moreover, the council would have great difficulty in reaching a unanimous decision concerning the appointment of a higher command, as no nation places its troops under foreign command without careful consideration.

Remarking that the operation of guarantees is dependent upon the explicit consent of each individual State which may be asked to render assistance, the Prime Minister says this strengthens Great Britain's belief that the guarantee afforded by the draft treaty is so precarious that no responsible government would feel justified in consenting to any material reduction of armaments. Hence the whole object of the treaty is lost.

He quotes the League of Nations Disarmament Commission's opinion that in case of armed assistance aircraft and warships would first be asked for in the initial stages of war, and adds:

"It is the considered opinion of the British naval staff that a treaty such as the one proposed will, if properly carried out, necessitate an increase in the British naval forces, and it is our belief that the position will be the same for other countries."

Mr. MacDonald approves the general criticism that the treaty's authorization of regional treaties between groups of countries is likely to recreate the former system of alliances and counter alliances which has proved such a serious menace to the peace of the world. He thinks the treaty would open a channel for conflicts between the League of Nations Council and individual Governments, and condemns it because the council would become an executive body with large powers, instead of an advisory body.

He insists that the council should not be entrusted with control of military forces in operations against any particular State and declares in conclusion that the treaty would greatly complicate international relations and create difficulty in the conduct of national policies.

HAIL IN MEXICO CITY MAKES WHITE PICTURE

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MEXICO CITY, July 18.—This city loses its reputation as a metropolis of unrivaled Summer climate. A wandering hailstorm yesterday, almost out of a clear sky, covered the streets with five inches of heavy hail.

The first slight rainstorm developed swiftly into a heavy downpour of hail, some drops measuring over an inch in diameter.

Barefooted peons slipped and slid as the hail beat down, turning the asphalt streets into snow beds for the first time in the memory of old-timers who have experienced heavy hailstorms. The public parks were turned as if by magic into snow-covered fields, but the red roses valiantly lifted their heads from the piles of white.

The heights of Chapultepec Castle, covered with white hail, furnished a picture that seldom, if ever, has been seen in Mexico. Three hours after the storm the streets still were covered with hail. One of the most curious sights was that of a group of Summer-clad tourists strolling along and sharing with the natives their astonishment over Mexico's sudden lapse from the good behavior described by guide books.

SOVIET PRESS SARCASTIC.

By Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MOSCOW, July 18.—The Soviet press features the presence of Secretaries Hughes and Mellon in London during the interallied conference with sarcastic comment.

On its front page the Izvestia carries a cartoon showing Mr. Hughes lolling as he smokes a fat cigar. A steamer trunk labeled "European debts," which occupies the centre of the conference council table, is upsetting ink and papers. In the background M. Herriot and Mr. MacDonald look extremely blue. The caption runs "Hughes [modestly]: 'I hope, gentlemen, I don't disturb you.' "

The leading editorial in the Pravda, entitled "American Imperialism Puts Forth a Hand," emphasizes the Bolshevist viewpoint that the Dawes plan and the presence of the American Secretaries in London represent an important step on the part of American capitalists toward the economic domination of Europe. The Pravda asserts that the "unwieldy accumulation" of gold in the United States, the difficult position of the American farmers and a new wave of industrial unemployment have finally brought American financial and business leaders and the chiefs of the Republican Party to realize that the present unsatisfactory state of affairs in Europe cannot be allowed to continue.

The Pravda augurs no good from the "unofficial" activities of "these Shylocks come for to obtain their pound of flesh," and concludes:

"Not only does the visit of Hughes and Mellon put a new burden on the backs of the European working masses but the contradictions already existing between the European capitalist countries will be deepened thereby and exacerbated."

REPORTS ON BRAZIL CONFLICT SHARPLY

State Department Gets Advices That the Rebel Cause Is "Doomed."

BUENOS AIRES DIFFERS

Information Reaching There Asserts That Rebels Are Gaining at Sao Paulo.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Confidence that the Brazilian Government will soon put down the revolt in Sao Paulo is again reflected in official advices received by the State Department today from the seat of trouble. The department's advices from Santos under yesterday's date said that "a decided turn for the better in local conditions" had been noticed and that "it appears the revolutionary movement is doomed."

"Legal authorities feel sure," the report continues, "that they will be successful within several days. The Federal authorities are in favor of a bombardment in spite of the protest of the Mayor and the Consular Corps at Sao Paulo, and according to statements it appears probable that heavy artillery will be employed.

"Civilians are supposed to have been enlisted by the rebels. The casualty list is said to be relatively light, although details are not obtainable at Santos. Food supplies are sufficient, although somewhat reduced. The Municipal Council at Santos have agreed unanimously to support legal authorities who sympathize with the upper class. The proletariat is still uncertain. A garrison under the command of a Brigadier General is being equipped in Santos."

Two official communiqués were made public at the Brazilian Embassy here. The first, dated at noon yesterday, says:

"Our troops retain the positions which they had occupied as a result of manoeuvres which they have just carried out with entire success. It is confirmed by authoritative information received from various places that the rebels are daily losing men, who are withdrawing to the interior of the State of Sao Paulo and who are captured by the local authorities."

The second communiqué is dated midnight yesterday and says:

"Our troops are continuing an important manoeuvre which is in operation along the whole front for a decisive action. Our left wing has occupied the barracks of the State Military Police in the Rua Vergusiro in the City of Sao Paulo, making thirty prisoners. On the right wing we have made progress, capturing machine guns and much ammunition."

Story of Further Rebel Gains.

BUENOS AIRES, July 18 (Associated Press).—Trustworthy information received here from Brazil early today indicates that the rebels are getting the upper hand in the fighting around Sao Paulo. It is reported that the Federal Government has proposed to initiate "decisive operations," but "the military chiefs do not entertain hopes of definitive results."

Unless a political compromise is reached, the Brazilian warfare, which has now been waged for nearly two weeks between the Sao Paulo revolutionists and the Federal troops, apparently will be long drawn out. This is indicated by information filtering past the censor, which is corroborated by statements from various voyagers arriving recently from Rio de Janeiro, Santos and even Sao Paulo.

It is pointed out by these persons that the rebels have at their command the resources of the wealthiest city in the country, where large manufactures are centred, including arms and munition factories, which are now reported working day and night. The de facto Government in power is said to have the support of practically the entire population of more than 500,000 and to be functioning in an orderly manner.

While the insurrection seems to have begun as a military revolt, emphasis is placed on the prevalence of secessionist sentiment in Sao Paulo, where the objection is often voiced that the city and State are paying more than 50 per cent. of the national taxation, which provides funds for the Federal Government. It is declared that this district does not receive proportional benefit.

So far as is known, however, the rebels, in establishing a provisional Government, have not advanced the separation idea, confining their demands to the resignation of President Bernardes and the pardon of military men who were involved in the 1922 revolt. Certain reforms are also asked.

Thinks Federals Must Compromise.

An American business man, interviewed by La Nacion's Montevideo correspondent upon the former's arrival from Rio de Janeiro aboard the steamer Andes, said that "the Brazilian Federal forces are not in a position to crush the Sao Paulo revolt and the most the Federal Government can hope for is to arrive at some agreement with the rebels."

The American, who is a representative of a United States company doing business with Brazil, is quoted as saying that President Bernardes of Brazil has already made several propositions to the revolutionists for a compromise. On July 12, it was said, the President sent two emissaries to arrange an armistice, and was answered by the demand for his immediate resignation.

It was said that President Bernardes is patriotically ready to sacrifice himself for the sake of national unity and only demands from the revolutionists respect for the constituted State authorities and Federal courts, without which guarantee he considers it harmful to leave office.

In the interview the American said that the insurrection was both of a political and military character and had "its origin in the opposition shown to military men when President Bernardes assumed power." Continuing, the interview says:

"This opposition has been maintained and accentuated during President Bernardes's two years in office. The fact that the outbreak occurred at Sao Paulo is explained when it is known that it is one of the strongest States in Brazil, where military men opposing the President have the strongest foothold."

Says Rebels Have Outside Support.

The La Nacion informant added that, according to data obtained in Rio de Janeiro and confirmed confidentially in official quarters, the rebels, although they do not number more than 10,000 men, are very much stronger than the Government forces in view of the support given them by other States such as Rio Grande do Sul. There the rebels are said to have obtained the promise of the State troops that they would observe neutrality in the present insurrection and would not march against the forces now holding Sao Paulo.

"This is exactly what occurred when State President Borges attempted to send troops to aid the Federal Government," the American said.

"The commanding officers of the State troops refused to go to the aid of the Government. The Government has no faith in its Federal forces, some of whom have already gone over to the revolutionists. It fears to send the troops against the rebels because of other probable desertions. I am sure the Federal forces will not be able to crush the revolution, which, if it does not end with a rebel victory, will terminate in a friendly pact. This is the only hope left for the Government."

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, July 18 (Associated Press).—Passengers aboard the steamer Andes, which arrived from Rio de Janeiro, declared that Governor da Campos of Sao Paulo was in that city. The Governor has been reported in various places since he was deposed by the rebels. It was said that he went to Santos when the rebels took over Sao Paulo and sought refuge aboard the battleship Minas Geraes. A destroyer later took him to Rio de Janeiro.

FRENCH OBDURACY DELAYS CONFERENCE

French and British views as to how to deal with possible German defaults under the Dawes reparations scheme and the method of inflicting penalties for such delinquencies. Unofficial American suggestions were laid before the experts, but they did not produce a compromise agreement.

It was pointed out that the suggestions given to the committee which is dealing with defaults and sanctions were not made by the American official observer, but emanated from a source which thought that a new method for creating financial confidence for a loan to Germany had been found.

At the end of the day's deliberations the French and British were still holding their views regarding defaults and sanctions. The British are striving to establish an Agent General of Reparations as a sort of grand jury for declaring defaults, while the French maintain that the authority of the Reparation Commission in this respect must not be impaired. Every British move to diminish the influence of the Reparation Commission has been met by stiff opposition from the French delegates.

Between the two positions it is held that there should be a middle ground upon which the Allies can meet, and Colonel James A. Logan Jr., the official observer of the United States, who sat through the committee meeting today, declared tonight that there was no reason at this stage of the conference to fear that an agreement would not be reached on the disputed points.

On the second point of disagreement—application of sanctions—American opinion is that harmony is likely to be produced sooner than is generally expected. Although the French are insisting that the penalties to be imposed on Germany should be decided upon before the Dawes plan is put into working operation, it is stated that this position is not rigidly held, and there is every indication that the difference will disappear in give-and-take exchanges of the conference rooms next week.

Americans who are in the closest touch with the conference proceedings are of the opinion that the fate of the whole meeting depends upon the degree of understanding to be reached by Premiers MacDonald and Herriot; that if the Premiers can devise ways and means for enforcing the Dawes plan to their own satisfaction, there will be little difficulty in obtaining the approval of the expert committees.

There will be a meeting tomorrow morning of the committee dealing with economic and fiscal unity in Germany. It will be under the chairmanship of J. H. Thomas, Secretary for the Colonies, who referred to the objectives of the conference in a speech at Derby tonight.

"If the Allies failed to reach an agreement," he declared, "the chaos in Europe, bad as it is, would be ten times worse because of their failure. The consequences that would follow failure are so horrible to contemplate that the Allies must not talk failure but must keep in mind all the time the feeling that they are going to succeed."

Belgian Chamber Uneasy.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BRUSSELS, July 18.—In political circles here the progress of the London conference is being watched with anxiety. The difficulties which stand in the way of complete agreement among the Allies are fully realized, and although the situation is faced calmly no great optimism is shown.

The dispatches of the special correspondents in London of the Belgian newspapers are rather gloomy. The correspondent of the Etoile Belge speaks of rumors of misunderstandings and of anxiety among the Belgian delegates. That there is also a feeling of uneasiness in the Chamber of Deputies here on the subject of the conference is shown in a speech made by M. Vandervelde, the Socialist leader, this afternoon.

It had been decided to rise for the Summer recess on Saturday, July 26. M. Vandervelde said:

"It is understood that the Chamber will finish its work next week, but we must hold ourselves in readiness to help the Belgian representative at the London conference, which has such a great bearing on the future peace of the world. We cannot separate without first being practically certain that the conference will succeed."

The President of the Chamber had a talk with the Minister of Justice and finally announced:

"We shall separate for the recess, but the session will not be closed. We shall meet in the near future to study the political situation of Belgium. We trust our hopes in the London conference will be realized."

GETS DRAFT OF GERMAN BILL.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, July 18.—The Reparation Commission has received formally the draft of the law establishing a 5,000,000,000 mark industrial mortgage, which is part of the Dawes plan. This draft has been agreed upon by the allied, neutral and German experts who have been working for the past two months.

The commission was also notified that drafts of laws establishing the special railroad régime and bank of issue outlined by the experts had been agreed upon and would soon be in the hands of the Reparation Commission.

The commission will meet in the very near future to examine these bills and it is possible that they will be placed before the London Conference in the coming week.

DOMINIONS ARE PLACATED.

Agree to Representation on Panel System in the Conference.

LONDON, July 18.—Colonial Secretary J. H. Thomas made a statement in the House of Commons today in reference to Dominion representation at the Interallied Conference.

His attention was directed to statements made in the Canadian House of Commons and he expressed regret that they should have been forthcoming. The fact emerged from Mr. Thomas's statement that it has been arranged for representatives of Dominions, so desiring, and of India to become members of the British Empire delegation at the conference on the panel system, and for them to be present on days when it is not their turn to sit as members of the delegation.

The London Times editorially welcomes Mr. Thomas's assurance that the Dominions, including Canada, have acquiesced in the arrangements for their representation.

"The settlement which is the objective of the present conference," it says, "is not only the largest undertaking of its kind since the peace of Versailles, but would lose a great part of its value, supposing it to be reached at all, unless it were backed by the whole weight of the British Empire.

"To secure the full cooperation and adherence of the Dominions was, for this reason, a matter of vital concern for every party to the conference, and called from that point of view for at least as strenuous an effort as Mr. MacDonald put forth in order to save the Herriot Government in France, and thus to bring the conference into being at all.

"From the point of view of the British nations themselves the case was necessarily stronger still. Urgent and vital as it was to lose no time in seizing the occasion of the Dawes report, it would have been better worth while to run no risk of misunderstanding with the Dominions through any failure to settle with them beforehand the exact conditions of their participation. The basis even of a final agreement in Europe would be dearly bought at the price of any legitimate and lasting grievance on their part."

The London Times is not, however, satisfied that the panel system for Dominion representation will work out satisfactorily. It says:

"It runs counter to the whole conception of the Dominions as equal partners in the British commonwealth of nations. It revives the obsolete distinction—the mother country in one category and the Dominions en bloc in another. How is it conceivable on any other assumption that the Australian delegate, for example, should be put forward to speak for the empire on Wednesday and the Canadian or New Zealander on Saturday?"

COOLIDGE APPROVES YOUNG.

His Appointment as Reparations Agent Would Be Wise.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—President Coolidge believes that Owen D. Young is eminently qualified for the post of supervisory agent of German reparation payments if the Allied Governments see fit to invite him to accept it and Mr. Young is willing to serve, it was stated at the White House this afternoon.

Inasmuch as Mr. Young took an important part in the formulation of the Dawes plan, the President has let it be known that he considers the suggestion that Mr. Young be appointed to the post of supervisory agent a particularly happy one.

The White House spokesman was careful to emphasize, however, that the selection of this agent will be made entirely independently of the Government of the United States, just as an engineer or some other technical expert might be selected if the Reparation Commission had need of such services. It is assumed, however, that any American selected for such a position would not be likely to accept without consulting with the Government and ascertaining whether there was any objection to his serving.

While President Coolidge has no special information concerning the progress of the interallied conference in London, he has great confidence in the judgment of Ambassador Kellogg and is encouraged by the Ambassador's apparent optimism over the proceedings.

Mussolini Warns Rome Paper.

ROME, July 18.—The new governmental decree regulating the activities of the press was applied today for the first time against the newspaper Popolo, Catholic organ of the anti-Fascist section led by the Rev. Sturzo. The Prefect of Rome warned the newspaper for the publication of remarks which he said were aimed at gravely minimizing the work of the Italian delegation to the London conference.

OLD MASTERS SOLD FOR PRINCESS ROYAL

LONDON, July 18.—Christie's today sold many important pictures by old masters, at the order of the Princess Royal, Louise, Duchess of Pife, and other pictures and drawings from other sources. The total sales for the day were £49,377.

Many notables attended the sale, their attention being largely centred on the forty-five pictures belonging to the Princess Royal. These at one time formed part of a collection which was largely formed by James, the Earl of Fife, toward the end of the eighteenth century. A selection of 150 pictures from the collection was sold at Christie's in June, 1909, bringing a total of £9,383. Seven or eight pictures in that sale reappeared again today.

While the Princess Royal's property brought a total of £13,577, a whole-length Reynolds of Jane, Duchess of Gordon, fell at 1,100 guineas, although a much more attractive picture by the same artist of Lady Mary Coke, daughter and co-heiress of John, Duke of Argyll, in a white dress, was bought at 4,800 guineas. Raeburn's whole-length portrait of James, the fourth Earl of Fife, which was exhibited at the Royal Academy of 1815, fell at 1,450 guineas.

Fourteen pictures in another group included the well-known Reynolds, "Venus and Cupid," exhibited at the Royal Academy of 1785. This went at 2,400 guineas. An exceedingly fine Guardi, a view of the Piazza of St. Marks, Venice, with the artist in the foreground carrying a canvas, bearing the signature, Franco Guardi, fell at 2,100. An unusually fine example of a Van Ruysdael, a river scene with laden boats tied up at the bank, sold for 1,650 guineas.

Thomas Bodkin's Pieta Quentin Matsy's composition of ten figures on a panel was bought for 3,900 guineas. A. H. Glencoat's Hoppner portrait of the Hon. Mrs. Augustus Phipps, in a brown dress, brought 2,800 guineas. Raeburn's portrait of Miss Davidson Reid, afterward the wife of Major Gen. A. Beatson, was bought by Messrs. Knoedler at 3,300 guineas.

Among the anonymous properties, the highest figure was realized for Reynolds's portrait of a lady said to represent Lady Diana Beauclere, which brought 3,700 guineas.

BRITISH CABINET DEFEAT.

Gets Adverse Vote on Labor Measure but Will Not Resign.

LONDON, July 18 (Associated Press).—The MacDonald government was defeated in the House of Commons today by a vote of 171 to 149 during consideration of the unemployment insurance bill.

The vote was on an amendment offered by Liberal and Conservative members, which was carried despite Labor opposition.

DE VALERA SPEAKS AUG. 15.

Will Resume Address at Ennis That Arrest Interrupted Last Year.

BELFAST, Ireland, July 18.—Eamon de Valera, the Irish Republican leader, will speak at Ennis, County Clare, on Aug. 15 at a demonstration to be held there, it was announced today. The demonstration, it is explained, will be in the nature of a continuation of the meeting which was interrupted when he was arrested last August.

Mr. de Valera with Austin Stack was released from prison this week.

Immigrant Quota of Ten for Malta.

MALTA, July 18.—The American Government has decided to grant to Malta an immigration quota of ten in the ensuing year, instead of classing the island with other European countries as heretofore. The non-quota immigrants who will be allowed to proceed at any time are the unmarried children under 18 years of age, or the wife of a citizen resident in the United States, at the latter's request; an immigrant returning after a short absence, ministers of religion, professors and students, besides persons born in certain American countries.

FORECASTS BIG SHIFT IN THE WORLD'S MAIL

New Predicts Air Service Will Cause Great Changes in European Schedules.

FOREIGN INQUIRIES MADE

Our Coast-to-Coast Fliers Will Shorten Time Between Continent and the Orient.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Postmaster General New today predicted that a realignment of world mail routings would be brought about as a result of the establishment of the new air mail service between New York and San Francisco. Following inquiries from European countries for information regarding the air mail schedules, Mr. New stated that the service also was expected to increase the amount of foreign mail transported in American vessels.

"European mail now routed via Marseilles and the Suez Canal and destined for Australia and the Orient," said Mr. New, "may be diverted to New York to take advantage of the air mail service, which oftentimes will be able to shorten the transit period as much as two weeks. A similar situation prevails with reference to Australian and New Zealand mail from England now being routed on certain days via New York and the Pacific Coast, to connect with vessels sailing from Victoria, B. C., and San Francisco.

"In many instances the faster air mail service will be able to make connections with steamers at San Francisco and save from two days to two weeks in time of transit. The same situation, of course, applies to virtually all other European transpacific countries. Most of these countries have been advised of the establishment of the new service and have been furnished with flying schedules showing how the service may be employed to their advantage."

An indication of the interest manifested by Great Britain in the air mail as an agent for speeding up their own mails to foreign countries occurred during the first few days of its operation.

An Englishman mailed a fourteen-ounce letter from Salisbury, England, to Sydney, Australia, specifying transportation by the American air mail service, so that the missive would catch, at San Francisco, the Tahiti of the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand, the next mail steamer for Australia.

The air mail also is expected to handle a large amount of mail matter sent from the United States for delivery to foreign countries. A recent departmental ruling provides that no extra charge beyond the regular air mail postage will be required on mail addressed to countries where the two-cent postage rate is applicable. To countries where the international rate applies, the air mail postage will be held as covering the portion of the postage fee accruing to the United States and only three cents additional will be required for the first ounce and one cent for each additional ounce or fraction.

BOY ARTIST ASTONISHES.

Sir William Orpen Admires Work of Russian Prodigy.

MOSCOW, July 18.—"Absolutely remarkable" was the comment of the famous British artist, Sir William Orpen, on seeing a few weeks ago a specimen drawing by a Russian fourteen-year-old genius, Peter Miranof.

Sir William wrote that one of his friends had offered ten guineas for a small barnyard scene and that if Miranof came to London he would do everything possible to help him.

A few months ago the boy, who is the son of a Siberian forester killed during the war, attracted the attention of the Soviet engineer, M. Troutman, himself an amateur artist, who was investigating asbestos beds along the River Bazanofsky in the Ural Mountains.

M. Troutman brought him to Moscow and showed his work to the well known Russian painter, Malleva, who declared that the boy already possessed that rarest of all natural gifts, a natural faculty for correct draftsmanship, and that apart from minor technique he could teach him nothing.

M. Troutman interested the Soviet authorities, who recently commissioned Miranof to travel through the South and make a series of landscapes for the State gallery. If the results are satisfactory M. Troutman hopes the authorities will make a small grant to enable the boy to study in Paris.

HUGHES AT CHERBOURG.

Kellogg Will Give Dinner for Secretary in London Tonight.

CHERBOURG, July 18.—The steamer Berengaria arrived tonight from New York, bringing the delegates of the American Bar Association, including Secretary Hughes, who are on their way to attend sessions of the British Bar Association.

LONDON, July 18 (Associated Press).—A wireless message from the Berengaria today said that Secretary and Mrs. Hughes held a reception Wednesday evening. Among those present were five former Presidents of the American Bar Association.

Ambassador Kellogg has invited several persons prominent in British social and political life to meet Mr. Hughes at a dinner at Crewe House tomorrow night. The Prime Minister will return tomorrow from Chequers to participate in the welcome to the Secretary of State.

FRANK GOULD SUED IN PARIS

Architect Asks Pay for Filling Holes in Horse Pasture.

VERSAILLES, July 18.—Frank Jay Gould is again back in the courts here, this time asking them to settle differences with his architect, M. Bouclet.

Gould, it appears, set up a stud farm at his country house, Robillart, Calvados Department, but the fields were damp and full of holes into which the young colts would fall. He asked the architect to make a plan for draining and levelling the property. M. Bouclet did so, estimating the cost of the work at 300,000 francs, which Gould decided was too much.

The architect's fee of 3,000 francs, Gould also decided, was out of reason and he refused to pay, whereupon the architect, on the ground that Gould was a commercial man, brought suit in the Tribunal of Commerce at Caen. The case was then transferred to Versailles. The court is expected to deliver its judgment next week.

Mascagni Coming Here Soon.

ROME, July 18.—Pietro Mascagni, composer of "Cavalleria Rusticana," will leave for America at the end of this month. He will conduct a number of his operas there, including the première in the United States of his new opera, "Piccolo Morat." He expects he will be able to conduct a five weeks' season in various cities.

AMERICAN FLIERS HONORED IN LONDON

THREE OF PARTY ATTEND

LONDON, July 18.—Tribute to the American air achievement and to the spirit of comradeship which unites English and American airmen was paid by Lord Thomson, Secretary of State for Air, and chief representatives of British aviation at a banquet given by the Royal Aero Club at the Savoy Hotel tonight in honor of the six United States army fliers who reached London on Wednesday after having completed more than 18,000 miles of their round-the-world flight.

Only three members of the American squadron were able to attend—Lieutenant Lowell Smith, the Commander, Lieutenant Leigh Wade and Lieutenant L. P. Arnold. The three others were detained at Brough by work on their machines.

Lieut. Col. J. T. C. Moore Brabazon said that the Aero Club banquets had marked the progress of aviation, for they had been given to Santos Dumont, Wilbur Wright, Bleriot and Alcock and Brown. Who could have dreamed in those early days that they would be giving a banquet to celebrate a flight around the world.

Lord Thomson said that everyone interested in aviation had followed the exploits of the gallant American airmen with admiration and without the slightest hint of jealousy. After paying tribute to the assistance rendered by the American authorities when Major Mac Laren and his comrades were delayed, Lord Thomson said that all of those present had every confidence that the gallant Americans would bring their flight to a glorious termination.

Sir Hugh Trenchard, Chief of the Air Staff, said the Royal Air Force was proud to feel that some of the American airmen had worked very closely with them in the war.

Ambassador Kellogg said he wished, on behalf of the American people, to congratulate that brave airman Major MacLaren now struggling in the wilds of North Japan.

Commenting on the achievement of the American expedition, the Ambassador exclaimed:

"What a wonderful flight; what a wonderful accomplishment! Whoever, a generation ago, would have believed it! Round the world in eighty days is no longer a romance. Nearly 20,000 miles in 264 flying hours, with 10,000 miles yet to do. The airmen of this expedition have journeyed over snows which never melt and over sands which never cool."

Going on to speak of England, the Ambassador said she was facing her problems nobly, as she faced them in the greatest of the world's conflicts. England had taken a count of what was before her and stood before the world as a nation which kept her promises and proposed to outlive the wreck of war.

The true airman worked for furthering aviation throughout the world and not for any one country or people, said Lieutenant Smith. He proposed the health of Major MacLaren and his companions, and the toast was drunk with enthusiasm.

May Proceed Monday or Tuesday.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The American world fliers, who now are at Brough (Hull), England, may be expected to proceed by Monday or Tuesday for Kirkwall, Army Air Service officials stated this afternoon after the receipt of a cablegram by Major Gen. Mason M. Patrick, Chief of the Air Service, from Lieutenant Lowell M. Smith, commander of the flight. Lieutenant Smith's message read as follows:

"Arrived Brough from London 1 hour 50 minutes flying time. Work started and will be completed before supplies reach Greenland. Planes and personnel in excellent condition. Cable concerning navy cooperation received. Smith."

From this message it is indicated that, other than for a change of motors, but little work is to be done to place the airplanes in good condition for the flight that will bring them back again to the North American Continent. With less than 8,000 miles yet to go, it is felt certain here that all of the fliers will complete the world cruise by the end of August.

Regular army and reserve corps aviators from throughout the country are to be invited by the Army Air Service Association to a big banquet here in Washington, which will be an official welcome for the world fliers.

Destroyers will be dispatched to patrol the air route in the North Atlantic to render any assistance that may be needed.

The cruiser Milwaukee sailed yesterday at 4:45 o'clock for Labrador, carrying materials for the establishment of supply stations along the Labrador coast for the American world fliers.

The cruiser had been lying off St. George to take on stores, which included hundreds of drums of gasoline, fuel oil and airplane motors, and buoys and anchors for the markers at sea which are to guide the pilots. Captain F. L. Pinney is in command of the cruiser, which has a speed of about thirty-four knots.

The vessel's first stop will be Indian Harbor, Labrador, where the air officers on board will set up a base for the five destroyers which will leave Newport News, Va., within a week to stand watch for the three world flight airplanes.

A navy seaplane is carried on the Milwaukee. It is equipped with pontoons for use in scouting over wide areas if any of the homeward bound fliers should become lost.

Captain Arthur Thiessen, a meteorological officer of the army, and Lieutenant Clayton Bissell, who plans the itinerary for the flyers, were among the officers on board.

MACLAREN LANDED SAFELY IN A FOG

British Aviator Was Forced Down on Uruppu Island, Near His Starting Point.

TOKIO, July 18 (Associated Press).—A. Stuart MacLaren, the British round-the-world aviator, and his party, who had been missing since they left Lake Toshimoye, Yetorofu Island, for Paramashiru, Kurile Islands, early Wednesday morning, were found safe in a bay on the southwest shore of Uruppu Island, the island adjoining Yetorufu Island, from which they started Wednesday morning.

Dense fog forced the party to land at Uruppu soon after taking flight, said wireless advices receives from the Kurile Islands today.

Whether the advices came from the merchant steamship which early this afternoon reported MacLaren and his associates safe and were relayed by the Japanese destroyer Isokaze, which was searching for the missing aviators, or whether the Isokaze had reached Uruppu and sent them after direct communication with the aviators, was not clear.

The advices were definite, however, and said that all members of the party of four headed by Major MacLaren were safe, and that their airplane was not damaged. The machine, after landing in the ocean, was removed to a lake on the island, the better to ride out the increasing wind, which arose soon after the landing, the advices said.

Major MacLaren had planned to fly from Lake Toshimoye to Paramashiru, most northerly of the larger Kurile Islands, Wednesday. When he failed to reach there as expected, two Japanese destroyers began a search for him, though neither searched so near his starting point as Uruppu, and until a merchant steamer sighted the plane and reported its location today, the fliers' whereabouts were a matter of speculation.

MacLaren plans to continue his journey to Paramashiru tomorrow, said the advices received here.

The foreign community and Japanese authorities, especially of the Air Service took a deep breath of relief when the news filtered down by wireless.

While in many quarters it was asserted there was little reason to fear for the fliers' safety, as the weather had been good, nevertheless the definite information that they were alive and well was very welcome to many here who had interested themselves in the McLaren party's plucky continuance of the flight, regardless of obstacles.

AMSTERDAM, July 18.—Major Pedro Zanni, the Argentine aviator who plans to start on a world flight next Tuesday, intends to follow the route of Major MacLaren. He believes that the superior speed of his machines will enable him to overtake his rival.

Major Zanni has bought three Fokker airplanes, and in the first stages of the flight the regulation landing gear will be used. The second stage will be flown with a plane having pontoons, and for the last stage, across the Atlantic, a special seaplane is under construction.

WASHINGTON STUDIES CHINA-SOVIET DEAL

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—With the receipt here today of the full text of the agreement recently concluded between the Russian Soviet Government and the Government of China, and the supplementary agreement for the management of the Chinese Eastern Railway, Administration officials have begun a study of the documents to ascertain whether China has granted Soviet Russia a special sphere of influence in disregard of the work of the Washington Arms Conference.

The charge has been made that Russia has received rights in China such as have seldom been granted before to a foreign power, and the Governments interested, including the United States, already have addressed protests to the Chinese Foreign Office.

Paragraph 5 of Article 9 of the agreement asserts that "the Governments of the two contracting parties mutually agree that the future of the Chinese Eastern Railway shall be determined by the Republic of China and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, to the exclusion of any third party or parties."

The agreement provides for a Board of Directors "for discussion and decision of all matters relative to the Chinese Eastern Railway," to be composed of ten persons, of whom five shall be appointed by the Government of China and five by the Government of Soviet Russia, and for a Board of Auditors, two to be appointed by China and three by the Soviet Government.

Another article provides for a manager of the railway, "who shall be a national of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics," and two assistant managers, one a national of the Republic of China and the other a national of the Soviet Republic.

Under Article IX of the main agreement, the Government of Soviet Russia "agrees to be responsible for the entire claims of the shareholders, bondholders and creditors of the Chinese Eastern Railway incurred prior to the Revolution of March 9, 1917."

Under Resolution 13 of the Washington Conference, China is designated as trustee of the Chinese Eastern Railway, and the powers recognize her responsibility for the interests of foreign stockholders, bondholders and creditors, the United States being listed among the latter to the amount of $5,000,000.

SOVIET DROPS RULES RESTRICTING LABOR

By Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MOSCOW, July 18.—The Moscow Labor Exchange is undergoing a sweeping reorganization in an attempt to cope with the unemployment problem, which, as Premier Rykov recently stated, is becoming increasingly difficult.

Two decrees published today will really have the effect, though this is not expressly stated, of removing a good part of the socialistic restrictions imposed by the Labor Exchange upon employers and employes.

Hitherto it was legally forbidden, first, for an employer to hire any one unregistered at the Labor Exchange, and, second, for any one registered at the Labor Exchange to accept any position save through the exchange.

The first of today's decrees allows the hiring of unregistered persons as "temporary" employes by State organizations and private employers. As the period of this "temporary" employment is not stated, it is quite obviously a deep wedge driven into the Labor Exchange's monopoly of employment.

The second decree permits registered persons to seek jobs for themselves but requires them to inform the exchange when they have obtained a position in order to permit the exchange inspectors to make sure trade union wage rates are maintained.

This may sound complicated and unimportant, but, in point of fact it is one of the most striking reforms of communistic legislation that has occurred in Russia since Lenin instituted the "NEP."

SEEKS TO SAVE LENINGRAD.

Soviet Will Spend $13,000,000 to Repair Ruins of the Old Capital.

LENINGRAD, July 18 (Associated Press).—Thirteen million dollars will be required to save Leningrad from ruin, according to a report made by the Leningrad Soviet to the State Planning Commission.

The commission approved the outlay, which will have to be borne by the State, as the local authorities have no funds for this purpose. The plan for the rehabilitation of the old capital includes the reconstruction of canals, renovation of ruined buildings, preservation of empty houses and the repaving of streets.

The work will require five years. The Planning Commission regards reconstruction as of imperative importance, but the project has still be endorsed by the Commissariat of Finance and the Council of People's Commissars, which is expected to approve an appropriation of only part of the sum required.

ARREST FALSE 'EMIR' ON VAGRANT CHARGE

migration and customs examinations were waived and he was allowed to land. He told other passengers he was coming to the United States on official business in behalf of the exiled Caliph of Turkey. He was refused admittance at several prominent New York hotels after Turkish officials here had announced that he had recently been deported from Turkey and Greece.

Following the publication of these facts he wrote letters to the editors of New York newspapers, complaining that "a series of unfair and libellous statements concerning me have appeared and have resulted in a good deal of humiliation and comment from my friends, acquaintances and the American public, and have also resulted in a financial loss to me." He then threatened to take steps for the proper redress of these wrongs.

SHENANDOAH TO FLY TO PACIFIC COAST

MAY CRUISE TO HONOLULU

Dirigible Will Before That Take Part in Manoeuvres in Long Island Sound.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—A cruise of the navy dirigible Shenandoah from Lakehurst, N. J., to the Pacific Coast for manoeuvres with the battleship fleet and subsequent return to its hangar in New Jersey was announced today by the Navy Department in a tentative schedule for the airship's operations from Aug. 1 to next February.

The schedule calls for the return of the airship from operations with the Atlantic scouting fleet to Lakehurst, Nov. 7. The rest of that month will be spent in overhauling the Shenandoah preparatory to the transcontinental trip and operations with the battle fleet of the Pacific during January and February next year.

Beginning Aug. 1 the Shenandoah will start its first actual experiments with the fuel ship Patoka, which has been equipped with a mooring mast. These tests will be held with the Patoka acting as a mobile base in Narragansett Bay and waters of Long Island Sound, New York. From Aug. 8 to 21 radio compass tests will be made, and from Aug. 22 to 31 the ship will operate with the scouting fleet in the Atlantic.

Other radio tests will be continued from Sept. 1 to 7, and will be followed by additional manoeuvre operations with teh Atlantic scout fleet during the week of Sept. 8 to 15.

LAKEHURST, N. J., July 18.—There was a report at the naval air station here today that the airship Shenandoah may be sent to Honolulu late this Fall to take part in the Winter manoeuvres of the Pacific fleet at Pearl Harbor. This will be the longest flight of the giant dirigible, which, according to original plans, has a cruising radius of about 4,000 miles at a speed of about forty-five miles an hour.

If the Shenandoah is sent on this flight, she will stop at Fort Worth, Texas, and then hop to Mare Island, and then across the Pacific to Pearl Harbor. The first leg of this trip will be about 1,800 miles, the second a trifle less than 1,000 and the third about 2,400, a total of about 5,200 miles, with two stops.

On the return flight, the Shenandoah will make Seattle, Wash., the first stopping place, and then proceed down the Pacific Coast to Mare Island and back to the station here.

At Honolulu it is planned to put the big airship on the mooring mast aboard the converted cruiser Patoka, which is now about ready for service at Norfolk, Va. The Patoka is to have the mooring mast tested off Montauk Point in Gardiner's Bay in about two weeks. Commander Zachary Lansdowne will be in charge of the Shenandoah when the attempt is made at that time.

The Shenandoah then will return here and the Patoka will be sent down the Atlantic Ocean, through the Panama Canal, and up the Pacific to Mare Island, to await the arrival of the Shenandoah.

It is probable that Secretary of the Navy Wilbur will make the trip across the continent on the airship.

28 Others Become Engaged Soon After Going There From Greece and Syria.

CAIRO, July 18.—Fifteen of the Armenian girls sent recently by the Near East Relief to Cairo under an agreement with the Egyptian Government are already married and twenty-eight others are engaged. The girls all are 17 years old or more and unlike their sisters of the Orient, they had the right to reject suitors.

The men, on the other hand, in order to get the approval of the American supervisors to marry, had to undergo an ordeal unheard of in the Near East—medical examinations as well as give satisfactory evidence of their ability to support wives.

These girls were among the first arrivals of a contingent of 500 orphans sent by the Near East Relief from Greece and Syria to Egypt, following negotiations between the American Minister, Morton Howell, and Premier Zaghoul Pasha. The Greek Government waived passport charges, customs duties and medical examination fees.

The girls comprise the older orphans from Near East Relief homes, and were sent away in order to make places for younger ones. They are being cared for in the Armenian homes of Cairo under American supervision and protection.

LONDON, July 18.—Permission for a memorial tablet to Byron in Westminster Abbey has been refused. Bishop Ryle, Dean of Westminster, in the course of a letter to The London Times, says:

"Byron, partly by his own openly dissolute life and partly by the influence of licentious verse, earned a world-wide reputation for immorality. Among English speaking people, Westminster Abbey primarily stands to witness for Jesus Christ.

"A man who outraged the laws of our Divine Lord and whose treatment of women violated Christian principles of purity and honor should not be commemorated in Westminster Abbey."

In conclusion Bishop Ryle says:

"In my decision I have the unanimous support of the Chapter. I believe also that I shall have behind me the support of the great mass of Christian opinion throughout the whole British Empire."

PELKEY ACCUSED OF PROVIDING BOMB

TWO MEN TELL OF PLOT

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 18.—Assistant Attorney General George Hurley, who, with Governor William S. Flynn, obtained in New York two affidavits alleging that Chairman William C. Pelky of the Republican State Central Committee directed the placing of a bromide gas bomb in the State Senate Chamber on June 19, returned to Providence late tonight. He was met by Attorney General Carpenter at the station and the two went immmediately into conference.

The affidavits published this afternoon were the signal for a muster of Republican leaders, who were still in session late tonight.

Governor Flynn returned to Providence this afternoon from New York. He said he had been "very busy" in New York and that very important information with reference to the placing of the gas bomb had been uncovered.

Thomas Lally, said to be one of the six or more men hired in Boston to come to Providence to protect Republican Senators, and who was later employed as a guard at the Rutland, Mass., retreat of the Senators, signed an affidavit in which a description is given of how Mr. Pelkey is alleged to have engineered the placing of the bomb. Before coming to Providence, Lally said he lived at 1,919 Commonwealth Avenue, Alston, Mass., with "Big Ike" McCarty, whose real name is Joseph L. McCarthy.

Says He Saw Package Dropped.

Both Lally and Mathew J. McGovern, the signer of the other affidavit, declare in their statements that Thomas J. McGauley, Republican reading clerk of the House, said in their presence at Rutland that Pelkey had asked him to place the bomb in the Lieutenant Governor's rostrum, but he had refused and that Mr. Pelkey then gave the bomb to Mr. Toomey, who agreed to see that it was placed.

Both men swore to their affidavits before Frank Anton Herter, notary public, of Orange County, N. Y.

Among other things Lally's affidavit said:

"In my work at the State House this Thursday morning (June 19) I was not armed, but I was helping to guard the Republicans in the Senate, particularly Mr. Dooley (reading clerk), and was told that there were several gunmen around if anything happened. In the committee room, with other members of the party that Ike McCarthy had got down from Boston, they were joined by John Toomey and Mr. Pelkey.

Refused to Take It, He Says.

"Then Toomey came over," the affidavit says. "He had his hand in his coat pocket. * * * He said to me, 'Take this and put it as near to Lieut. Gov. Toupin as you can, and step on it.' I objected, and said I would have to talk with Ike about it. He dropped me then and called Toots Murray over. I then left the room and returned to the Senate.

"Almost immediately after that, Cotter came in and told me to come out of the Senate, they were going to put the bomb in and settle the whole thing. I started toward the door. Just then I saw Murray and Foley come in and saw Toomey come and stand at the door.

"Murray sat down in a chair close to the steps where the Lieutenant Governor was sitting, getting shaved. Murray was holding something in his hands. * * * I saw him drop what he was holding and then slowly get up. With his left foot he had made a motion of stepping, or more as if he was crushing something with his heel. Shortly after that people began to complain of the smell of gas.

"When Toomey asked me to put the bomb in the Senate, Pelkey was standing right with him. This is the same Pelkey who appeared to be manager of the Republicans, and who paid Ike the $50 per week we got for our work at Rutland."

Referring again to the duties at the Rutland, Mass., headquarters of the Republican Senators, Lally said:

"On July 5, 1924, in the presence of Mr. McGovern, also a guard at Rutland, Tom McCauley told me that Mr. Pelkey had asked him to put the bomb in there, but that he refused, and Mr. Pelkey then put it up to Toomey to get it done."

The affidavit by McGovern has to do with incidents that occurred after the Republican Senators, with the exception of Senator Sanderson, went to Rutland about June 20. He worked there from June 26 to July 5, he said, and was paid by McCarthy and by Pelkey, giving details of his payments. McGovern then added the statement confirming that of Lally regarding McCauley's word naming Pelkey and Toomey as involved in requests to place the bomb in the Senate Chamber.

Governor Tells of "Thugs."

In discussing the affidavits Governor Flynn said he had been informed the night before the bomb burst "of the presence at the State House of thugs and gangsters," and he asked High Sheriff Jonathan Andrews to see that they "did not disturb the proceedings."

"Sheriff Andrews assured me there were no persons of that type in the Capitol to his knowledge, and that he would take steps to protect the Senate," the Governor added.

"After the bombing, when the Republican Senators refused to return to the Chamber, the Lieutenant Governor served a warrant on the High Sheriff to bring back the Senators who are now refugees at Rutland, Mass. When I spoke to him of this he assured me he had them under arrest and would return them when they were physically fit. Instead, the High Sheriff and his deputies escorted them down town and eventually out of the State.

"I regret that the Governor has no power to compel these officers to obey his commands and to bring about conditions of law and order."

Mr. Pelkey was bitterly assailed today in the Senate at a session attended by the Democratic members and Harry Sanderson, the only Republican Senator remaining in this State. The Democrats' line of attack was confined to reading the newspaper reports of the affidavits and the statements in another story by Mr. Pelkey that the Republican Party stood for "law and order."

An effort was made by the Democrats to get Senator Sanderson to comment on the story of the affidavits, but he steadfastly remained in his chair.

Won't Discuss Future Action.

Following his conference with Mr. Hurley, Attorney General Carpenter said:

"This is a most important case. I have not yet had an opportunity to study the evidence, and I wish to give the most serious consideration to these affidavits and to other evidence in our possession before I even discuss further legal action. Both the Governor and I are anxious to treat the whole matter in a thoroughly unbiased and non-political way."

"I am confident the Attorney General will do what should be done," Governor Flynn said. "He is the enforcing officer of the State and knows how to proceed."

At the close of the conference of Republican leaders, about midnight, statements were issued by Messrs. Pelkey, McCauley and Toomey flatly denying having ever had any conversations of any kind with either Lally or McGovern with reference to the placing of a gas bomb. Mr. Pelkey said he never met either of the two men until several days after the gas bomb incident, when he was in Rutland, Mass.

RUTLAND, Mass., July 18.—The Republican members of the Rhode Island State Senate, who have been residing here since June 22, three days after gas was released in the Senate Chamber, declared tonight that there was no truth in the charge published in Providence that the gassing of the Senate on June 19 was planned by William C. Pelkey, Chairman of the Republican State Committee.

Senator Arthur A. Sherman of Portsmouth, Republican floor leader and spokesman of the group here, said he believed the story told by the makers of the affidavits to be "entirely false and without foundation." He added that he would leave it to Mr. Pelkey, as the person chiefly concerned in the charges, to refute them in detail.

Mr. Pelkey, who, according to members of the group, left Providence for Rutland this afternoon, had not arrived at a late hour tonight.

Inspector John D. Coughlin, commanding the Detective Division, said last night that a report had reached the police in Brooklyn that Thomas Lally of 50 East Eighth Street, Brooklyn, was wanted in Providence, R. I., in connection with the explosion of a gas bomb in the State House there on June 19, during the Legislative deadlock. A telegram had been sent to the Chief of Police in Providence asking if there was any charge against Lally, he said.

Lally was arrested in Brooklyn by Detective Morris of the Parkville Station July 11, on complaint of Joseph Padula of 119 East Fifth Street, Brooklyn, who charged that he had been stabbed by Lally at Park Circle April 24. Lally was arraigned before Magistrate Dooley in the Flatbush Avenue Court July 12 and held in $1,000 bail for a hearing July 29. He is now out on bail.

GREEK SOLDIERS FIRE ON NEWSPAPER FORCE

By Wireless to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ATHENS, July 18.—In the early hours of this morning a party of armed soldiers invaded the offices of the opposition newspapers Tachydromos and Himerissia at Salonika, and demanded that the editors should refain from publishing the text of the speech made by General Metaxas, royalist leader, at Salonika yesterday afternoon.

The editors refused to comply, pointing out that the soldiers had no right to interfere in this way.

At this the soldiers, who are supposed to have been acting on orders received, opened fire with rifles, causing an indescribable panic. Some of the staff of Himerissia were seriously wounded by bullets, and one died. The two newspapers were unable to appear this morning.

CHICAGO POLICEMAN SHOT.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Four bandits today shot to death Policeman Frank C. McGlynn when he interrupted their attempt to steal the payroll of the Sterns Lime and Cement Company, 2,700 Leo Street. The bandits escaped amid a fusillade of shots with $468 of a $6,000 payroll.

McGlynn was shot through the heart when he walked into the offices of the plant, accompanied by D. T. Healy, an employee. Healy was the first to enter and one of the bandits shoved a sawed-off shotgun against his head. "Get against the wall with the rest of the brothers," the bandit commanded.

"Nix! A copper!" shouted one of the robbers as McGlynn appeared in a narrow passageway leading to the main offices of the plant.

"As soon as the fuzz puts his foot in the door lay it into him," ordered the leader.

Witnesses said McGlynn realized that it was a hold-up, and that he tried to draw his revolver. But one of the bandits concealed behind a large fitting case opend fire and killed him.

McGlynn, who had been on the force two years, leaves a widow and one son.

WARNS AGAINST SUNBURN.

Dr. Monaghan Tells What Visitors to Beaches Should Do.

Warning against the danger of sunburn, especially to children, was issued yesterday by Health Commissioner Frank J. Monaghan.

He said that at the seaside clinics, maintained by the Health Department at Coney Island, Rockaway Beach and Staten Island, hundreds of cases of sunburn receive first aid treatment daily and that follow-up treatment should be procured from private physicians or dispensaries.

"Grown up people," said the Commissioner, "who go to the beaches with children should know that exposure of any part of the body to the sun for a number of hours results in serious burns. Some of the infants who are brought to our clinics with burns present very pitiful sights.

"I desire to inform all who contemplate spending a day at the beach to remember that the sun will burn any part of the body exposed to it for the first time for a long period. To avoid sunburn expose your body on your first time at the beach for a short period only. Then rub the parts exposed with cold cream, cocoa butter or zinc oxide ointment. Guard children in particular against sunburn.

G.F.REDMOND FOUND GUILTY.

Boston Broker Is Convicted of Using Mails to Defraud.

BOSTON, July 18.—George F. Redmond was found guilty by a jury in the Federal District Court today of conspiracy and using the mails to defraud in the operation of the bankrupt brokerage firm of G. F. Redmond & Co., Inc., of which he was Treasurer.

Judge Lowell in his charge said that "the nub of the case is the financial responsibility of the defendant."

SEIZE MAID AS WIFE OF $50,000 ROBBER

ADMITS PLOT, POLICE SAY

When the Park Avenue home of Mrs. Marguerite W. Stengel was robbed on April 8 last by an armed and masked thief, who escaped with jewelry valued at about $50,000, he locked the maid and cook in a room and threatened to shoot them if they made a move. Yesterday a man who is thought to be the robber, was arrested in Washington, D. C., as he attempted to dispose of a pearl necklace valued at $15,000 and two hours later, according to the police, the maid in the Stengel home admitted to the New York police that she was the wife of the Washington suspect and that they had both planned the robbery.

Two pearl necklaces, one valued at $15,000 the other at $14,000 were part of the loot taken from Mrs. Stengel's apartment at 1,049 Park Avenue, between Eighty-sixth and Eighty-seventh Streets. When the suspect was arrested in Washington yesterday as he tried to dispose of a $15,000 pearl necklace, he told the police he was Louis Hernandez Campos, formerly a Spanish teacher at New Rochelle, N. Y. In a canvas belt around his waist were jewels valued at $60,000.

The Washington authorities immediately communicated with New York Police Headquarters, and Detectives Dougherty and Ryan of the East 104th Street Police Station went to Vermylia, Larchmont Gardens, Larchmont, N. Y., the Summer home of Mrs. Stengel, where they arrested Louise Provnka, the maid. The detectives said the maid admitted she was the wife of Campos and had planned the robbery with him last April.

Robber Wore a Red Wig.

Mrs. Stengel, wife of an engineer of the Cadillac Automotive Company, left her home on the morning of April 8 on a shopping tour. In the house were Louise, the maid, and Mary, a cook. Scarcely had Mrs. Stengel left the apartment before there came a ring at the bell. Louise answered the door, and a short, "stumpy" man, wearing a red wig, thrust a revolver in her face. He stepped inside and locked the door behind him. Then he forced the maid and cook into a room, and, threatening to shoot them if they made an outcry, locked the door.

He entered Mrs. Stengel's room and found her jewel case, and was taking two strands of pearls from the case when Mrs. Stengel returned. As she let herself in the apartment Mrs. Stengel saw the man in her room. At the same instant he caught her reflection in a mirror on the dressing table. He turned like a flash and Mrs. Stengel fled out the door, down the stairway to the ground floor, where the superintendent of the building blew a police whistle.

A posse of servants was formed and went to the Stengel apartment. The jewel case was empty and the robber was gone. A red wig and a cloth cap on the rear fire escape showed how he had made his escape. A search of the neighborhood was made, but no trace of the thief could be found.

The maid and cook were questioned closely by the police but both women stuck steadfastly to their story.

Yesterday after the news of Campo's arrest had been received in New York Detectives Dougherty and Ryan took the Provnka woman to the East 104th Street station. There, the detectives said, she told them of the robbery.

Story of the Robbery.

According to the detectives, she said that she and Campos, her husband, planned the robbery when she obtained employment at the Stengel home about a month before it was carried out. They were ready on three occasions prior to the date of the robbery, but each time something intervened to prevent it.

Finally on the morning of April 8, everything was auspicious. She went to the front window, the detectives say she told them, as soon as Mrs. Stengel left the house, and gave a signal to her husband who was waiting in the street below. Then, she said, the robbery was carried out as originally planned. The sudden return of Mrs. Stengel, however, almost made their plan miscarry, as her husband barely had time to get away before the house employes entered the apartment.

According to the Washington police Campos first told them that he had brought the jewels from Mexico but later he changed his story and said they had been given to him.

Besides the pearls which he attempted to sell, the canvas belt round Campos's waist disclosed other strings of pearls, rings, pendants and other jewelry. The police say that the bulk of the jewels stolen from Mrs. Stengel were found on Campos and that Mrs. Stengel pointed out other jewels, worth about $3,500, which she said did not belong to her.

The Provnka woman is prepossessing and about 6 feet in height. She is 25 years old and when taken to the East 104th Street Station was modishly attired in a tailor-made suit. She will be arraigned in court today on a charge of robbery. Governor Smith will be asked to sign extradition papers for Campos.

LOEB SLAYER, HE ADMITS.

Chicago Church Federation Protests Proposed Trial Broadcasting.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Richard A. Loeb has admitted that he was the actual slayer of Robert Franks, The Chicago Herald and Examiner said tonight. Loeb and Leopold made nearly identical confessions except that each said he drove the automobile while the other did the killing. The newspaper said that Loeb, learning the penalty was the same regardless of whether he drove the car or struck the fatal blows, admitted being the murderer.

The proposal of a Chicago newspaper to broadcast by radio the proceedings in the trial of Leopold and Loeb was severely criticized by the Chicago Church Federation today, while Judge Denis E. Sullivan and Judge Philip L. Sullivan of the Executive Committee of the Circuit and Superior Courts declared such a course might cause a reversal of any verdict rendered.

FEARS YELLOW PRESS MORE THAN FOREST FIRE

California Governor Replies to Coolidge Offer, Said to Be Urged by Hearst.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., July 18.—Governor F. W. Richardson replied tonight to President Coolidge's offer this week to render Federal aid in combatting forest fires in the State when he telegraphed that "California is menaced more by the blazing of yellow journalism than by fire."

The statement was sent after a San Francisco afternoon paper said that action was taken by the President, "following the receipt of a telegram from William Randolph Hearst," after the arrival of the publisher in California on Wednesday.

Governor Richardson's telegram to the President said: "The Secretary of Agriculture through the National Department of Forestry is doing good work in suppressing forest fires in national forest reserves in California. The State Board of Forestry is cooperating in every way. Your Secretary of Agriculture can give you official information showing that certain news agencies are magnifying every brush and grass fire. California is menaced more by the blazing of yellow journalism than by fire."

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Secretary Weeks, at the direction of President Coolidge, sent a telegram today to the commanding officer of the Ninth Corps Area, with headquarters at San Francisco, directing him to get in touch with Governor Richardson of California to ascertain if any aid could be rendered in the forest fire situation.

The President telegraphed Governor Richardson several days ago, offering assistance of the Federal Government, and also took up the matter of fighting the fires, not only in California but in other Far Western States, with the War, Agriculture and Interior Departments.

LIBEL SUIT DISMISSED.

Attorney Had Been Criticized After Suing Hearst.

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 18.—The complaint in a libel action filed by Maurice Leon, a Manhattan attorney, against Gaston Liebert and the H. P. Sampers Company, publisher of the Courrier des Etats-Unis in New York, was dismissed today by Supreme Court Justice Joseph Morschauser.

The article taken exception to was published three weeks ago in the French newspaper and referred to an action filed by Leon against William R. Hearst and the International News Service for $10,000 for alleged services in 1918 in securing news transmission privileges in France.

"How can Leon, a man so seemingly devoted to France, take a client such as Hearst, and how can he reconcile his conscience by having clients that are such enemies of France?" says the translation of the article, which was agreed upon by counsel for both sides today. "If that is libel," the Justice said, "then every newspaper story is libelous."

LIGHTS SPEED UP TRAFFIC.

Broadway Signal System to Be Extended Over the City.

Broadway's new traffic signal lights are the forerunners of an electric signal system that probably will be in use soon on virtually all the avenues and principal streets of the city, it was learned yesterday.

These flash signal lights, if installed, together with the proposed skip-stop innovation for the surface cars, will form the basis of a system whereby, it is hoped, New York's most congested traffic will be moved with greater safety than traffic in many of the smaller cities.

Traffic officials who have observed the working of the Broadway lights say that vehicular traffic on Broadway has been slightly speeded up. The surface cars, however, have been delayed. It was explained that the skip-stop expedient, which is to be adopted within the next three weeks, probably will enable the cars to maintain the same running time as before.

Three Held as Counterfeiters.

Three men were held yesterday by United States Commissioner Barmore in Brooklyn on a charge of conspiracy to pass five counterfeit ten-dollar bills. They are Frank d'Alba of 285 Hamilton Avenue, Vincenzo Moncada of 581 Clinton Street and Philip de Marco of 179 East Ninth Street, all of Brooklyn. The three men were arrested by Detectives Asip, Greco and Thornton of the Coney Island Precinct, assisted by Secret Service Inspector John E. Walker.

KENT SEES DISASTER IF DAWES PLAN FAILS

Reaction Without It Would Be Severest Since War, Says Bankers Trust Head.

LOAN WOULD BE MADE SAFE

Would Not Be Offered Unless Sound, He Tells Banking Institute in Baltimore.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, July 18.—Asserting that in the adoption of the Dawes plan by the Allies lay the salvation of Europe, Fred I. Kent, President of the Bankers' Trust Company of New York City and a member of the committee of experts which devised the plan, told the American Institute of Banking in convention here today that failure to put it into effect would mean disaster to finances, trade and commerce.

He declared that if the plan was not carried out the reaction on business in the United States would be "more severe than anything which has happened since the war."

"The plan," he said, "carries within it so much common sense that it is hardly conceivable that sufficient force can be arrayed against it to prevent its being put into operation."

The diverse political forces which must first be brought into accord to assure an international loan to Germany, if the plan is to be effective, are the chief obstacles in the way of its adoption, according to Mr. Kent. He predicted that if the plan was put into operation stability of currency would be restored to European countries and normal international trade resumed.

"If the plan were refused, France and Belgium would continue their hold upon the Ruhr," he continued. "All European exchanges would be subjected to further severe shocks. Trade and commerce would be dealt a terrific blow, and might for a time be confined to necessities, and the progress toward better conditions which has been made since the armistice might be dissipated almost overnight.

"Should the Dawes report be accepted by the Allies and Germany and become operative, a very different set of conditions can be expected to prevail. The object of the Dawes plan is to place Germany in position to stabilize its currency and balance its budget and undertake the payment of reparations under conditions which will not result in another breakdown and that will allow Germany to resume her production, trade and commerce on a sound basis and one which can be expected to continue."

If a German loan was offered in America, he said, "it can be considered as being good, for it will never be issued until American international bankers are satisfied with its provisions and have good reason to believe that it is sound. This will mean that in their opinion the Dawes plan has been made operative under circumstances that will insure its success, that satisfactory arrangements have been made as to the withdrawal of France and Belgium from the Ruhr and that peace is assured in so far as such an accomplishment is possible."

"Laws which have been passed since the armistice that have come from misled masses have made life difficult in many countries, and our own United States has not escaped. In Congress, and in our State Legislatures, many bills have been passed that have only added to the burdens of our people."

He believed that the change which would come after Europe had returned to normal financial and commercial conditions would allay these tendencies.

One billion dollars a year is being lost in the United States through fraud, John P. Baer, Baltimore banker, stated at a savings bank conference of the institute. Seventy-five per cent. of this amount was being lost through fraudulent securities. There was no practical remedy for the situation, regardless of existing laws.

"You cannot legislate greed out of people," he said. "Until bank depositors are educated up to the point where they inquire at reliable sources as to whether there is a market or a money value attached to the securities they buy, the present deplorable condition will continue."

Edwin F. Frick of San Francisco was elected President of the Institute and Bruce Baird of New Orleans Vice President.

Two sets of twins, all four in the banking business, have kept the other delegates to the convention guessing. They are the Misses Ella and Emma Guenther of St. Louis and Ralph and Raymond Neal of Hartford, Conn. Ralph and Raymond look alike, dress identically, and wear horn-rimmed spectacles.

GIRL HIT AND ROBBED AFTER RIDE IN AUTO

Says Her Male Companion Took Rings Worth $2,000 and $150 in Money.

Still hiding her identity under the name of "Mary Polinsky," but declaring that she is a member of a well-known Chicago family, a young woman, her head swathed in bandages, suddenly left Mary Immaculate Hospital, Jamaica, yesterday, against the advice of the doctors, who told her she neded further treatment.

When she was admitted to the hospital about 3 o'clock in the morning she was unconscious and suffering from a fractured jaw and bruises of the scalp. She said she had been attacked by a male companion and robbed of two diamond rings worth $2,000 and $150 in cash, and then was left lying in the roadway.

The woman was found by a motorist lying in the roadway at Union Turnpike and Flushing Avenue, a lonely thoroughfare, Jamaica. She was taken to the hospital and treated by Dr. Simonetti. Se said she was living at the Hotel Ansonia, Seventy-third Street and Broadway. She came from Chicago two weeks ago, she declared, and last week was introduced to a young man. She went with him to a dinner in Greenwich Village Thursday night and both had two drinks, she said.

Shortly after midnight she asked him to take her home, and they started in his automobile. After they had been riding about for nearly two hours and were in sparsely populated neighborhoods she became frightened, she said, and told her companion that unless he stopped she would jump out. He halted the car, and as she alighted he struck her on the head and punched her face. She knew nothing more until she found herself in the hospital. Then she discovered that her rings and money were gone.

Although Miss Polinsky said she was 21 years old the police have her age as 35.

SIAMESE TWINS PARTED.

Twin infants joined at birth by an extraneous formation were separated by an operation Saturday at the Borough Park Maternity Hospital, 4,431 Fifteenth Avenue, Brooklyn, with what is said to be the unprecedented result that one of them lived. An operation to rectify a deformity of the surviving child is to be performed at the hospital today by Dr. Henry M. Kalzin and by its extraordinary character is expected to attract the attendance of physicians and surgeons from many cities of the East and Middle West.

Dr. Philip Mininberg, proprietor of the institution, who performed the first operation, would not reveal the name of the children's parents.

Both children were perfectly formed and robust with the exception of the second, which was without a right leg, missing at the hip. This child died as a consequence of the operation. It was joined to the other from about where its right leg should have been, by the growth which was attached to the now living infant.

Canada Sends Us More Wheat.

OTTAWA, July 18.—During the nine months ending with June, Canada exported 20,428,396 bushels of wheat to the United States in comparison with 13,167,301 bushels during the corresponding nine months two years ago, a Government report said today. Exports of Canadian farm products to the United States were valued at $53,858,420 in the same period, against $42,220,038 in the corresponding nine months of two years ago.

Duke of York May Get Governorship

LONDON, July 18.—A rumor of the impending appointment of the Duke of York as Governor of one of the British dominions is revived by The Daily Mail, which traces the report to visits which the Duke made to Downing Street and the Colonial Office yesterday.

MOTHER DENIES DEAD BABY IS HERS

SAYS HER CHILD IS ALIVE

Defendant on the Stand Five and a Half Hours—Accused Boarder Also Testifies.

MAYS LANDING, July 18.—Testifying in her own defense here today on the fourth day of the trial at which she and John Gilles, a boarder at her home, are being tried for the murder of her five-months-old baby, Mrs. Pearl Willard denied that the body of the embalmed child which has been displayed as evidence was that of her own baby. She declared that her husband, who is also under indictment for the murder and who has disappeared, had secreted her own child and that he knows where it is. Gilles also took the stand in his own behalf.

Both Mrs. Willard and Gilles denied the truth of the mass of circumstantial evidence that has been piled up against them by the prosecution. Mrs. Willard testified that her husband has been cruel to her throughout their entire married life. Gilles corroborated her statements by declaring that he had witnessed some of the mistreatment.

Mrs. Willard was on the stand five and one-half hours. She kept her eyes cast down and spoke almost inaudibly.

Spectators in the courtroom were visibly affected when Assistant Prosecutor Hinkle on cross-examination uncovered the face of the embalmed baby that was lying on the evidence table. Mrs. Willard showed signs of revulsion as she looked forward. She quickly recovered her calm, however, as she said:

"I never saw that baby before."

Gilles was on the stand an hour. He testified that on the night the murder was alleged to have taken place he came to the house after visiting a doctor and found Willard, the husband, there. He said that he asked Willard where the baby was and that Willard told him that his mother had come and taken the child away.

The defense announced that it would call twenty witnesses. Many of these are alleged to have been in contact with the missing husband since his flight.

The jury is composed of eleven men and one woman.

MESSENGER MISSING AGAIN.

Hospital Employe Sent to Bellevue With $600 Disappears.

Officials at Bellevue Hospital were surprised to learn last evening that Eugene Kearney, 28 years old, who had been a messenger in Fordham Hospital and who disappeared last Monday with $600, had been a patient in the alcoholic ward at Bellevue for two days, but had been discharged yesterday morning without anybody having discovered his identity.

The money had been given to him by Cosmos O'Neill, Superintendent of the Fordham Hospital, to deliver to Dr. George O'Hanlon, Superintendent of Bellevue.

Last Wednesday afternoon Kearney was picked up in an alcoholic stupor in front of 244 William Street and removed to Bellevue in an ambulance of the Beekman Street Hospital. When he recovered sufficiently in the alcoholic ward he gave his name and said he lived at an address which would be at about Hell Gate in the East River. Yesterday morning Kearney succeeded in convincing the physicians in the ward that he had recovered sufficiently to be discharged. He walked boldly through the courtyard in front of Dr. O'Hanlon's office and disappeared.

The church was crowded with mourners, including several hundred school children. Pupils from St. Mary's parochial school, which the McDonnell boy attended, were present. The Rev. Father John B. Snyder officiated at a solemn high requiem mass. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

People living near the Sea View Hospital and the New York City Poor Farm, city institutions at New Dorp, S. I., where the inmates and employes are being investigated in connection with the crime, expressed alarm yesterday at the character of some of the employes and the freedom with which the inmates are allowed to roam about the island.

Both the paupers at the Poor Farm and the patients at the hospital, who are mostly tubercular, are permitted to go anywhere they wish during the daytime. There are 900 patients at the hospital, and 600 paupers at the Poor Farm. The two institutions have about 700 employes.

Thinks Slayer May Be Epileptic.

Dr. G. Kremer, Medical Superintendent of both institutions, said that he thought the murderer of the McDonnell boy might have been an epileptic and who now remembers nothing about it. He said he did not think any of the inmates of either institution committed the crime, but that it might have been done by one of the employes.

"The problem of getting the right kind of men to work here in the menial jobs is very difficult," said Dr. Kremer. "We are allowed to pay them only $30 a month, and naturally we do not get the best."

The police are investigating all the inmates and employes of the two institutions. Clyde Patterson, 44 years old, an orderly, and Jacob Gottlieb, 24, a kitchen helper, both hospital employes, were held in $10,000 bail for the Grand Jury by Magistrate Fetherston on charges growing out of the McDonnell case. They were arrested as suspects. While denying any knowledge of the murder, they admit other offenses.

Detectives searching "Rattlesnake Nest" yesterday found parts of a police circular offering a $2,500 reward for the arrest of the robbers who committed a $14,000 hold-up on the Southern Pacific Railroad. On the theory that criminals like to carry with them police circulars which set a price on their heads, the police think that the murderer was also a hold-up man.

proceed to enforce the Volstead act with the greatest rigor, and he issued drastic orders to all Inspectors to stop the sale of liquor in their districts, warning them that he would hold them personally responsible. When reports of huge liquor consumption in cabarets, on roof gardens, in restaurants and in mushroom clubs reached the ears of Commissioner Enright, he sent out scores of detectives to obtain evidence as to whether Inspectors had been neglecting their duty. After months spent in amassing evidence, he suddenly preferred charges against twelve Inspectors, several of whom were among his close personal friends.

In addition to other punishments, each of the Inspectors is out of pocket $500, the sum subscribed by each to their legal defense fund. Inspectors Sweeney and Formosa are retired on annual pensions of $2,450 each. Besides being fined fifteen days' pay, Inspector Thomas F. Walsh was reduced to the rank of Captain. George R. Wakefield, who was a Deputy Inspector, also was reduced to Captain.

Under the redistricting of the city, the new First Division will take in Manhattan from the Battery to Fourteenth Street; the Second Division will take in Manhattan from Fourteenth to Eighty-sixth Street and the Third Division includes the remainder of Manhattan from Eighty-sixth Street to the Harlem Ship Canal. The Fourth Division is the Bronx. Brooklyn is divided into the Fifth, Sixth and Seventh Divisions. The Borough of Queens is the Eighth Division and the Borough of Richmond is the Ninth Division.

Enright Explains His Action.

Several hours after making public the orders Commissioner Enright issued a statement explaining both his disciplinary action and his revision of the police geography of the city. After referring to the orders for the enforcement of the Volstead act, the Commissioner continued:

"In accordance with these orders and as a result of a survey made by the Chief Inspector, and upon supplementary information submitted to him by the Police Commissioner, charges were preferred against thirteen Inspectors then in command of the various inspection districts covering the entire territory of the City of New York, charging them with neglect of duty and disobedience of orders in that they had failed to promptly and efficiently execute the provisions of General Orders Nos. 19 and 24.

"After the usual delays to permit the counsel for the defense and the Corporation Counsel to prepare the cases, the accused Inspectors were placed on trial before the First Deputy Police Commissioner. A large number of witnesses were heard and testimony running into several thousand pages was taken, all of which had to be reported and transcribed by the one trial stenographer allowed this department.

"After considerable delay in order to permit the First Deputy Police Commissioner to study the testimony and to render his decision, and after further delay in order to permit the Police Commissioner to review this testimony, a decision in each case has been reached and it is today made public in special orders.

"From a careful study of the testimony adduced in these cases, the conclusion is irresistible that some of those Inspectors were not earnest or efficient in the execution of these orders, while it is equally apparent that other Inspectors were both earnest and efficient in the enforcement thereof, with all of the resources placed at their command.

"Whether some of these officers assumed that by reason of the attitude of a large part of the general public toward the enforcement of the Federal prohibition law, or for some unknown reason assumed that these orders were not intended to be energetically and efficiently enforced in their full letter and spirit, or whether they became discouraged because of the manifest lack of efficient cooperation in many instances upon the part of some of the Federal authorities, is not fully disclosed by the records of the testimony taken at these trials.

"But the fact remains that the orders were not properly enforced and further facts have been disclosed which prove, beyond a reasonable doubt, that the ultimate results which were sought by the Police Commissioner were not accomplished, that the orders of the Police Commissioner were not obeyed, and the results reasonably expected from the enforcement of such orders were not attained.

"It is therefore the inevitable conclusion that these officers were guilty of measurable neglect of duty and disobedience of orders, and the penalties imposed are in accordance with the findings in each of these cases as far as their guilt can be measured or determined.

"Were it possible in the trial of these cases to measure their guilt to a greater degree of certainty and were it not for some mitigating circumstances produced in their favor, the penalties would be and should be far more drastic.

"In many of these cases the testimony submitted in behalf of the various officers as a defense was by way of avoidance, abatement or excuse instead of plain proof to show that they had diligently and efficiently endeavored to comply with these orders.

"The theory advanced as a defense in these cases to the effect that the Police Commissioner of this city had no authority to issue such orders or require any member of the Police Department of the City of New York to comply with orders involving the enforcement of the Federal prohibition law is manifestly absurd and is, to say the least, an astonishing proposition to urge by way of defense or excuse and practically a defiance of orders issued by the duly constituted administrative authority of the department.

"In accordance with the judgment rendered in these cases, which has resulted in some vacancies in the higher commands of this department, several transfers are made necessary.

"Many of these changes are necessary by reason of the fact that the total number of regular inspection districts has been reduced from thirteen to nine, and these territorial changes, together with certain other alterations in the boundaries and designations of precincts and districts throughout the city as set forth in General Order 22 of even date, show the necessity for practically all of the material changes announced in Special Orders 170.

"Since the creation of the Special Service Division under the command of Deputy Chief Inspector Belton, a large part of the work formerly imposed upon inspectors of districts is now devolved upon the Special Service Division, and the principal duties now assigned to district inspectors are the maintenance of the discipline of the uniformed force, the enforcement of law and order, traffic regulation and public safety in the territory over which they have jurisdiction.

"Because their duties have been reduced to a considerable extent, it is now possible to enlarge the territory of inspection districts and the jurisdiction of district inspectors. This rearrangement will result in a considerable saving in man-power and equipment."

Assignments of Inspectors.

Inspector McDonald at the time of the trials was in command of the old Third Inspection District, which comprised the upper east side of Manhattan. He will command the new Sixth Division, with headquarters at the Liberty Avenue Station in Brooklyn.

Inspector Bolan, who formerly commanded the old Fourth Inspection District, comprising the upper west side of Manhattan, is to command the new Seventh Division, with headquarters at the Vernon Avenue Station, Brooklyn.

Inspector Ryan, formerly at headquarters, was continued there under the Commissioner's order and will be designated as attached to the "Thirteenth Division," as headquarters is to be known under the new system. He will continue on night duty in the office of the Deputy Chief Inspector.

Inspector Walsh, one of the best known men in the "Roaring Forties," who more recently has been in command of the Ninth Inspection District, Liberty Avenue Station, Brooklyn, was transferred as a captain to command the Oak Street Station, now known as the Third Precinct under the new arrangement.

Deputy Inspector Wakefield, formerly in Brooklyn, where he was second in command in the old Eleventh Inspection District, was transferred to the Liberty Avenue Station, Brooklyn.

In dismissing the charges against Inspector William A. Coleman, who commanded the First Inspection District, which includes all of lower Manhattan; Inspector Edwin H. West, who has been in command of the Tenth Inspection District with headquarters at the Poplar Street Station, Brooklyn, and Inspector Thomas J. Kelly, in command of the Twelfth Inspection District, with headquarters in Jamaica, Commissioner Enright assigned them as follows: Inspector Coleman to Thirteenth Division and designated as Acting Deputy Chief Inspector and assigned to command the Borough of Brooklyn; Inspector West to the Second Division, the upper west side of Manhattan; Inspector Kelly designated as Acting Deputy Chief Inspector and assigned to command of the Borough of Queens.

Demoted Officers are Replaced.

Filling up the vacancies made by the demotions, Commissioner Enright made full Inspectors of Thomas H. Fay, Michael T. Ahearn and Charles A. Zanes, who were Deputy Inspectors. He promoted the following Captains to be Deputy Inspectors: Michael R. Kelly, Thomas W. Mullarky, Archibald H. McNeil, Mathew F. Kennedy and Patrick F. McCormack. Deputy Inspector James E. Troy, who was not one of the Inspectors under charges, was left high and dry by the abolition of the Twelfth Inspection District, which he commanded and was returned to the rank of Captain and placed in charge of the Bedford Avenue station.

The following transfers and assignments also were ordered:

Deputy Inspector John L. Falconer, from Fifteenth Inspection District to Tenth Division, assigned to duty in Second Traffic District.

Detective Sergeant Joseph Russo was reduced, it was announced, almost simultaneously with the dismissal of the inspectors, to patrol in the Morrisania Station, the Bronx. No explanation of the reduction was made. Russo has served for the last twenty-one years in the District Attorney's office and has been twenty-two years in the Police Department. By transfer to patrol, his salary is automatically reduced from $3,300 to $2,500 a year.

NO APPETITE?

Then here's a tonic without an equal during the hot summer months:

Take a two-mile swing along the Coney Island Boardwalk, with head up and shoulders back,

The result will be an appetite like a hungry bear's; and O! the joy of satisfying it at CHILDS.

SWIMMING POINT SCORE.

United States	116	Denmark	3
Sweden	39	Japan	3
Great Britain	36	Switzerland	2
Australia	30	New Zealand	2
France	14	Holland	1
Belgium	8	Austria	1
Hungary	4	Luxemburg	1

LES TOURELLES, France, July 18. (Associated Press).—The United States Olympic swimming team won four out of the five final events contested today and took three second places and one third place, piling up a total of sixty Olympic points during the day for a total of 116 points, or three times as many as Sweden, which now holds second place with thirty-nine points.

The United States now has clinched the Olympic swimming championship. Even should Sweden take every remaining event it would be impossible for that country to pass the United States in the point standing.

Johnny Weissmuller, Illinois A. C., won the 400-meter free style; Warren Kealoha, Hawaii, the 100-meter backstroke, and Miss Elizabeth Becker of Atlantic City, N. J., the springboard fancy diving event, while the American women's relay team, comprising the Misses Gertrude Ederle, Euphrasia Donnelly, Ethel Lackie and Marichen Wehselau, finished first in the 400-meter relay.

Miss Agnes Geraghty, W. S. A., of New York, had to be content with second place in the 200-meter breast stroke, but she swam a magnificent race. Paul Wyatt of Uniontown, Pa., was second in the 100-meter back stroke, while Miss Aileen Riggin of New York and Miss Carol Fletcher of Pasadena, Cal., took second and third places in the springboard fancy diving.

Arne Borg Is Second.

Weissmuller won the final in the 400-meter free-style swim, with Andrew Charlton of Australia, supposedly his strongest rival, third, and Arne Borg of Sweden second. Weissmuller's time of 5 minutes 4 1-5 seconds broke the Olympic record, but was far behind Arne Borg's world mark of 4 minutes 49 seconds, which, however, has not yet been officially ratified.

The American ace won by a magnificent rush during the last fifty meters of a terrific grind. Both the Illinois A. C. star and Borg used the crawl stroke throughout the race. The American made two poor turns, losing several feet at the 100 and 300-meter marks, but came through with an irresistible rush in the last lap. Thanks to this rush, Weissmuller was able to win by a more comfortable marginthan any other the swimmers had enjoyed during the terrific race. The American's time of 5 minutes 4 1-5 seconds broke the Olympic record. Borg's time for second place was 5 minutes 5 3-5 seconds, while Andrew Charlton, the Australian flash, by a tremendous sprint during the last 100 meters, dashed to within a few feet of the flying Swede, his time being 5 minutes 6 3-5 seconds.

The American and Borg gave the 10,000 spectators the most thrilling race seen in a week replete with sensations and broken records. They were never more than 5 feet apart during the entire race. Borg was leading at the 100-meter mark and was timed at 1:04 1-5. Weissmuller took the lead at 200 meters in 2:23 flat, while Bork again took a turn at leading at the 300-meter mark in 3:45 1-5.

It was in the last twenty meters that Weissmuller won the race, drawing away from the tiring Swede, who was all out in staving off Charlton for second place, the youthful Australian making up from 8 to 10 meters in the last hundred and would have been second in another breath.

Women Set World Mark.

The American women's 400-meter relay team started the sixth day of the Olympic competition this morning with a victory in world's record time. Their time for the 400 meters was 4 minutes 58 4-5 seconds. The members of the team were: Miss Gertrude Ederle, W. S. A., New York; Miss Euphrasia Donnelly, Indianapolis A. C.; Miss Ethel Lackie, Illinois A. C., and Miss Mariechen Wehselau, Honolulu.

Miss Ederle handed Miss Donnelly a lead of five meters after going the first 100 meters, and the Indianapolis girl more than held her own. Miss Lackie, at No. 3, gained a few more meters, so that Miss Wehselau took off for the last lap at least ten yards ahead of Miss Barker of Great Britain, her nearest competitor. The Honolulu girl increased this lead without apparent effort, finishing 18 1-5 seconds ahead of the Britisher, clipping 12 4-5 seconds from the former world's and Olympic record of 5 minutes 11 3-5 seconds.

Warren Kealoha of Hawaii won the final of the 100-meter back stroke event. His time of 1:13 1-5 broke the Olympic record. The contest resolved itself into a race between Kealoha and Wyatt, the two Americans, who never were threatened at any time by any of the other three competitors. Wyatt gave the Honolulu swimmer a hard race for about 75 meters but the bronze-skinned man pulled away at the finish, winning by more than 2 seconds when Wyatt faltered, unable to stand the fast pace set by the victor.

The United States men's 800-meter relay team, in winning the first semi-final and qualifying for the final, covered the distance in 9 miutes 59 2-5 seconds, which the Olympic committee announced broke the world's record. The team includes Wallace O'Connor, Venice Plunge, California; Ralph Brayer, Northwestern University; Harry Glancy, Cincinnati Y. M. C. A., and Richard Howell, Northwestern University. Sweden, Australia and Great Britain also qualified.

The victors easily defeated Italy in the first heat. The latter's time was 11 minutes 5 2-10 seconds. The other teams which qualified for the semi-finals were Sweden, Holland, Australia, Japan, France and Great Britain, which finished in the order named in the second, third and fourth heats. Czechoslovakia, which made the best time for the third position, was eliminated in the semi-finals.

Miss Geragthy Is Second.

Miss Morton of Great Britain won the final of the 200-meter women's breaststroke event, with Miss Agnes Geraghty of the Women's Swimming Association of New York second. Miss Geraghty, the lone representative of the United States, was unable to cope with the fine headwork shown by her three British rivals, the Misses Morton, Carson and Gilbert.

Miss Geraghty was never worse off than second throughout the event. In fact, she was leading for a greater part of the event, but she exhausted herself trying to follow Miss Gilbert, who set a terrific pace for the first 100 meters and then dropped back to permit her teammate, Miss Carson, to take the lead.

The American girl successfully held off the challenge of her second British rival, but had nothing left to hold back Miss Morton when the third of the Englishwomen came up with a burst of speed in the last fifty meters and touched the finish mark just three inches ahead of the American contestant, who was defeated but not disgraced.

Miss Morton's time of 3 minutes 33 1-5 seconds was at first announced as a world's record, but later this was repudiated by the committee, as scorebook documents showed that Miss L. Gilbert of Great Britain, who led for the first fifty meters in today's race, had turned in 3 minutes 20 2-5 seconds in 1922. It developed, however, that Miss Gilbert had made her record-breaking swim in a 25-meter tank, which gave her the advantage of four additional turns. The French Olympic Committee intends to ask the International Swimming Federation to ratify Miss Morton's time as a world record.

Miss Elizabeth Becker of the Ambassador Swimming Club of Atlantic City, N. J., won the final of the women's springboard fancy diving event. Miss Aileen Riggin, Women's Swimming Association of New York, was second and Miss Carol Fletcher of Pasadena, Cal., was third.

The flawless work of the Americans left no doubt of their superiority in the minds of the officials. The public, however, received the decision with hoots and jeers, some of the most excited even threatening to throw the judges into the pool. Calm was restored after a few minutes.

The spectators objected to Mlle. Bornett of Austria being placed last in the competition. It appeared that the French crowd desired to be fair toward representatives of their former enemy, but it was remarked by neutral observers that in this and other cases the French spectators seemed to err on the side of partiality toward the representatives of their former foes.

The United States water polo team tonight defeated Holland in the play-off of the tie for fifth place. Sweden scored over Belgium and gained sufficient points by doing so to move ahead of Great Britain in the general point standing.

I. A. A. F. RATIFIES 7 WORLD'S RECORDS

Accepts Le Gendre, Osborne and Two U. S. Relay Marks—Four Olympic Events Dropped.

PARIS, July 18 (Associated Press).—The Congress of the International Amateur Athletic Federation today ratified seven world's records and twelve Olympic records made during the recent track and field competition and eliminated four events from future Olympic programs. The events eliminated are the pentathlon, the 10,000-meter walk, the 3,000-meter team race and the 10,000-meter cross-country run.

Four out of the seven new world's records ratified were hung up by athletes from the United States. These were the marks made by Robert LeGendre, the former Georgetown star, in the broad jump in the pentathlon; by Harold Osborne, Illinois A. C., in his decathlon victory, and by the American relay teams in the 400-meter and 1,600-meter races.

The remaining world's records are credited to Willie Ritola of Finland for his new mark in the 10,000-meter run; to Æ. H. Liddell of England for his mark in the 400-meter event, and to A. W. Hunter of Australia for his new record in the hop, step and jump.

These marks also stand as new Olympic records. In addition to them, Paavo Nurmi of Finland established three Olympic marks for the distances of 1,500, 3,000 and 5,000 meters. The marks made by Osborne in the running high jump and by Clarence Houser in the discus throw complete the list.

The curtailment of the Olympic program decided upon is likely to affect especially such nations as Finland, which depend largely upon their distance runners. The three events of this class eliminated gave Finland 49 points out of the 166 she scored in the 1924 games.

Women's Doubles.

Miss Wills and Mrs. Wightman, United States, vs. Mrs. Covell and Miss McKane, Great Britain.

COLOMBES, France, July 18 (Associated Press).—America's two tennis aces, Miss Helen Wills and Vincent Richards, today won their way to the final round of the Olympic singles competitions, the California star disposing of Mme. A. G. Golding of France, 6—2, 6—1, and the American male star defeating Baron de Morpurgo of Italy, 6—3, 3—6, 6—1, 6—4.

Miss Wills will fight out the final with Mlle. Vlasto, French star, of Greek parentage, who defeated Miss Kathleen McKane of Great Britain, 0—6, 7—5, 6—1, while Richards will face in the final Henri Cochet of France, who defeated his countryman, Jean Borotra, 6—2, 5—7, 6—2, 6—3.

Richards and Francis T. Hunter of the United States reached the semi-final round in the men's doubles by defeating the Alonso brothers of Spain, 6—4, 6—4, 6—3, but R. Norris Williams 2d and Watson M. Washburn, the other American pair in the men's doubles, were eliminated by Condon and Richardson of South Africa in a desperate struggle by the score of 4—6, 11—9, 4—6, 6—4, 6—4.

Miss Wills and Mrs. George Wightman of the United States reached the final round in the women's doubles in a magnificent three-set victory over Mrs. Shepherd-Barron and Miss Evelyn Colyer of Great Britain, 6—3, 1—6, 7—5.

Williams and Mrs. Wightman of the United States reached the semi-final round of the mixed doubles competition by defeating Mme. Fick and M. Mueller of Sweden, 8—6, 6—2.

French to Meet Americans.

As a result of today's matches the finals of both the men's and women's singles for the tennis championships will be Franco-American affairs, while it is quite likely that France and America will again be the opposing nations for the title in the mens' doubles.

America also will be represented in the final of the women's doubles, which will be played tomorrow afternoon, with Miss Wills and Mrs. Wightman opposing Mrs. Phyllis Covell and Miss McKane of Great Britain.

The men's doubles have reached the semi-final stage, with Brugnon and Cochet of France in the upper half with Condon and Richardson of South Africa, while Richards and Hunter, the American pair, must face Borotra and Lacoste of France in the lower half.

Vincent Richards, in defeating Baron de Morpurgo of Italy, had things all his own way most of the time. The play was slow, both competitors being cautious on account of the high winds. Because of the fastness of the court and the unusual weather conditions, neither Richards nor his Italian rival tried volleying attacks except at long intervals. Baron de Morpurgo played a capable, sterling game, but, although he was flashy at times, he lacked the sound consistency of the American.

Richards won the first set easily. In the second the Italian, forcing the pace at a fast, hard clip, broke through the American's service to lead at 5—3, and then went out at 6—3 on his own service. After that Richards controlled the pace and won the match without difficulty.

Mme. Golding, playing against Miss Wills, won the first game at love on her own service, which was given a downward cutting twist off the racket and which took such an awkward bound that Miss Wills at first apparently found it puzzling. She soon got used to it, however, and after winning the second and third games went on confidently.

The Frenchwoman's back-hand strokes were a fatal weakness with Miss Wills as her opponent, for the American simply shot her own fast back hands diagonally across the court, making the Frenchwoman's battle almost a hopeless one.

Strong, gusty winds forced Miss Wills to stroke cautiously, and in consequence her play lacked the fire and nerve of which she is capable when forced to exert herself. The Frenchwoman offered her little resistance, however, and the match dragged in a rather dull manner to a conclusion which was manifest almost from the start.

FIRST SET.
Miss Wills	0	4	4	4	0	4	4	5—6
Mme. Golding	4	2	2	1	4	0	2	3—2
SECOND SET.
Miss Wills	6	4	5	4	4	3	4—6
Mme. Golding	4	0	3	0	2	5	2—1

Make a Strong Rally.

Miss Wills and Mrs. Wightman lost the first three games in the final set of their match with Mrs. Shepherd-Barron and Miss Colyer, and then made a fine up-hill fight until they led 4—3 in games. Then the British pair, whom the Americans had been unable to drive back from the net during the second set, again resumed their sharp volleying to lead, 5—4. Mrs. Wightman then won her service, she and Miss Wills afterward breaking through Miss Colyer's service. In the final game Miss Wills served with fierce speed and won a love game, sending over a hot service ace for the last point of the match.

The American pair set the pace in the first set, but the British took the offensive and held it all through the second, banging the ball crisply away from the net. The Americans tried everything to force the Englishwomen back, but fell into errors in doing so.

Half way in the match Miss Wills played sluggishly, as she had done against Mrs. Golding, but when the position became desperate toward the end it was her brilliance, added to Mrs. Wightman's steadiness, that pulled the match away from the Britons.

The match between Mlle. Vlasto and Miss McKane was much faster than the Wills-Golding duel. Mlle. Vlasto came into the tennis limelight only a year ago at the Riviera season, later going to Wimbledon where she was defeated before the semi-final stage of the tournament. The French finalist is petite and attractive. She is fast on her feet and relies almost entirely on the sureness of her driving from the rear of the court. Although Mlle. Vlasto represents France and was born in that country, she is of Greek parentage.

Mlle. Vlasto overcame Miss McKane by the dazzling brilliance of her driving from the back court. She never came to the net, but, after dropping the first set, she seldom allowed the British woman to come close to the dividing cord, all her criss-cross drives, both forehand and backhand, having a fine length and such stinging speed that Miss McKane, driven from one side of the court to the other, finally wilted and passed from the tournament.

The only American loss in today's battles came when Williams and Washburn were put out by Condon and Richardson. Williams, limping from the start, had the misfortune to fall during the second set and further injured his leg, so that he was unable to carry his part of the burden of attack and defense thereafter. Washburn covered most of the court and almost single-handed succeeded in staving off defeat until five sets had been completed, Williams having to confine himself to an occasional shot, as he was totally unable to do any running. Such shots as he did make were usually good ones and he got a great many placements.

WON 7 RACES IN 90 DAYS

Beat Twenty-three Rivals Over Courses From 2,000 Meters to 4 Miles at Home and Abroad.

PARIS, July 18 (Associated Press).—The Yale eight-oared crew, which won the Olympic championship yesterday, started to disband today after a fitting celebration of its international triumphs and the election of Alfred M. Wilson of Minneapolis as captain for 1925. Wilson pulls oar No. 3.

When the Yale men flashed across the line first by a wide margin in the Olympic finals they brought to a climax one of the most ambitious campaigns ever known to any American college crew. Unbeaten for two successive seasons, the young oarsmen accomplished one of the most astonishing feats in rowing annals this year, when in a period of two and a half months they won seven races and conquered twenty-three rivals at home and abroad over distances of from 2,000 meters to four miles.

Starting this triumphant march on May 3, the crew won five races and defeated thirteen rivals in the United States, and in the races over the Olympic course proved superior to ten eight-oared entries from all parts of the world.

It developed today that in the final against Great Britain, Canada and Italy the American eight let all the way, instead of trailing for the first 500 meters, as posted by the regatta officials during the progress of the race. Eyewitnesses declare that the Elis got off to a flying start and led their nearest rivals, the Canadians, by a third of a length after the first twenty strokes. This, it was said, was increased to half a length at the 500-meter mark, and a length and a quarter at the 1,000-meter mark, from where Yale romped away, winning by three and a half lengths.

Four members of the crew and Coxswain L. R. Stoddard remain as the nucleus of next year's eight-oared combination. They are A. M. Wilson, H. T. Kingsbury, B. M. Stock and Stroke J. D. Lindley. Those to be lost to the 1925 crew by graduation are J. S. Rockefeller, J. L. Miller, F. Sheffield and L. G. Carpenter.

Kilmer of Yonkers Pitches Americans to Victory in First Olympic Exhibition.

PARIS, July 18 (Associated Press).—Baseball, America's national pastime, gained recognition on the Olympic program for the first time today when the international games exhibition at the Colombes Stadium was enlivened by a diamond battle between the Ranelagh Club of Paris and a picked team of Americans. The United States nine, behind the masterly mound work of W. D. Kilmer of Yonkers, N. Y., who held the opposing team to a single hit, romped off with a 5-0 victory, while the French onlookers were alternately amazed by the crackling base hits and the characteristic bleacher "rotting" of the American section of the stands. Bobby Jones of New York and Sam Mintner, the former Yale star, led the Americans' batting attack. The winners' line-up was:

PARIS, July 18.—The gate receipts of the Olympic Games crossed the 6,000,000-franc mark last night. The largest items were association football, 1,798,000 francs; athletics, 1,626,000; rugby, 370,000, and polo, 350,000. The swimming receipts, however, with three more days yet to go, are already past the 300,000-franc mark. This sport probably will stand third as the money-maker.

The Olympic gate receipts were insured for 8,000,000 francs. A well-known British company which wrote the policy probably will be called upon to make up a deficit to the French committee of a sum ranging from one to one and one-half million francs. The insurance cost the committee a premium of 250,000 francs.

U. S. GYMNASTS ARE BEATEN

Fall to Score in Olympic Fixed and Parallel Bar Events.

COLOMBES, France, July 18.—The American Olympic gymnasts failed to score today either in the individual fixed-bar competition, which was won by Stukolz of Yugoslavia, or in the individual parallel bar contest, in which Guttinger of Switzerland took first place.

Czechoslovakia has been obliged to withdraw from all the gymnastic team events, Indruch, one of her best men having seriously injured himself during the individual competition this afternoon. The six members of the team will continue to compete in the various events, but their scores will count only for individual classification.

RAY RUNS IN VIENNA TODAY.

Copyright, 1924, by The Chicago Tribune Co.

VIENNA, July 18.—An American sextet of Olympic athletes will make their first appearance in Vienna tomorrow afternoon when they meet Austria's best and the star Finnish athletes in a triangle contest. The Americans who arrived here yesterday are Legendre, Norton, Macdonald, Larravee, Joie Ray and Lieb.

SPOONER HOLDS LEAD.

Tops Field in Tryouts for U. S. Infantry Match Rifle Team.

FORT NIAGARA, N. Y., July 18.—Captain L. S. Spooner, military instructor at the University of Pennsylvania, to day maintained his lead in the United States Army tryouts for the infantry national match rifle team, shooting 286, high score of the day, for a total of 1,411 out of a possible 1,500, against 1,407 shot by Lieutenant H. B. Sheets of Scofield Barracks, Hawaii, his nearest competitor. Lieutenant Sheets scored 282 for today.

Other scores were Lieutenant M. L. Broderick, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., 281; for a total of 1,405 third place; Lieutenant L. V. Jones Fort Benning, Ga., national rifle champion, 284, for a total of 1397 fourth place and Sergeant P. F. Mollerstrom, Fort Cook, Neb., 285, second highest score of the day, for a total of 1,396, fifth place.

PARIS, July 18 (Associated Press). The United States is leading Finland, its nearest rival, for all-round Olympic honors by a more than two to one margin under the French committee's scoring system, on the completion of nine branches of the international competition. The United States thus far has won five championship titles—rugby, shooting, track and field, catch-as-catch-can wrestling and rowing—with the certainty of adding swimming and probably tennis to the list.

Applying to each sport the same system of points used in the individual events, the point standing follows:

Country.	Points.	Country.	Points.
United States	63	France	20
Finland	30	Sweden	18½
Great Britain	23	Uruguay	10
Norway	20¼	Argentina	10

BOARD SAYS WALKER MUST MEET SHADE

Will Revoke Licenses of All Involved if Walker-Leonard Bout Is Held First.

OFFICIALS SUMMON RICKARD

Also Call Manager Gibson to the Meeting—Both Remain Silent on Brower's Ultimatum.

The New York State Athletic Commission took quick action in making clear its attitude toward the announced twelve-round no-decision contest between Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world, and Benny Leonard, world's lightweight titleholder, which has been scheduled for Jersey City Aug. 21, when Chairman George E. Brower announced at the conclusion of the meeting of the board yesterday that unless Walker first defended his title against Dave Shade in a decision bout, all those implicated in the participation and promotion of the proposed Walker-Leonard bout in Jersey would lose their boxing privileges in this State.

This means, he explained, that unless Walker fought Shade, the board's recognized leading challenger for the welterweight title, prior to Aug. 21, Tex Rickard, promoter of the Walker-Leonard match, would lose his license; Walker, who now holds no license to box in this State, would become ineligible to receive a permit, and that Leonard, whose New York license has also expired, would be placed in a similar position if the Jersey bout is held. Also, Chairman Brower made it clear, Billy Gibson, manager for Leonard, would suffer the same penalty as Rickard, despite the fact that Leonard and not Gibson is understood to have signed the contract calling for the Jersey bout, as the commission recognizes him as Leonard's manager and holds him responsible. Both Rickard and Gibson had been summoned before the commission yesterday and questioned regarding the Jersey match before Brower's announcement was made.

In issuing his statement, however, Chairman Brower emphasized the point that the New York body was not attempting to tell the New Jersey authorities what fights it could or could not hold and that, as a matter of fact, it was not interested directly in where Walker and Leonard fought. The point of issue, he said, was that the New York commission had decided to revert to its original stand that Walker must defend his title against Shade before meeting anybody else and that failure to do so would put him on the ineligible list, which would mean that all those enjoying boxing privileges in this State would lose those privileges should they have any boxing associations with Walker.

Might Reconsider Bout.

He stated that the commission would have entertained a decision bout between Walker and Leonard and that it had reinstated Walker on the promise that a decision bout with Leonard would be held, the winner to meet Shade. But now that this promise has been broken, declared Brower, even this offer has been withdrawn by the board. He added, however, that a Leonard-Walker fight to a decision might be reconsidered by the board were it proposed again.

"The Commission," stated Chairman Brower at the conclusion of the meeting, "summoned Mr. Rickard and Mr. Gibson today and asked them whether it were true that Walker and Leonard had been signed to meet in a no-decision contest in Jersey City on Aug. 21. We were told this was so. Now, we are not interested at all where Leonard and Walker fight. But it has been our attitude from the first to compel champions to defend their titles, for we consider it only fair to the boys in the profession that they have the opportunity to reach the top. So when some time ago Walker failed to comply with our request that he meet Shade, whom this board recognized as the leading challenger for the welterweight championship, we declared Walker ineligible to box in this State. Later, when Walker came to us and sought reinstatement he was told that permission to box in this State would be granted to him provided he agreed to defend his title against Shade. Then Walker and Gibson, acting for Leonard, sought permission to hold a Leonard-Walker bout first, and this we also consented to when Gibson and Walker shook hands and gave me their solemn promise that Leonard and Walker would fight in a State permitting decision contests, with the winner to meet Shade.

Must Box Shade First.

"We now learn that this agreement has been broken and we informed Mr. Rickard and Mr. Gibson today that we will not allow anybody to meet Walker before he meets Shade, and that if anybody lends aid in the promotion of a bout that will interfere with Walker first defending his title against Shade in a decision fight, he shall incur the displeasure of this board. And that does not mean suspensions, but licenses revoked. We also made it clear that our offer to permit Leonard and Walker to fight to a decision was now off, although we might reconsider this."

When asked how soon the commission would act in view of the fact that the Leonard-Walker bout already has been definitely announced for Jersey City, Chairman Brower said: "As soon as we have evidence of active participation and promotion in the bout."

Rickard, after the meeting, said he had no comment to make on the commission's attitude, but would have something to say in a few days. Gibson also refrained from making any comment.

LEVINE DEFEATS SPENCER.

Hilly Levine, Coney Island bantamweight, substituting for Charlie (Phil) Rosenberg, won the decision from Wee Willie Spencer of Chinatown in a slashing twelve-round bout at the Steeplechase A. A. in Rockaway Beach last night. The bout was featured by hard slugging throughout, with Spencer scoring knockdowns in the first and ninth rounds. Levine, however, made a very strong finish to gain the honors. The weights were 121½ for Levine and 120 for Spencer. Tommy Lynch of the East Side, weighing 122, lost to Herman (Kid) Silvers of Harlem, weighing 120½, in the other twelve-rounder.

6 AMERICAN BOXERS REACH SEMI-FINALS

ROCKWELL IS ELIMINATED

SEMI-FINAL QUALIFIERS.

United States	6	Norway	2
Argentina	4	Spain	1
France	3	Sweden	1
Canada	3	South Africa	[illegible]
Belgium	3	Ireland	1
Denmark	3	Italy	1
Great Britain	2	Holland	1

PARIS, July 18 (Associated Press)—The Olympic boxing competition in the Velodrome d'Hiver advanced to the semi-final rounds today, with six Americans qualifying for the semi-finals. Six other United States boxers, however, were eliminated during the course of the day.

Fidel Labarba, the Los Angeles flyweight, handily defeated Rennie of Canada in a one-sided bout. In the first round the Californian landed early to the ribs and then to the chest and head with short, choppy lefts and rights, driving the Canadian to the ropes. In the second he sent Rennie down for the count of four with a right to the jaw. The Canadian was saved by the gong. Labarba tried infighting in the third round and knocked his opponent down for a count of two.

Jackie Williams, the American bantamweight, defeated Benjamin Pertuzzo of Argentina on points. The Argentinean lost after one of the gamest fights of the Olympic bouts. He led the milling from the start, but his Firpo-like swings were often wild and he was pitted against one of the cleverest dodgers of the American team.

Fee Wins Close Match.

Ray Fee, the San Francisco flyweight, defeated Bergstroom, the Swedish hope, in a closely contested bout in which Fee led in the first and second rounds but took a great deal of punishment in the third. In the opening round Fee landed strong jabs to the stomach at will and in the second reached the Swede's head and jaw with left and right uppercuts, thoroughly outboxing him. Bergstroom, with a burst of speed, broke down the American's guard in the third and waltzed him around the ring, pummeling him mercilessly. Fee was obviously pretty well exhausted, but he rallied at the end.

Joe Salas of Los Angeles won from Pertrarca of Italy, who was disqualified for a foul in the second round, after he had landed five blows, three in the first round and two in the second round, which the referee considered low. The foul blows looked unintentional, as the speed of Salas throughout the bout seemed to cause his opponent to hit low.

Fred Boylstein of Pittsburgh defeated Genon of Belgium, leading on points throughout the bout. The Belgian, after having his right eye damaged badly in the first exchange of blows, tried infighting, in which the American easily was his master. In the second round Boylstein carried the fight to his opponent, but in the third he seemed to be tiring and was unable to hit as hard as he had in the earlier rounds.

Jack Fields of Los Angeles, Cal., featherweight, defeated Abarca of Chile on points. Fields won in one of the most closely contested bouts of the day purely by superiority of skill. The Chilean led the fight from the start, but found it impossible to break through the guard of the Californian sixteen-year-old. Toward the end of the first round he got through to the American's stomach, but before the end of the round Fields showed a burst of aggressiveness and got to the South American's jaw with a stiff right. The second round ended with the honors almost even, but the crowd showed its dissatisfaction with the verdict.

New Yorker Meets Defeat.

In the light heavyweight class Petersen of Denmark defeated George Mulholland of Indianapolis, on points. Mulholland gave the "Melancholy Dane" heavy body punishment throughout the first round, landing heavily about the ribs. The second round saw fierce infighting, and during the session Mulholland landed stiffly to his opponent's head. Petersen carried the fight to the American at the start of the third, but Mulholland spun him around with a well-placed right to the stomach, followed by a right to the jaw.

Petersen had the advantage both in height and reach, but was slimmer than the stocky American boy. The Dane was obviously fatigued at the end of the bout. The decision in this fight was more strenuously challenged by the spectators than any other of the many that have been criticized.

Al Mello of Lowell, Mass., welterweight, was defeated by Mendez of Argentina. During the early part of the bout the American mixed it with wicked rights and lefts, seriously rocking his rival. In the third round, however, the Lowell boy, worn out by the speed of the encounter, was so tired that he fell into a number of clinches. At one time the referee called him for holding when the American's action seemed involuntary. Mendez kept up a rapid cross-fire of rights and lefts, and was at it when the bout ended.

Kirby Fights Gamely.

In his bout with Kirby, Sorsdal was warned twice for holding. Kirby, battling gamely, was the aggressor most of the time, but the Scandinavian employed his advantages of height, weight and reach in good fashion and landed on the jaw of the American most effectively several times. Kirby ended the bout in a whirlwind rally, landing flush on the Norseman's chin just before the final bell. The decision was regarded by the spectators as a close one.

Porzio, the Argentine slugger, climbed another rung of the ladder toward the Olympic heavyweight crown when he gained his decision over Greathouse. A sensational come-back by the American in the third and last round almost turned the tide of the winning battle the South American had put up. Porzio, owing to superior physical condition, and the added advantage of height, weight and reach, piled up numerous points in the first two rounds over Greathouse, who had risen from a sick-bed to take his place in the ring against the Argentine. The American had been suffering from acute indigestion, which had affected his heart, and late this afternoon the doctors had said he would be unable to enter the ring. Later, however, they permitted the Washington boy to do his bit.

Porzio, who had outpointed Greathouse in the first round, found the true range in the second, landing effectively on the jaw and body of the American, twice flooring him with vicious uppercuts for counts of four and two. Greathouse, however, gamely stuck to his guns. The last round saw Greathouse rally and carry a fierce attack to Porzio. The American lost several good opportunities to defeat his opponent through wildness, due to overanxiety, while the South American was content to play safe with the good lead he already had.

Posta of Hungary Captures Sabre Title in Olympics

PARIS, July 18 (Associated Press). —Posta of Hungary today won the Olympic individual sabre competition. Ducret of France was second, and Gari of Hungary, third. Each of the three scored five victories and two degeats, but they fenced off the ties. Schenker of Hungary was fourth, Dejong of Holland, fifth; Ossier of Denmark, sixth, and Conraux of France, seventh. Casco of Argentina was eighth.

POLO BODY SHIFTS U. S. COMBINATION

WEBB MAY BE MOVED BACK

Other Changes Contemplated in Effort to Strengthen Team—Army to Play Californians.

The Defense Committee of the United States Polo Association will shake up the tentative four selected to defend the International Challenge Cup against Great Britain, when the second trial match is played on the field at Meadow Brook this afternoon. J. Watson Webb again will be at No. 1, with Thomas Hitchcock Jr. at No. 2 and Devereux Milburn at back, but Robert E. Strawbridge, Jr. will replace Malcolm Stevenson at the pivot position in the effort to get more team work. The opposition will consist of Louis E. Stoddard at No. 1, Eric Pedley at No. 2, Stevenson at No. 3 and J. Cheever Cowdin at back.

It is no secret that the Defense Committee was not overly pleased with the showing of the tentative four in its first appearance on Thursday and there probably will be several changes in the line-up before a combination is finally selected to face the British horsemen in September. A great deal will depend on how young Strawbridge works in with the rest of the team this afternoon. If he should fail to add strength to the American four it is probable that Webb will be moved back to his position at No. 3, which he so capably occupied in 1921, when the representatives of the United States brought back the historic trophy to this country. In that case some of the strong contenders for the No. 1 position will be tried out. Included in this list are Major A. H. Wilson of the Army and Eric Pedley from the Pacific Coast. As both of these players will be occupied next month in competing in the National Junior Championship tournament at Rumson, where the Army and California teams are expected to be the outstanding contenders, both of them probably will receive a test in one of the three matches scheduled for next week.

The teams this afternoon will be more evenly matched and the going should be much faster than that seen at Meadow Brook on the occasion of the first test match. The tentative team will aggregate a handicap rating at 37 goals, Webb being handicapped at 9, Hitchcock at 10, Strawbridge at 8 and Milburn at 10, while the opposition will be a twenty-nine goal combination, Stoddard carrying a rating of 8, Pedley 6, Stevenson 9 and Cowdin 6. In the first match there was a difference of 11 goals between the two teams, this afternoon there will be a margin of only 8. However, as long as the tentative four is allowed to use the pick of the international ponies there is bound to be a greater margin in favor of the Blues than there appears in the official ratings.

The officials in charge of the international trial matches realize that the public is anxious to see the candidates in action before the first match is played against the British, and so this afternoon's game will start at 4 o'clock instead of at 5:30, as was the case on Thursday.

Another interesting encounter is scheduled for the Piping Rock Field at 3:30 this afternoon, when the Army four, which has won the National Junior title for the last two seasons, and which will defend it next month at Rumson, faces the Californians who are here to lift the title. The Army team will consist of Major A. H. Wilson, Captain C. A. Wilkinson, Lieutenant J. A. Smith Jr. and Major Louis Beard, while the Californians will use a substitute to fill in for Pedley, their regular No. 2, who will be engaged in the international trial.

MERCUR CONQUERS TWO TENNIS STARS

BOSTON, July 18.—Fritz Mercur of Philadelphia today flashed as a new star of the first magnitude in the American tennis constellation by his defeat in the Longwood Bowl tennis singles play of two nationally ranked players, Wallace F. Johnson of Philadelphia, placed twelfth, and Nathaniel W. Niles of Boston, who stood nineteenth among last year's tennis stars.

Mercur, showing a great versatility in play, defeated Niles, 2—6, 6—4, 6—3, and outscored Johnson, 6—3, 7—5. Tomorrow he will play Lawrence B. Rice of Boston for a leg on the eighth Longwood trophy, which in recent years has been held by the greatest stars of the country—W. M. Johnston, W. T. Tilden 2d and R. N. Williams.

Against Niles's base-line play Mercur employed a change of length which upset his opponent's style of game. Shifting tactics against Wallace Johnson, the most scientific exponent of the chop stroke, the Lehigh University undergraduate, who is 21 years old, relied entirely on chops and slices. Prime physical condition and perfect control enabled him to defeat Johnson at the latter's own style of play.

The Longwood doubles reached the semi-final round, which will be played tomorrow morning. Another of the seeded teams was eliminated when Harry C. Johnson and Wallace F. Johnson were defeated by Irving Weinstein of San Francisco and C. O. Wellington of Boston, 2 sets to 1.

The summaries:

Singles, Fifth Round—Wallace F. Johnson, Cynwyd, Pa., defeated Jerome Lang, New York, 6—3, 6—1; Fitz Mercur, Philadelphia, defeated N. W. Niles, Boston, 2—6, 6—4, 6—3; Lewis N. White, Austin, Texas, won from G. P. Gardner Jr., Boston, by default; Lawrence B. Rice, Boston, defeated Irving Weinstein, San Francisco, 9—7, 6—2.

Godfrey to Box Townsend.

George Godfrey, the Philadelphia negro heavyweight, and Jack Townsend, who has been substituted for Jack McAuliffe, will meet in the featured bout of twelve rounds at the Commonwealth Sporting Club in Harlem tonight. Flyweights will appear in another twelve on the card, Giovanni Salerno of Newark meeting Bobby Risden of Harlem.

12 RIDERS GO DOWN IN VELODROME SPILL

WALKER AND BECKMAN WIN

Capture 100-Kilometer Race Before 14,000 Fans in 2 Hours 16 Minutes and 30 4-5 Seconds.

The worst spill of the season at the New York Velodrome occurred during the seventh sprint of the 100-kilometer (62½ miles) team race last night. Twelve riders crashed to the track, and all were badly banged up, but luckily none was seriously injured, and with the exception of Freddie Spencer, who broke his wheel in the mix-up, all were able to return to the track after the track physician had bandaged up their injuries.

Gus Merkle was out in front, and Reggie McNamara, in going around him going into the back stretch, chopped down on Merkle, causing him to fall, and McNamara with him. The other riders tried to avoid the fallen riders, but ten of them went down too. They were Arthur Spencer, Freddie Spencer, Harris Horder, Fred Hill, Dave Lands, Charles Kuntz, Lloyd Thomas, Les Hammond, Chris Rotterweich and Mike Deorio. Hill and Deorio hit the bleacher fence on the back stretch and received bad lacerations of the head.

Referee Kramer held that Willie Keller had been guilty of rough riding in this sprint and was indirectly responsible for the spill, and after Keeler won the sprint, Kramer disqualified him.

The race was decided on a point basis with a sprint every two miles for points which scored 7 for first, 3 for second, 2 for third, and 1 for fourth, until the last sprint, which counted 25 for first, 15 for second, 10 for third and 5 for fourth.

Walker and Beckman won the race with 88 points, Goullet and Horder were second with 71 points, McNamara and Piani third with 51 points, McBeath and Keller fourth with 48 points, Horan and Grimm fifth with 42 points, Grenda and Hill sixth with 37 points, Coburn and Verraes seventh with 26 points, Lawrence and Klockler eighth with 21 points.

Walker won the last sprint from Keller, Grimm and Goullet. Keller, however, was disqualified for foul riding when he struck his elbow in Goullet's ribs as Goullet battled to get around him. This rough work on the part of Keller probably cost Goullet the race, for he was on his way around to win the sprint when Keller hindered him. The fans booed and hooted Keller for his foul riding. The riders covered the distance in 2 hours 16 minutes 30 4-5 seconds.

Walker and Beckman won the race by consistent riding. Each won four sprints. Walker also got a second and a fourth while Beckman got a third and fourth.

100-Kilometer Team Race (Professional)—Won by Cecil Walker, Australia and Anthony Beckman, Secaucus, N. J. (88 points); Alfred Goullet, Newark, and Harris Horder, Australia (71 points), second; Reggie McNamara, Newark, and Orlando Piani, Italy (51 points), third; Alex McBeath, Australia, and Willie Keller, Newark (48 points), fourth; Harry Horan, Newark, and Willie Grimm (42 points), fifth; Alfred Grenda, Tasmania, and Fred Hill, Boston (37 points), sixth; Willie Coburn, Kearny, and Alfons Verreas, Belgium (26 points), seventh; Percy Lawrence, Newark, and Ernest Klocker, Chicago (21 points), eighth; Tim Bello, Brooklyn, and Lloyd Thomas, Newark (19 points), ninth. Time—2:16:30 4-5.

TILDEN EASY VICTOR IN ILLINOIS TENNIS

GLENCOE, Ill., July 18.—Play in men's singles and doubles advanced to the semi-final rounds in the Illinois State championships today. There was but one surprise of moment, the defeat of Gerald Patterson, brawny captain of the Australian Davis Cup squad, by Brian I. C. Norton, wiry South African, who now makes his home in St. Louis.

Experts who have watched Patterson through this and other tournaments this season said the big fellow did not let himself out; that he did not wish to play through to William T. Tilden, the national champion, on clay courts, and that he was saving himself for the Davis Cup matches.

As a result of today's singles matches Norton will meet in the semi-finals Howard Kinsey of San Francisco, who won from his fellow townsman, C. J. Griffin, 9—7, 6—1. In the upper brackett semi-finals, Tilden will oppose A. H. Chapin, Springfield, Mass., who with ease defeated Albert Green of Chicago, who produced the big upset of the tournament yesterday in eliminating Harvey Snodgrass of Los Angeles. Tilden's opponent today was Fred Kalms of Australia, whose tennis is virtually unknown in this country. Kalms proved no match for the champion's side line cannonading and court strategy and lost 6—1, 7—5.

The most interesting of the doubles matches was the defeat of Tilden and his partner, Sandy Wiener of Philadelphia by George Lott and Axel Grave, both of Chicago, by 3—6, 6—1, 6—3. The Kinsey brothers of San Francisco, national titleholders, easily disposed of Chapin and Williams, 6—3, 6—2, to enter the semi-finals. They will meet Morton and Brown of St. Louis, who defeated Wesbrook and Snodgrass, both of Los Angeles. In the other half of the semi-finals, Patterson and Wood, Australia, who defeated Griffin and Bettens, San Francisco, will meet Lott and Grave.

Miss Marion Leighton, Chicago, who defeated Mrs. Leo Alter, also of Chicago, for the Western women's singles title at Indianapolis two weeks ago, will have the same opponent in the final here as a result of today's semi-finals. Miss Leighton eliminated Doris Kensel of Chicago, 6—4, 6—4, while Mrs. Alter was winning from Mrs. Ruth Riese of Saginaw, Mich., by the same score.

SAKMAN LOSES TO POWERS.

Trinity Club Star Is Beaten in Semi-Final at Handball.

One of the biggest upsets of the metropolitan handball singles championships, being conducted on the courts of the Washington Baths, was sprung yesterday when Bob Powers of the Van Kelton Club defeated William Sakman of the Trinity Club in the round before the semi-final.

Sakman, a joint holder of the national doubles title, was a heavy favorite over Powers and easily took the first game, 21—14. Powers came back strong and overwhelmed the Trinity Club star in the next two games, 21—5, 21—11.

YANKS BREAK EVEN AS PENNOCK WINS

MEUSEL'S DOUBLE TIMELY

The Yankees broke even yesterday and got just what an even break deserves. They gained a half game on the Senators in the American League pennant scramble, but lost it right back to Ty Cobb's rampant Tigers. The Washingtonians diplomatically lost a nine-inning decision to the St. Louis Browns. The Jungaleers were not so thoughtful. They upset the Boston Red Sox and moved into a tie for second place. This morning the home hopes lead the procession by a full game, but they can feel the hot breaths of their pursuers.

For thirty minutes yesterday the New Yorkers were back in a tie for first place. That was after the Indians had won the first game in the stadium, 9 to 2, and before the Senators' game began. But one of the best things the Yanks do is win when they have to. Just when it looked as if the Indians had them on the run they turned around and captured the second contest almost as decisively as they had lost the first. The score was 7 to 2.

To Herb Pennock, the slim little left-hander, must go the credit for the sharp about face of his team. He put the Tribe in its place in the twilight encounter and kept it there, thus restoring the good humor of more than 20,000 fans who had just about given up hope after the dismal doings in the early part of the afternoon.

Pennock did not pitch one of his best games, but it was good enough and it served. The Indians hit him just as hard as his mates hit George Uhle, but with far less successful results, as the score shows. Hits mean little when they don't mean runs in baseball, and very few of Cleveland's counted except in the batting averages. Charley Jamieson made one that did, for he knocked a home run clear to the left centre field wall in the eighth, and Walter Lutzke got in another effective blow when he tripled after George Burns had singled in the fifth. Those were the only two markers that the enemy made off the Kenneth Square portsider.

Yanks Get Early Start.

The champions, on the other hand, made nearly as many runs as hits off Uhle and lost little time doing it. Witt singled to start the home half of the first and after Dugan had skied to Jamieson, Ruth poled one to right that sent Witt to third. Lank Bob Meusel then hoisted a long sacrifice fly to centre which wafted Witt home. That was one and in the third the Ruppert Rifles got two more.

Ruth went out on an easy grounder, but Uhle plunked Meusel in the ribs with the ball, and after Chick Fewster had taken care of Pipp with a sparkling play, Wallie Schang rapped a single to right that sent Meusel over. Wallie then stole second so that he could score when Ward tilted a safety to left.

Ruth beat out an infield hit to start the fifth that developed into run number four on Pipp's double to right, and in the sixth Huggins's hustlers tossed in three more and sewed the game up for good and all.

In this session Uhle lost control and issued three passes and all three of them made Yankee runs when Meusel lifted a double which fell safely between Speaker and Summa. It was a lucky hit, for two were out at the time, and it was a ball that Speaker ordinarily would have caught. Tris waited on Summa, however, until it was too late. It made no great difference, as the Yanks would have won anyhow.

Seventh Inning Decides Games.

It was veteran against veteran in the first frolic, the ancient Sherry Smith opposing the equally ancient Joe Bush. Bullet Joe had little up his red sleeves with which to deceive. In fact, he was so easy to hit that only a generous measure of good luck kept him in the running at all. He was in the hole so much in the first few innings that he felt lonesome when there was nobody on the bases.

The enemy made at least one hit off him in every inning and in only one frame did they fail to have a runner left. That was when Fewster was trapped off first in the fifth. The Clevelanders made two runs in the first, one in the second, five in the seventh and one in the eighth.

Singles by Jamieson, Sewell and Brower and a pass to Myatt were made the medium of the first two runs. The third developed out of Lutzke's single, a sacrifice and Jamieson's second hit in two innings.

After that Bush tightened, and, aided by good support and the breaks, escaped further scoring until the seventh. There was no escaping the bats of Speaker's sluggers in that inning. Bush walked Big Chief Tris and Sewell golfed the ball over Meusel's head for a triple on which his boss rode home. Myatt, who is larger than Sewell, felt that he should hit one further. He did, the ball sailing serenely into the shirt-sleeved, right-field bleacher crowd.

As Myatt walked around the bases Bush walked the plank and Al Mamaux meandered in from the bull pen. The pitchers had changed, but not the Indians. They kept right on slamming the ball. Brower doubled to right and Fewster bunted safely along the first base line. This tiny tap turned out to be just as good as a double when Mamaux threw the ball past Ward in making a belated play for Fewster at first, Brower scrambling home and Chick to second. Fewster went to third when the ball slipped out of Mamaux's hand just as he was about to deliver it and scored from there while Scott and Pipp were erasing Lutzke and Smith with a double play. The next and last of the Cleveland counters was the product of Summa's single, Speaker's walk, an out and a wild pitch by George Pipgras, who pitched the eighth and ninth innings after Horan had batted for Mamaux in the last of the seventh.

Homer for Meusel.

Meusel made half the Yanks' runs with his homer inside the park in the second inning. Fast fielding by Speaker came close to holding the hit to a triple, but the ball rolled right up against the "You can't yank 'em out" sign in centre and that was what Bob Shawkey, coaching on third base, thought. He sent Meusel in and was justified, for Sewell's relay to the plate was wide and Bob came over standing up.

Bush proved that his eye was better than his arm by making his second hit in the fifth, a double over first base. Witt was no help, hitting straight at Smith, who trapped Bush between second and third and ran him down unassisted. Witt sneaked to second while Bush was being wiped out and came home from there on Dugan's single.

Caught at the Plate.

Six straight for Pennock.

The Indians were on the warpath in that first game, but the Ruppert Rifles ambushed them in the second.

A detachment of the 104th Field Artillery, N. Y. National Guard, paraded between the games. Private Babe Ruth is a member of the organization. It is a military secret, but in the next war the 104th intends to have Private Ruth bat baseballs at the enemy.

That makes it certain that America will have the long-range gun of the next little unpleasantness between nations. The other side will have to be equipped with ball gloves as well as gas masks.

Speaker got one of the biggest hands of the day in the second game. The Texas Ranger raced from over in right to short centre to rob Schang of a hit with a catch at his shoetops.

It was a holiday crowd in size and spirit if not in fact.

Somebody threw a ball which had been hit into the crowd back into the diamond in the second game. The souvenir hunters' club groaned for five minutes.

Both teams kept watching the score board. That's a sign the pennant race is close.

Huggins' pitching staff is so scrambled it is hard to guess who he is going to work next, probably either Jones or Shawkey today. Speaker has Edwards and Coveleskie available.

Adams Drives In Both Runs in Game Against Phillies.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Adams's timely batting today gave Chicago a 2 to 1 victory over Philadelphia in a ten-inning pitching duel. Adams drove in the first run for the Cubs in the sixth, and with the bases filled his single broke up the game in the tenth. Sensational fielding behind Aldridge prevented the Phillies from winning.

PITTSBURGH POUNDS 3 GIANT PITCHERS

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURGH, July 18.—Two Giant pitchers went down before a Pirate attack today and a third, while he managed to survive, felt the force of it, so that the Giants were beaten again, this time by a count of 9 to 2.

Jack Bentley started for the Giants but did not get far, the first three men to face him driving him to the showers.

Wayland Dean came next, but was hammered out in the second inning. The downfall of the youngster brought Claude Jonnard in from the bull pen, and though in the main Jonnard's pitching was good enough, he was tapped for three runs in the remaining innings. The Pirates collected seventeen hits and were aided in their scoring by wretched fielding by the Giants, the outfielders being the chief offendes.

Knocked out of the box in the first inning of the first game of the series and sent back at the Giants today, Wilbur Cooper reversed the decision registered against him in the opener. He yielded nine hits, three of which came in the first inning, when he seemed in danger of being beaten again. Once he had passed the first inning he moved along smoothly and the Giants didn't have a chance with him.

Frank Frisch and Irish Meusel were the only Giant batters to bother the veteran southpaw. Each made three hits, Frisch scoring both runs and Meusel driving both over the plate.

Barnhart's Smart Play.

Chiefly because of a smart play by Barnhart, the Giants were held to one run in the first inning. Frisch and Southworth singled after Young had been retired, and Meusel also singled, his hit going to the right field. Barnhart, quickly figuring he had only a slim chance to throw Frisch out at the plate, threw to third base instead and overtook the surprised Southworth, who had looked for a throw to the plate. Kelly then boosted a long fly to Barnhart. Had the previous play been made on Frisch this would have been a sacrifice fly, which would have scored Southworth. Actually, it was nothing but the third out.

Bentley got short shrift when the Pirates went to bat. A triple by Maranville, a single by Carey and a triple by Cuyler resulted in two runs and the disappearance of the big southpaw. Dean was nicked for a single by Wright that scored Cuyler. Then Wright stole second, Barnhart flied to Meusel, Traynor singled to right, putting Wright on third, and took second on the throw-in, but a curious double play prevented further scoring. Wright was trapped and run down between third base and the plate when Grimm hit to Frisch. During the play Grimm raced to second, to find Traynor still in possession of that base, so that he was easily doubled up when Young, rushing in from right field, took a throw from Groh.

The second inning was another bad one for all the Giants, and for Dean and Southworth in particular, Dean being batted out and Southworth making two errors. Smith opened with a double to left and scored on a single to Cooper, who went down to second when Southworth fumbled. Cooper remained at second when Dean tossed out Maranville, but scored when Carey singled to centre. Again Southworth fumbled and Carey kept on to the middle bag, to score when Cuyler singled to left. Meusel's throw to the plate sent Cuyler to second in position to score, but this didn't bother Jonnard, who replaced Dean at this point. Jonnard proceeded to turn back Wright and Barnhart, both on foul flies.

Southworth Makes Amends.

Southworth turned in a fine play in the fourth inning that prevented the scoring of a run by the Pirates and made up in part for his bobbles in the second. Bill made a circus catch of a drive by Carey, first man at bat, taking an extra base blow away from him. The value of the catch was demonstrated when Cuyler followed it with a single to centre.

A muff by Meusel and a moment of indecision by Jackson were primarily responsible for a Pirate run in the fifth inning. Barnhart flied to Meusel, who dropped the ball, the batter reaching second base. Traynor hit to Jackson, who was undecided whether to throw to first base or third. Finally he threw to first base too late to get Traynor, Barnhart having reached third base in safety. The runners held to their posts when Meusel gathered in Grimm's short fly, but a squeeze play, with Smith sacrificing, sent Barnhart over the plate.

In the sixth inning the Giants coupled a three-base hit by Frisch with a single by Meusel for a run.

Snyder got only one base on a hit to the left-field fence in the seventh inning after two were out, and Jonnard walked, but nothing came of this, for Young popped to Maranville.

Infield hits by Wright and Barnhart, a long fly by Traynor and the retirement of Grimm in the seventh inning went into the making of another run for the Pirates. Singles by Cooper and Carey, with Maranville's out coming between, netted the Pirates another run in the eighth.

RIXEY HOLDS ROBINS TO 3 HITS; WINS, 4-0

SOUTHPAW ADDS TO RECORD

CINCINNATI, July 18.—Eppa Rixey, the tall left-hander, held the Robins to three sactfered singles here today and shut them out, the Reds winning by a score of 4 to 0 and making it three straight over the Brooklyn club. Wheat, Griffith and DeBerry made the only Robin hits, but none of them got as far as second base. Rixey did not walk a man and pitched to only twenty-nine batters. Eppa has not been scored on in his last thirty-one innings.

Rube Ehrhardt made his début for the Robins and went the route. He allowed nine hits, five of which were crowded into the first two frames.

In the first inning the Reds filled the bases with two out on infield hits by Daubert and Hargrave and a pass to Duncan, but Walker ended the session with a grounder to Klugman. Ehrhardt was found for three hits in the next session, and the Reds scored their first tally. Pinelli led off with the first of his tthree singles, and reached third on Caveney's single to right. Rixey hit into a double play, but Pinelli scored as it was being executed. Critz then singled, but died stealing.

The Reds went without another run until two were out in the sixth, when they scored their last three tallies. Hargrave started the rally with a single to left and Walker drew a pass. Pinelli singled and Hargrave scored. Caveney followed with a single to left and Walker counted, while Pinelli reached third. On the throw to third Caveney advanced to second, and, with Rixey at bat, the two men worked the double steal, Pinelli stealing home and Caveney third. Rixey then popped to Stock.

Jimmie Johnston was out of the game. He was spiked on his left kneecap yesterday, and Andy High covered short; while Klugman was sent to second. High accepted seven chances without an error, and it was his twenty-first consecutive contest in which he played through without being charged with a misplay. He has accepted his last 119 chances.

Colonel Huston, once half owner of the Yankees, visited President Ebbets and Manager Robinson here today, and when his appearance in town was made known rumors that he is about to buy part of the Robins were revived. When asked about the report, Ebbets said there was no truth in it. Ebbets added that he is going to stay in baseball until he dies.

CARDS TROUNCE BRAVES.

Drive Genewich From Mound in the First Inning and Win, 10-4.

ST. LOUIS, July 18.—Driving Genewich from the box in the first inning with five hits and as many runs, and continuing their attack against Lucas, Benton and Yeargin, the Cardinals won the fourth game of the series from Boston today, 10 to 4. The victory today makes it four straight for St. Louis, Haines pitching a no-hit no-run game for the Cardinals yesterday. The Cardinals went into sixth place, the Braves dropping to seventh.

ERROR HELPS ATHLETICS.

Mostil's Misplay Paves Way for 2 Runs and White Sox Lose, 4-3.

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.—Although wild, Baumgartner was effective with men on bases today, and the Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 3. Mostil's two-base error of Perkins's fly in the fifth inning paved the way for the winning runs. Baumgartner allowed only six safeties.

TIGERS WIN IN 11TH AND TIE FOR SECOND

MANUSH STAR ON DEFENSE

Makes Leaping Catch of Flagstead's Drive in Ninth—Detroit Has Won 8 Out of Last 11.

BOSTON, July 18.—Detroit won from Boston in eleven innings today, 4 to 3. Manush made a remarkable leaping catch of Flagstead's drive, which was headed for an opening in the left field scoreboard in the ninth. It was Manush's infield single off Fullerton in the eleventh, followed by Cobb's sacrifice and Blue's single through the box, that scored what proved to be the winning run.

This victory, while Washington was losing to St. Louis, enabled the Tigers to advance into a tie for second place. The Tigers have won eight out of the eleven games played on the present Eastern trip.

GUILFORD TO PLAY GORTON.

Pair Will Clash in Final of Mass. Golf—Wright Beaten.

NEWTON, Mass., July 18.—Jesse Guilford of Woodland and R. R. Gorton of Brae-Burn will meet tomorrow on Guilford's home course here in the thirty-six-hole final of the State amateur golf championship tournament.

In winning through to the final Guilford never was forced to extend himself. In today's two rounds he covered only twenty-seven holes, defeating E. P. Stratton of Brae-Burn in the morning, 6 and 4, and in the afternoon winning from B. W. Estabrook, the Country Club, 5 and 4.

Gorton had more trouble on his hands than the other finalist. In the morning Howard Paul, Bellevue, carried him to the seventeenth green, and it was only by producing two birdies in a row that Gorton won. In the afternoon he defeated W. A. Whitcomb, Worcester, 5 and 3.

One of the surprises of the day was the elimination of Fred Wright Jr., Albemarle, a former champion, by Estabrook in the morning round. Wright, suffering apparently from lack of practice, was defeated, 4 and 3. Whitcomb's morning victory was at the expense of E. S. Stimpson, Brae-Burn, 2 and 1.

FIRPO TO ARRIVE MONDAY.

He and Rickard Will Then Complete Details for Wills Bout.

Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight who is to meet Harry Wills for the right to challenge Jack Dempsey for the world's heavyweight championship, is due to arrive here on Monday morning on the steamer American Legion, of the Munson Line. The boat will dock at Pier 1, Hoboken, and will be met by Tex Rickard, promoter of the bout, who will escort the South American to Madison Square Garden, where final details of the contest will be closed and forfeits posted. A definite date for the bout also will be set, the match now only being tentatively arranged for the middle of September at Rickard's wooden bowl in Jersey City.

SENATORS BEATEN BY BROWNS IN 9TH

Jacobson's Triple, With Two Out, Clears Bases and Gives St. Louis 7-6 Victory.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Defeated, 7 to 6, by St. Louis today, the Washington Senators were reduced to a second-place tie with Detroit, winner over Boston. The Browns won in the ninth after Marberry relieved Ogden, who left two runners on bases with one out. Sisler fouled to Taylor, but the bases were filled when Peckinpaugh fumbled McManus's roller. Jacobson then drove in three runs with a triple to centre.

MACKIE CAPTURES L. I. JUNIOR TITLE

Special to The New York Times.

HUNTINGTON, L. I., July 18.—Jack Mackie Jr. of Inwood today won his second title of the current year when he defeated E. Byrne of the Engineers' Club, 4 and 3, in the final round of the Long Island junior championship. Earlier in the season the stalwart son of the Inwood Country Club professional captured the national interscholastic championship and only recently was runner-up to Richard A. Jones Jr. in the metropolitan junior event.

In the semi-final round of the Long Island event at the Huntington Country Club today, Mackie won a rather hollow victory over K. Chester of Nassau, the match ending on the twelfth green with Mackie a winner by 7 up and 6. Byrne defeated his opponent, H. K. Koehn Jr. of Bellport by 5 up and 4 to play in the same round.

Mackie, enjoying a marked advantage over his stocky little rival in the deciding round, started off slowly and was actually down when the pair turned for the final stretch. He squared the match on the tenth green and then won four out of the next five holes, playing them in one under 4s to equal par. On the longest hole on the course, the seventh, 525 yards, Mackie reached the green with a drive and an iron. It was his tremendous length off the tees that gave the Inwood youngster a big advantage.

Mackie got his par 4 to win the next hole, but after the second and third had been halved in par figures Byrne squared the match by taking the fourth with a 4 to Mackie's 5. Byrne then forged ahead by registering a birdie 3 at the fifth but encountered trouble playing to the long hole which Mackie won with a par 5, squaring the match. Byrne got his par at the ninth and was out in 38 against 39 for Mackie, who was 1 down.

Two pars and a birdie gave Mackie the next three holes and practically clinched his title for him. Byrne managed to get a half at the thirteenth but lost the next two.

The cards:

Out—
Mackie ....4 4 3 5 4 5 5 4 5—39
Byrne ....5 4 3 4 3 5 6 4 4—38
In—
Byrne 5 4 4 5 5 5

TWO FILLIES SCORE AT EMPIRE CITY

LATTER BEATS FAST FIELD

Gains Decisive Victory Over Lucky Play and Noon Fire—Three 1,000 to 1 Shots Start in Race.

Priscilla Ruley, the Belair Stud's three-year-old filly by Ambassador IV.—The Reef, cleverly won the Bronxville Handicap over the course of a mile and a sixteenth at the Empire City track yesterday afternoon, showing her heels to H. Waterson's Brainstorm, the Riviera Stable's three-year-old Ballot colt Fabian and William Martin's Valador. Ridden by Fields and with 119 pounds up she held the track all the way, running the distance in 1:46 4-5. The filly was second choice in the betting at 11 to 5.

The Rancocas Stable's Outline was another filly to add to her reputation when she defeated Lucky Play, Noon Fire and six others for the Yankee Purse at about six furlongs. In receipt of only five pounds from Lucky Play, she defeated him decisively by two lengths. Splendid racing weather attracted a large midweek crowd to the track on the hilltop, but only one favorite came home in front.

The quartet in the handicap got away to a good start, Priscilla getting off in front and showing the way around the clubhouse turn. Down the backstretch she had a length on Brainstorm, the public choice, which was about the same distance in front of Valador, with Fabian trailing. On the turn into the homestretch the others closed up a bit on the filly, but she did not appear in great danger and was going well at the end to win by a length from Brainstorm. The gelding came up on the outside rounding the turn going through on the rail in the stretch. He could not give the winner seven pounds and just saved the place by a head from the fast-closing Fabian.

Interest in Yankee Purse.

The Yankee Purse, a dash of about six furlongs confined to the three-year-olds, attracted about as much attention as the rest of the card combined, since it brought together, among others, the Rancocas Stable's speedy filly Outline, August Belmont's Lucky Play and James Butler's Noon Fire. Public opinion was divided among the three and in the wagering it was a case at first of 2 to 1 and take your pick. At post time, however, the odds on Outline had shortened to 8 to 5, Noon Fire went to 11 to 5 and Lucky Play to 9 to 5. Lucky Play carried top weight of 120 pounds, giving five to Outline and ten to Noon Fire.

The field was sent away to a good start, Outline being the first to show after the barrier was sprung. Lucky Play, however, soon poked his nose out in front and opened a lead of a length, which the Fair Play colt held until they reached the turn for home. Then the filly again took command and came home to win cleverly by two lengths from Lucky Play. Noon Fire was always well placed in third position, but never could get on terms with the two leaders. He finished a length and a half back of Lucky Play.

Nine ran, but the rest of them might as well have been in their barns. The nearest to them at the winning post was ten lengths back, five finishing heads apart. Of the other six horses three were held at 100 to 1 and three at 1,000 to 1. The race was run in the fast time of 1:08 2-5. It was Outline's fourth straight victory and her sixth in seven starts. Her only defeat of the year was by Relentless at Belmont Park.

One of the noisiest and long-continued demonstrations of public disapproval heard on a metropolitan race course this season was called forth by the start of the Venus Purse, a mile dash for fillies and mares of three years and over. It was the more remarkable in that it was entirely uncalled for. There was a fractious field and none acted worse than the favorite, W. H. Snyder's Conceal, three-year-old daughter of Transvaal and Incognita. They were four minutes at the post and when Mars Cassidy yelled "Come on!" Conceal was straight. As the barrier went up she wheeled and was left and when Dawson got her turned and running she was twelve lengths back of the last horse. The incident was greeted by a chorus of "boos," which were repeated when the starter crossed the track and again when the horses came back to the scale.

The Freeport stable's Idle Thoughts made the running all the way, followed by B. C. Segar's Anticipation and Cuba Belle. On the far turn there was a closing up and in the stretch drive Breuning brought W. H. Post's Rags, three-year-old daughter of Crimper and Emerald Gem, on to win. Idle Thoughts was a length and a half back, taking the place by a length from Irene Sweeney. Rags was a 10 to 1 shot.

Clonaslee Sets Pace.

Samuel Louis's Clonaslee, the 5 to 2 favorite, made the early pace, but quit flat in the stretch. Tailteann also showed early speed, but stopped. Miss Babe, which was well up in the early running, could not stand the pace. The winner was third choice in the wagering, while Sumpter went begging at 80 to 1. The race was run in 1:02 2-5.

MERRIMAN'S 2:00 FASTEST OF YEAR

MARGARET DILLON LAME

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 18.—Merriman, driven by Tommy Murphy, clicked off the fastest mile of the year when he came home in two minutes flat in the first heat of the Free-for-All Pace, the feature event of getaway day of the Grand Circuit meeting at Fort Miami Park today. Sir Roch, driven by Loomis, won the event. Margaret Dillon, the third entry, was sent into the race lame and could not hold the pace.

Colonel Bosworth, McDonald's colt, proved a real surprise by winning the Sherwood Stake of $2,000 for three-year-old 2:12 class trotters in straight heats.

The 2:15 pace was easy for Bessie McKlyo. Palin drove her to victory in straight sets. Tulip Frisco captured the 2:20 class trot.

QUIET DAY FOR EPINARD.

French Colt Will Soon Work Hard for International Races.

Epinard spent another very quiet day at Belmont Park yesterday. He was out at the usual hour for a couple of canters, and every day there is a considerable gathering of interested spectators on hand to get a look at the famous French horse. He is fast getting back in shape after his sea voyage, and the brightness of his eye and the bloom of his coat indicate perfect physical condition, while his liveliness shows that it will be soon time to get him down to hard work for his three engagements. As Epinard is a big feeder, he takes a great deal of work and when he gets to Saratoga the last of next week Trainer Eugene Leigh says he will get plenty of it.

Colonel Matt J. Winn yesterday forwarded another entry to Kentucky for the International Special No. 3 at a mile and a quarter. This was the nomination of C. Bruce Head's Altawood. Colonel Winn now has the best of the three-year-olds East and West, as well as the pick of the older division, for his $50,000 test on Oct. 11.

HAWTHORNE RESULTS.

Papyrus Two Lengths Behind Winner in the Eclipse Stakes

SANDOWN PARK, England, July 18 (Associated Press).—Polyphontes, by Polymelus, out of St. Josephine, owned by Sol Joel, won the Eclipse Stakes of £12,500, at 1¼ miles, run here today. J. Hornung's Papyrus was second and Lord Astor's St. Germans third. Eight ran. Papyrus is last year's Derby winner, which, running under the colors of Ben Irish, was defeated by Zev in a match race at Belmont Park last October. Polyphontes won by two lengths, with three lengths separating Papyrus and St. Germans. The betting was Polyphontes 7 to 1 against, Papyrus 10 to 1, and St. Germans 13 to 8 against.

GRASS COURT PLAY WILL START TODAY

TODAY'S FEATURE MATCHES.

The men's metropolitan grass court championship will get under way this afternoon on the courts of the Crescent A. C. at Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, with an entry that, in both numbers and quality, stands out as one of the best ever received for the annual classic. While the outstanding favorites will not reach this city until Monday from Skokie, where they have been playing in the Illinois championship, today and tomorrow will both provide a number of good matches, the best of which promises to be that between Dr. George King, winner of the metropolitan championship on clay in 1923, and Walter Merrill Hall. They are an extremely well matched pair, and with King out to make amends for his defeat at the hands of Hall in the clay court championship, it may be expected that some very interesting tennis will be furnished. This match will be played at 4 o'clock this afternoon on Court 1.

At 2:30 o'clock, when the tournament will get under way, Elliott H. Binzen, runner-up for the metropolitan clay court title, will meet Lyman Tremaine, and Anton Von Bernuth and Hugh Oakley, two stars from the Montclair A. C., will take to the courts. Carl Fischer of Cynwyd, Pa., the seventh ranking player in the country, is scheduled to go on the courts at 5 o'clock, and Captain Zenzo Shimizu and Seiichiro Kashio of the Japanese Davis Cup team will take on opponents at 4 o'clock. Robert Kinsey of California, the defending titleholder, will not make his first appearance until Monday.

Play in the tournament will continue tomorrow mornnig at 10:30 o'clock and the courts will be occupied throughout the afternoon. The Crescent Club's country house is located on the Shore Road, between Eighty-third and Eighty-sixth Streets, Bay Ridge, Brooklyn. It can be reached by boat from the Battery direct to the club pier, in accordance with the following schedule: Daily (except Saturday), 9:15 A. M., 3:30 P. M., 5:30 P. M.; Saturdays only, 9:15 A. M., 1:30 P. M. and 3:30 P. M. The boat does not operate on Sunday. The club also may be reached via the Fourth Avenue line of the B. M. T. subway to the Eighty-sixth Street station, Bay Ridge. Bus service will be operated between the station and the clubhouse. The motor car route from Manhattan is across the Manhattan Bridge, up Flatbush Avenue Extension to Fourth Avenue, straight out Fourth Avenue to Eighty-third Street, four blocks west to the Shore Road and the clubhouse. Tickets of admission are on sale at both the city house at 129 Pierrepont Street, Brooklyn, and at Bay Ridge. Season tickets are priced at $5.50 for reserved seats. Single day tickets, including reserved seats, are $1.65, except for the semi-finals and final, when they are $2.20. The general admission fee is $1.10, except for the semi-finals and final, when it is $1.65.

BOWMAN IS WINNER OVER DR. ROSENBAUM

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., July 18.—Herbert L. Bowman, metropolitan clay court champion, reached the final round of the annual Quaker Ridge tournament of the New Rochelle Tennis Club today when he defeated Dr. William Rosenbaum in the semi-finals by the score of 6—4, 6—2. The other semi-final match was not played, owing to the illness of Ralph Baggs. It will be held over until tomorrow, when he will, if possible, meet John Whitbeck. The final will be staged on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

For the first set today Dr. Rosenbaum staged a strong fight against Bowman, putting everything he had into his strokes and fighting tenaciously for every point. But after dropping the opening chapter by a close margin he had little left to cope with the strategical placements of Bowman and yielded quickly. The rallies for the first half of the match reached brilliant heights. There were many exchanges of sharp volleys, with both players bringing off difficult gets and stroking with good control and snap from the most difficult positions. Bowman's shots across court and straight down, which nicked the lines again and again, kept his older opponent on the run, and it was Dr. Rosenbaum who was doing most of the work.

GANUNG WINS SHOOT TITLE.

DANBURY, Conn., July 18.—A. Ganung of New Haven won the American Trapshooting Association gold medal here today in the annual tournament of the Connecticut State Trapshooting Association held at the Pahuloque Gun Club. Ganung scored 91 out of a possible 100 targets at a distance of 21 yards. Martin McVoy of the New York A. C. broke 87 targets at 20 yards.

In the double championship, two targets, out of possible 50 shot, the winners were: F. O. Williams, New Haven, 43; H. E. Vickerman, Chicago, 43; Bert Clardige, New Haven, 43; H. C. Oarstow, Rockville, 42; J. Stevenson, West Haven, 41.

GOLF STARS MAKE PLANS.

Walker and Cruickshank to Enter British Open Next Year.

In addition to Hagen who has already expressed himself as almost certain to return to England next year to defend his British open championship crown, the American invading force for the British event in 1925 will also include two other stars. Cyril Walker of Englewood, national open champion, and Bobby Cruikshank of Shackamaxon who finished in a tie with Jones in the 1923 United States open championship, who returned yesterday from their Western tour, announced that they would both go to the British open next year. They also will play in the Canadian open and the Rocky Mountain open next month and in the Western open, the P. G. A. championship and the Missouri State open in September.

LARCHMONT SERIES WILL START TODAY

COMPLIMENT PAID BY NAVY

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt Assigns Four Vessels in Recognition of Yachtsmen's War Services.

Larchmont Race Week, one of the annual feature events of the yacht-racing season on Long Island Sound, begins today under the auspices of the Larchmont Yacht Club. Beginning with today's regatta, which is expected to draw a very large fleet of racing yachts, there will be racing every day up to and including next Saturday, which is the closing day of the Larchmont series. There will be a special race for Star class yachts on Sunday and on Tuesday a team match between Victory sloops and S class sloops. On all other days of race week open regattas will be held.

As a rule, the popular Larchmont meet draws out record-breaking numbers of competing craft and this year will probably be no exception to the rule. On last season's opening day 137 racing craft crossed the starting line, the largest number in any one regatta since before the World War. It is possible that today's fleet will be even larger, as many of the racing classes this season are stronger numerically than they were last year. This is especially true of the international six-meter boats and the Star class, both of which have international races ahead of them on Western Long Island Sound.

It was predicted yesterday by a member of the Larchmont Race Committee that the Stars starting today would run up to forty boats, which would outdo the record of thirty-two yachts starting in this class on opening day last year. The Stars are now the largest racing class in the world and number 242 vessels in the international fleet. There will probably be sixteen of the six-meter yachts fighting it out for the series prize at Larchmont, eight of them being new boats this year.

As usual, the flag officers and several members of the Larchmont Yacht Club have offered prizes, which will go to the winners of the most points during the race-week series. Commodore James B. Ford gives the prize for the New York Yacht Club fifty-footers, Vice Commodore Philip Johnson the trophy for the forty-footers, Harry L. Maxwell for the Larchmont O class, C. Barnum Seeley for the thirty-footers, Rear Commodore J. F. Baudouine for the six-meter class, George H. Church for the Victory boats, Harold Tobey for Class S and J. B. Dunbaugh for the Star class.

Fred M. Hoyt is Chairman of the Larchmont Yacht Club Race Committee and he will be assisted in handling the big fleets by E. G. Anderson, R. M. Haddock and J. A. Mahlstedt.

Another feature of the race week program will be the presence off Horseshoe Harbor, during the week, of two United States destroyers and two submarines. These vessels have been ordered to remain at Larchmont by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt during the racing series, as a recognition by the Navy Department of the services rendered by yachtsmen to the Government during the World War.

29 YACHTS IN RACE TODAY.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Twenty-nine yachts today were undergoing final overhauling in preparation for the start of the 337-mile race to Mackinac, Mich., tomorrow, the longest fresh water race in the world.

The race, in the number of entries, will be the greatest in the twenty-year history of the event. It has wider representation than ever this year, several Eastern yachts being among those nominated for the start.

The yawl Siesta from New York was rushed into dry dock yesterday for repairs to its hull and rudder, after being damaged while going into port en route for supplies.

ORSER IN FINAL TODAY.

STAMFORD, Conn., July 18.—Horace Orser of Stuyvesant High School, New York, and Stuart Gayness of the West Side Tennis Club of Forest Hills will meet tomorrow on the New Canaan Country Club tennis courts in the final match for the junior singles tennis championship of Connecticut. Orser today defeated Bernard Whitbeck of Loomis Institute in a semi-final match, 5—7, 6—3, 6—3, and Gayness won from Kenneth Appel, junior metropolitan indoor champion, 9—7, 4—6, 6—3.

Everett Smith of the West Side Tennis Club won the Connecticut Boy's Championship—for boys 15 years or under—when he defeated Eugene McCauliff of Yonkers, 6—4, 6—1, in the final.

The junior doubles final will be played tomorrow, Appel and Whitbeck opposing Watson and Conlin.

JANOFF VICTOR AT TENNIS.

Reaches Fourth Round in Manhattan Borough Title Tourney.

Leo Janoff, runner-up last year in the qualifying tournament held on the Central Park courts, reached the fourth round of the 1924 tournament of Manhattan Borough yesterday when he defeated in turn Joe Kahn at 6—0 6—1, and J. Auerbach at the same score. The winner of the tournament will qualify to represent Manhattan against the winners of the tournaments in the other boroughs, who will come together on July 26 on the Central Park courts.

The winner of the final tournament will represent the Greater City in the national municipal championship at Detroit beginning Aug. 4.

Carpentier Will Box Three Rounds at Mitchel Field Show Today.

With their fifteen-round bout at the Polo Grounds on Thursday night now less than a week away, Gene Tunney, the American light-heavyweight champion, and Georges Carpentier, the French boxer, are rushing through their respective intensive training campaigns at a great pace. Yesterday saw both boxers put in a day of hard work, Tunney engaging in ten rounds of boxing at his camp at Red Bank, N. J., while Carpentier sparred a similar number of rounds at Great Neck, L. I. Both men are reported to be down to weight and fit to enter the ring today.

This afternoon Carpentier will appear at Mitchel Field and will take part in the special boxing show there that has been arranged by the American Legion post of Nassau County for the benefit of the war veterans at the Kings Park Hospital. Carpentier will engage in a regular workout which will be topped by a three-round exhibition match with his sparring partner, Ted Jamieson. In addition to Carpentier's appearance at the show, three ten-round bouts also have been arranged for the war veterans, the principals being Sammy Baker and Sammy Stearn, Young Brown and Jack Worman, and Lew Chester and Jack De Mave. There also will be a six-round boot.

Met. Golfer Makes Hole in One.

C. W. Baker, a member of the Garden City Golf Club, yesterday made the eighteenth hole there in one, thus qualifying for the Hole-in-One Club. The hole is a pitch over a pond to a big green, trapped both front and rear with formidable pits. The distance from tee to green is approximately 150 yards.

MENTAL OLYMPICS.

It has been rumored that the committee in charge of the Olympic Games thought of reviving one phase of the ancient Greek festival which has been neglected in the modern edition. Poets and orators did not take part in the regular events at old Olympia, but they were an important factor in the side-shows. They also made themselves useful by celebrating the triumphs of the charioteers, the sprinters and the wrestlers. This custom might have meant the presentation at the Théâtre Français or the Odéon of plays by the dramatists of all nations, or the bestowal by an international jury of first, second and third prizes for philosophical lectures delivered by, let us say, an Englishman, an Italian and an American at the Sorbonne. The project, however, was apparently too ambitious, and little has been heard of it.

In behalf of such an Olympic festival of the mind would be the improved chances for the little nations. Finland is an extraordinary exception from which no general rule can be deduced. The little peoples as a whole have not made much of a showing since the first modern games at Athens twenty-eight years ago. They have done much better in the intellectual Olympics that go by the name of the Nobel Prize. Out of 115 Nobel Prizes distributed since 1901 in physics, chemistry, medicine, literature and peace, the small nationalities have carried off 35, or nearly one-third. Almost exactly one-half the number have gone to Scandinavia. Little Switzerland has won 8 prizes, Holland 6, Belgium 4, Austria 4. Bengal, which can scarcely be imagined as carrying off any decisive honors in the stadium, scored one Nobel winner in the person of TAGORE.

The lift to the right kind of national pride given by this kind of victory, in a field where numbers do not weigh so heavily, is not to be underestimated. Norway, as the country of IBSEN, BJORNSON and HAMSUN, or Belgium, as the country of MAETERLINCK, bulk much more largely in the eyes of the world than their population statistics might seem to justify.

ANOTHER WITNESS.

Additional testimony to the efficacy of the League of Nations as an agency of international stabilization was given by Dr. CHARLES DE VISSCHER of the University of Ghent in his lecture before the Institute of International Politics under the auspices of the University of Chicago. He has had a close acquaintance with the work of the League since its foundation. He now bears witness in the hearing of America that, while the League still shows marks of the period of stress and international anarchy in which it was born, nevertheless it is for Europe "the only light in the "midst of the darkness to guide the "efforts of men of good-will." Here is one who believes that this light will shine on toward a more perfect day.

What is his reason for thinking that the world will never forsake the great hope which has come to it through the League? It is that public opinion is beginning to realize that the League is the one rallying point of all the forces looking toward peace. The new Governments in France and England have notably expressed their faith in the League and their purpose or desire to give it a more important part in the settlement of European affairs. It is a faith that there is after all "one law" toward which the whole creation moves. What has been already achieved is evidence of motion in that direction.

Specifically, for the first time in the history of the world, according to Dr. DE VISSCHER'S expert testimony, an exceptionally serious question of national honor (the Corfu incident) was brought up for debate in a public assembly. While the settlement of it passed to other hands, the existence of the League made it possible for the representatives of the peoples of Europe to speak of this incident and to condemn any action that seemed to them objectionable without giving an offense which under the old code of international honor could not have been overlooked. Occasionally, it must be admitted, the old spirit which expressed itself in absolutist or narrower individualistic conceptions of sovereign rights has prevailed. There have been League failures. But there have been many successes—some about which it has been necessary to keep silent because their advertisement might injure the feelings of those who have abandoned their nationalistic claims. As to the Permanent Court, "it has fully "realized all the hopes which have "been placed in it." Obviously, it cannot go beyond the scope of established international law, but within these limits its authority is steadily increasing. Out of the mouths of such first-hand witnesses the truth ought some day to be established even in the minds of American isolationists.

GRAIN AND FREIGHT RATES.

By a narrow majority, 6 to 5, the Interstate Commerce Commission has refused to reduce the railroad rates on grain and hay. The movement to secure such a reduction was powerful. Ten States formally demanded it. It was strongly urged in Congress and was recommended by the President. Very likely it would have succeeded had not conditions in the grain-growing States changed so markedly for the better within recent weeks. It is upon this fact that the commission partly bases its refusal to change the freight rates. The farmers are now receiving so much higher prices that need of help in getting their products to market does not appear so urgent as it was thought to be six months ago. Moreover, it is the opinion of the commission that the railroads could not endure the loss in their revenues—a loss estimated at more than $17,000,000 — consequent upon such a lowering of the rates as was sought.

The decision is sound, though the reasons given for it are not beyond challenge. The fundamental question was whether the rates on grain and hay are fair and reasonable, both in themselves and in relation to the charges on other classes of freight. This is recognized in a part of the commission's opinion, but in other parts there seems to be an inclination to dally with the idea that money can be taken from one class in the community to be handed over to another. Such a proposal was, in truth, frankly entertained by one of the dissenting members of the commission, who innocently argued that if the railroads lost too much by cutting the rates for the benefit of the farmer, they could make it up by raising the rates on other shippers. There would plainly be no end if that process were to be adopted and followed, with the result of taking from one man's pocket to fill another's.

From the first it was doubtful if the farmers would profit to any appreciable extent by the proposed cut in freight rates. It is certain that no reduction could have brought about such an advance in prices as has occurred in recent months. This has been the result neither of legislation nor of manipulation. The rise has occurred without reference to the tariff on wheat or to the charges of the railroads for hauling it. Crop figures, the law of supply and demand, the working of economic forces, have done the business, and have done it more thoroughly and satisfactorily than could possibly have been the case had all been left to tinkerers in Congress and experimenters in the Interstate Commerce Commission.

TEMPERANCE IN CANADA.

Saskatchewan has joined the other three Western Provinces in adopting the policy of Government control and sale of liquor. British Columbia and Quebec have had this system since 1921; Manitoba and Alberta voted for it in 1922. The experience of British Columbia and Quebec has been a powerful and convincing argument in the bone-dry Provinces that have had a referendum. Thus, in British Columbia, in the first year of Government control, the number of liquor prescriptions by physicians decreased from 131,000 to 6,500. The Quebec Liquor Commission shows a net profit of several millions a year, and the Dominion customs revenues are similarly swelled. This argument to the taxpayer's pocket appeals strongly to voters in less fortunate and copiously taxed Provinces. In particular, the fiscal prosperity of Quebec stirs admiration and envy.

There were other and moral considerations. It may be said that the preponderant French element in the Quebec population, though second in the Dominion in urban percentage, would naturally account for its record of the fewest convictions for drunkenness; but even those convictions have constantly decreased since the liquor law went into effect. It is curious to note that Novia Scotia and New Brunswick, "strongholds" of prohibition, seem to lead the procession of drunkards. One day last month the Criminal Court of Quebec adjourned because there was no business for it to do. Moreover, the majority of Saskatchewan voters were disgusted by the continually increasing non-enforcement of the dry law. They have tried prohibition. It failed. If the new arrangement fails, they are free to change their opinion and their liquor law again. Such is the advantage of not being fettered forever by a constitutional amendment.

In October Ontario will have a referendum on the liquor question. There, too, there have long been evidences of increasing dissatisfaction with prohibition; but that Province may be said to be the centre of virtue militant, of a desire to regulate the habits of other folks. In Ontario, as in the Middle West and the South, prohibition is a sort of religious issue. Experience doesn't abate the ardor of its partisans. Like our own enthusiasts, the Ontario Drys hold implacably to the faith and never bother their heads about its works and practice. The Canadian West is lost. Quebec is a persuasive school of fiscally and morally profitable temperance as against intemperance-breeding, tax-boosting, bootlegging prohibition. The enemy is at the gates of Ontario. If he breaks in, who shall keep him back from the Maritime Provinces? Observe that the saloon is "gone" under the Canadian system; but it is not gone, as it has here, into a thousand other forms and places, many of them without name or sign. Temperance has been discarded by the United States for prohibition.

THE HARVEST IN RUSSIA.

Famine has been a recurrent topic in the news from Moscow for some weeks. There seems little doubt that large areas in the South Volga region, in part of Ukraine and in Turkestan and Siberia will need relief. Fortunately, there is no reason as yet for crediting alarmist reports to the effect that Russia is facing a famine greater than the devastating visitation of 1921. The harvest of that year fell to less than half of normal. The 1922 crop was about 70 per cent. of the pre-war average. For the present year the Government estimate was fixed at approximately that level. It is now admitted that the harvest will fall short, but in order to repeat the tragedy of 1921 the estimate would have to be drastically cut. Of such a calamity there has as yet been no definite indication, unless it should turn out that the Soviet Government has been suppressing the facts.

Even partial famine, however, means suffering for many million peasants. In 1921-22 the affected population was between twenty-five and thirty millions, of whom the American Relief Administration fed about ten millions. This year it is a question how far the Soviet Government, in forcing the export of grain, has depleted its reserve stocks. That Moscow perceives the danger of sending food out of the country has been shown by the wholesale cancellation of contracts to deliver grain in Germany, as a result of which German trade with Russia is reported to have shrunk to a point where Germans are beginning to lose interest in the whole subject of Russian trade. If food for the regions in need is in hand, the factor of transportation is considerably more favorable than in 1921, when the break-down of the railroads aggravated the situation sorely.

Beyond the annual vicissitudes of the harvest to which all countries and all régimes are subject, Russia is bound to suffer for many years to come from the decrease in cultivated acreage following upon the Bolshevist revolution and the struggle between the Communist Government and the peasantry, which took the form of a refusal to plant on the part of the latter. Premier RYKOV declared a fortnight ago that the cultivated area today is from 85 to 90 per cent. of the pre-war average. There are Soviet figures to indicate that 75 per cent. is nearer the truth. The slightest margin of decline is formidable in view of the fact that there has been a reduction in agricultural efficiency due to the lack of machinery, live stock and fertilizer, and that at no time has the Russian peasant risen much above the bare subsistence level. For years now the Russian people have been living on two-thirds the amount of food they consumed before the war.

A PROMISING AGREEMENT.

Following the unfortunate strike of the pressmen in the offices of the New York newspapers last September, an effort was made to bring about a new contract between the employers and the union which would make such a strike virtually impossible. After many conferences between committees representing both sides, a form of agreement was worked out, the substance of which has just been made public. It contains one novel feature in establishing the principle of conciliation and arbitration in settling future disputes. Most differences can be composed, it is hoped, by direct negotiations between the parties; but, in case of failure, there is to be a printing commission. This is to be made up of a panel of well-known and disinterested men agreed upon in advance. From them three names will be selected to meet with committees representing, respectively, the pressmen and the publishers. The voting plan, in the event of a controversy not solved otherwise, is to be by groups. The publishers will have one vote, the pressmen one and the printing commission one. The aim is to avoid placing the responsibility of a decision upon a single arbitrator.

The scheme was devised by Major GEORGE L. BERRY, President of the International Printing Pressmen, who regards it as a model which may be wisely followed in other industries. If it works as intended, it will introduce an element of permanence as well as of fairness, sure to be of the highest importance to all concerned. The chief credit for the promising arrangement is freely accorded to Major BERRY, who, after the unauthorized and abortive strike of last year, bent his efforts toward a plan which would contain in it a guarantee of industrial peace.

STILL IN THE RACE.

The Pacific seems to have no favorites among earth-girdling aviators. Major MACLAREN has received much the same welcome that the elements gave the American airmen. The Englishman hopefully took off from Yetorofu Island for Paramashiru, the longest flight in the Kuriles. Fog forced him down near Uruppu Island before he had gone far and two precious days were lost. With clear skies less than a week might have sufficed for a landing on Canadian soil. The Americans were ten days in making Japanese territory after launching out from Dutch Harbor, but snowstorms, fogs and generally inhospitable weather on the ocean delayed them. Like good sportsmen, they must now sympathize with Major MACLAREN.

There is only one British machine to take the hazard, and if it comes to grief in the Pacific the end of the flight will have come. The risk of Major MACLAREN and his mechanic has been the greater because his enterprise did not have the practical support of the Air Ministry and it was not carefully organized. So long as his route lay over interior Europe and Asia his mishaps only delayed him. In one instance he broke through a fog to find himself over a herd of elephants in a jungle and too close to them for comfort, but disaster was escaped by quick climbing. The Pacific may be less kind if he runs into such weather as was near wrecking the little American squadron.

It is no reflection upon the skill and courage of Lieutenant SMITH and his command to say that Major MACLAREN'S attempt to cross the Pacific will be a greater personal triumph if he succeeds. He seems to be taking desperate chances. Almost at the start he has been balked, and if he gets away safely from the last of the Kuriles he must still face the storm-breeding Aleutians. The presumption is that his two extra passengers will leave him at Paramashiru, or perhaps on Russian territory. His plane is reported to be undamaged by the landing near Uruppu Island. It was a relief to learn that the gallant Englishman had escaped disaster in those two days of mystery when he was reported missing in treacherous waters. Americans naturally want their own countrymen to make the circuit of the world first, but also they would like to see Major MACLAREN carry on and prove a good second.

AGENT GENERAL FOR REPARATIONS.

The position of Agent General for Reparation Payments, with which the name of OWEN D. YOUNG continues to be linked, is likely to prove the most important single office in connection with the carrying out of the Dawes plan. This provides that he shall be chosen by the Reparation Commission and shall serve as the intermediary between that body and the heads of the different commissions set up for enforcing the plan. He will also coordinate the activity of the different committees, and will have direct charge of the transfer of funds from Germany to the Allies, which involves the complicated and delicate problem of exchanges. He is thus in a sense the executive head of the Dawes plan, although another officer, the Trustee, is charged with the receipt and administration of the railway and industrial bonds to be issued. Upon the Trustee also devolves the service of these bonds, through funds remitted to him by the Agent for Reparation Payments. He also will fix the conditions of the amortization of the bonds and of their redemption, and may issue new securities with the consent of the Reparation Commission.

Under the supervision of the Agent General are three main committees, headed by the Commissioner for the Bank of Issue, who will be charged with supervision of all the work involved in the creation and administration of the new Bank of Issue; the Commissioner of Railways, who will supervise the international commission which is to administer and operate the German railway system in behalf of Germany's creditors; and the Commissioner of Controlled Revenues, who will have oversight of the specific revenues set aside for covering the payments to be made for the account of reparations. All such payments are to be deposited to the credit of the Agent General. In his function as agent of the Transfer Commission it will be his duty not only to supervise the various payments to be made, but also to see that the sums which may be held in the Bank of Issue to the credit of the Allies are not in excess of the maximum of 5,000,000,000 gold marks provided in the plan. In connection with this work he will keep in touch with the President and the Commissioner of the Bank of Issue, and will assign funds for payment of deliveries in kind. The conversion of German marks into foreign currency is to be done only to the extent which the exchange market permits. He may also invest part of these funds in German bonds other than those of the railways and industrial concerns provided for as part payment of reparations.

It was the hope of the British that this all-powerful Agent General would also be permitted to have a deciding vote in the matter of declaring Germany in default. To this proposal the French, however, are firmly opposed. They feel that, added to his other powers, this would give him too much authority. Furthermore, they are unwilling that the question of default be decided without their having a voice therein. It is only logical that the Agent General be called upon to report and advise in case of a default. But the question of default involves so many problems over and above the mere execution of the Dawes plan that it would seem best to leave it to a body on which the nations are individually represented.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Their "Blessing" May Be the Reason.

Possibly there is an explanation for the fact that the City of San Diego, Cal., has the highest suicide rate of any city in the country, and the same explanation, if it were the true one, would serve for the other fact, closely related, that the suicide rate along the greater part of the Pacific Coast also is abnormally high.

Dr. F. L. HOFFMAN, who has collected the suicide statistics of the whole country for the Prudential Insurance Company, says of San Diego that it is "by common consent one of the most attractive locations for residence" in the United States, and he also mentions, as making still more mysterious the frequency with which its inhabitants kill themselves, its "blessing of almost perpetual sunshine," but in doing so he may have given, without realizing it, the key to the enigma.

A considerable fraction, and perhaps a majority, of the city's inhabitants are the descendants of forebears who lived near one or another shore of the North Sea or beyond in the Baltic regions, where the sky for the greater part of the year is cloudy and the sunshine far from "perpetual." These descendants, transferred to a climate like that of Southern California, are out of the environment to which their type had been adjusted through the elimination during many centuries of the darker types, and find themselves subjected to an amount of light for which they are not adapted. That excessive sunshine, accompanied by high temperature, is oppressive, irritating and harmful, every white person knows from experiences in our semi-tropical Summers. The light of the sun, of course, is enormously important to us all, and all the time, but there is such a thing as getting too much of it for either comfort or safety, and the danger is in inverse ratio to the degree of pigmentation that marks those exposed to it. Negroes mind it not at all, Indians and the Mediterranean races little, but it behooves the Northern peoples and their offspring either to keep in the shade when the sun is bright and hot or else to remain in climates like the one in which their strain was developed.

One Reason Does Not Suffice.

In enumerating the Pacific Coast cities where the suicide rate is higher than elsewhere in the country, Dr. HOFFMAN, besides San Diego, mentions Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento, but, unfortunately for the light theory, he also mentions Spokane and Seattle, two towns, especially the second, where rains and clouds prevail about as they do near the North Sea and the Baltic. In favor of the light theory is his statement that in the vicinity of the Great Lakes suicides are comparatively few, for there, too, the sky is overcast for what, from the blond point of view, may be called a reasonably large part of the time.

The chances are, however, that for the peculiarities noted by the statistician there is not one explanation but many. To find them all and to discover their relative influence more information would be required than can be drawn from the mere number of suicides in the several cities and regions. But it is hardly questionable that the American climate, taking the country over, has more sunshine than the majority of its present white inhabitants by heredity are prepared permanently and for generation after generation to endure. Our blond types tend steadily to diminish, and it is not that the sun turns them dark but because, if it does nothing more, it renders them less fertile. Here is the cause for not a little of what is called race suicide. The "old stock," which had big families when, in Colonial days, it first crossed the Atlantic, now has small ones or none at all, and is steadily dying out, to be replaced by strains better adapted to endure an excess of actinic rays.

Can't Be Treated as Equals.

Lord BANBURY, in moving the rejection of a bill to admit to membership in the upper house of Parliament women who are peeresses in their own right, presented several arguments, most of them more or less absurd. He thought, for instance, that the presence of women among the Lords would lessen the dignity of their deliberations, as, in his opinion, it had decreased that of the House of Commons. His chief contention, however, was at least debatable, and raises a question that has two sides.

It was to the effect that it was impossible to treat a woman as an equal in Parliament. He did not imply, apparently, that women were inferior to men, but merely—as has been noted once or twice before—that they were different. Always, he said, they exercised "fascinations," and never could women members of a legislative body be treated by men exactly as men treat one another.

This is not obviously or necessarily a sufficient reason for refusing to let women help in the making of laws, but it is more than likely that Legislatures equally divided between sexes would be measurably changed in tone and temper, and if the women predominated in numbers there would be innovations indeed. Our own lady politicians are preparing to increase as much as they can the feminine membership in our Federal and State Legislatures. They probably will succeed to some extent, and then our Lord Banburys all will make moan, perhaps with excuse and perhaps without it.

Viscount ASTOR, wise husband that he is—or should one say cautious husband?—strongly favored the bill that Lord BANBURY opposed, but the latter seems to have refrained from naming the woman whom he presumably had in mind as illustrating the embarrassments growing out of letting women sit in Parliament.

Fighting Iron's Old Foe.

Pittsburgh ironmasters are reported to be watching with keen interest the demonstrations now in progress in that city of a process for producing both iron and steel that will not rust. The process itself is too complicated for discussion by any except metallurgists, but anybody can see the many and great benefits that would follow a means of preventing the oxidization that threatens iron constantly and, in the end, from the standpoint of its users, destroys it.

No iron tools ever are found by the archaeologists in sites really ancient. This usually is taken as proving that the really ancient peoples had no iron tools, but the proof is not conclusive, for such tools certainly would have disappeared long ago.

Both iron and steel alloys that at least do not rust easily or soon already have been made, but at too great expense for general employment. The new Pittsburgh process presumably is expected to cut down the cost, for otherwise the ironmasters would not be so much excited by it.

MAN'S DRESS IN SUMMER.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Ethnologists claim that clothing originated first in vanity, then became a necessity. Surely the coat in hot weather is not a sequence of either. To wear the coat in hot weather is a false idea of propriety.

Does it not seem incredible that man, whose superior intelligence makes it possible to span the oceans on wings, to travel under rivers and listen to the far-distant music of choirs and orchestras through the air, can dumbly and blindly submit to a custom which robs him of comfort and shortens his life—the custom of enveloping the body in wool in hot weather?

Is not man as decently dressed in a neat shirt as his mother, sister, wife and daughter are in their shirtwaists? Why should not decorum decree the same comfort to man as to woman? Must we conclude that women have advanced in independence and simplicity, while men are still bound with the shackles of an insufferable custom? (I admit Summer furs, cloche hats, high heels, which men decree and make, are not sensible.)

Senator Copeland, Dr. Frank Crane, Irvin S. Cobb, Dr. Darlington, Henry van Dyke, Dr. Grant, Eugene O'Neil and other thoughtful men heartily agree a reform in man's dress is imperative.

Did you ever enter a man's office in hot weather and find him with other men when they were not in their shirt sleeves? This proves that men go without coats and would do so always were they not hindered by a false idea of propriety.

While it is hard enough for professional men in offices with coats on to bear the heat, aided by electric fans, much more unendurable must it be for conductors of trolley and bus, bell men, elevator men, waiters, motormen, postmen and especially our fine policemen, who stand in the scorching sun, hourly braving imminent danger for our safety.

I earnestly beg our statesmen at Washington to enact a law to prohibit requiring employes to wear high-necked wool uniforms in Summer. Blouses of various colors and designs should be substituted as neat, sanitary and merciful uniforms.

Huguenot Anniversary.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In THE NEW YORK TIMES of July 3 was a short article headed "Walloon Pilgrims to Gather in Paris." The article goes on to say: "This gathering is to celebrate the three hundredth anniversary of the coming of the Huguenots to America and the founding of New York by Huguenots and Walloons." This certainly is a most important anniversary for this country, and especially so for New York.

DAY'S WORK.

The little whirring wheel has hummed its tune—
The children have run in and out, at play.
Now it is night. The round midsummer moon
Is white, expectant, just above the hill.
The dear small sounds of evening have begun.
I may sit by, and rest, and have my will
Of books, and some soft garment. I am done
With all the daylight things, and weariness,
With childish troubles, and the dull routine.
How they are all forgotten in the press
Of these new joys, upspringing and serene
Under the moon that sends its quiet beams
In through my open window, seeking out
The folded raiment, and the finished seams
Of my day's toil. A peace is all about
Like the soft comfort of a Mother's arm.
My lads are sleeping, and their restless heads
Turn on the pillows there. No breath of harm
May ever reach them in the small white beds
Bathed thus in moonlight.
How the night is calm!
How it is fragrant with the breath of flowers!
How it sheds music like a chanted psalm,
And fills me with remembrance! These still hours
Restore my soul! How they are wine, and bread!
A cloak of courage for another day!
Wings to my feet, and oil upon my head!
They are my House of Comfort, by the way.
See, the round moon has gathered up its gold.
And here about me crowd my happy dreams,
In the close darkness—all my heart will hold,

WORKING BACK TO LATIN.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I have been much interested in the various things said about teaching and learning Latin and Greek which have appeared time and again in your paper.

There are many suggestions as to the best method of learning these languages. For years teachers have been striving to make the study attractive, and books "for beginners" without number have been published, have run their course and have then been discarded. Most of these attempts are on the Ollendorf plan or some modification of it—plans to make the acquisition easy. Unfortunately, there is no royal road to learning languages or anything else.

The simplest plan that could suggest itself to any one is to learn Latin and Greek as our children learn their native tongues. But to teach a child in this way implies the same familiarity with Latin and Greek that the parent has with his or her own tongue. Then we forget how many years the child has spent in absorbing what it knows of the mother tongue.

I learned both Greek and Latin in the old way. I had to commit to memory Bullion's Latin Grammar—first the coarse print, then the fine—before being set to read the first line of Latin. Likewise, his Greek grammar, with his mythical paradigm of "tupto" and all, before reading any Greek. Of course, I did not know what it was all about, any more than I did what the Shorter Catechism meant. But, then, when I did begin to read, taking up and translating the words as I came to them, it was not so difficult, as I knew at sight what case of the noun was before me and what relations were indicated by that case, as the mood and tense of the verb gave me at once the manner and time of the action. How any one can read at sight, or "with his feet on the fender," as Macaulay puts it, without knowing these things I cannot understand.

I also grew up with the notion that "riding a pony" was a species of cheating (the teacher, I suppose), and so at school when I read about all the Latin and Greek classics I never so much as peeped into a translation. This, however, I regret, as I am now convinced that, judiciously used, translations would have been helpful to me.

In one of your articles you mentioned the great archaeologist, Dr. Schliemann, who disclosed to us the rich finds at Hissarlik, Mycenae and Tiryns, which he could never have done without an intimate knowledge of Greek. How did he acquire it, for until he was 37 years old we have no intimation that he ever turned the page of a Greek book?

He first secured a copy of "Paul and Virginia," with which we may presume he was familiar, translated into modern Greek. This he mastered completely. He could pull the sentences to pieces and put them together in a different form. In fact, with this little book he mastered modern Greek. His next step was to get this same book translated into ancient Greek. This he treated in the same way. He was now prepared to tackle the "Iliad." It must be remembered that during all this time he had by his side his wife, a native Greek and an able scholar, who rendered him invaluable aid. Thus, in a few years, this illiterate business clerk had become an accomplished Grecian, who could discuss on equal terms the mysteries of Greek with Gladstone himself, and for one of whose books Gladstone wrote a preface.

I believe that I am now prepared to suggest not an easy but a practical and interesting method of attacking to advantage these two tongues, of which no educated man can afford to be ignorant.

Latin—With some familiar book translated into Portuguese master this language, a la Schliemann. I say Portuguese because this, "the eldest daughter of Latin," is more like that language than any of the romance tongues. I have a long poem written by a Brazilian scholar, which is at the same time Latin and Portuguese, and a letter addressed to me by another Latinist which can be read in either tongue. Now get this same book translated into low or monkish Latin; treat it as you did the first. Again, get this book translated into classic Latin and go through the same course with it. If you wish to see the difference between classic and low Latin get an old Delphini edition of "Virgil" or of "Horace" and see what different stuff the Latin translation is from the original.

Greek—Attack it after a similar fashion—first through modern Greek; then through Alexandrian or New Testament Greek; then the classic.

Result, you have now to your credit two modern languages and two distinct forms of the two dead ones. It means work, but what interesting work!

Deadheading Our Way.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

London dispatches today tell us that Uncle Sam, in the person of Ambassador Kellogg, was given a warm welcome as an "unofficial observer" at the ten-nation conference for the settlement of German reparation payments. Again we see ourselves as a guest—never a host; a distinguished "deadhead," at the great international show—for which other nations pay the bills.

Fortunately the "deadheading" is all Republican. Those nations cognizant of American politics understand and make their courteous best of an anomalous and, they hope, a temporary situation. They know that Dawes and Young, independent (not Republican) participants, paid for their own tickets; they, at least, were not "deadheads." But the Republican Administration, forced by narrow party circumstance to "observe" world proceedings, not only is chronically deadheading its way into the show, but is trying to pose as if it were footing all the expense as well.

Uncle Sam, as the "Great International Deadhead," is an unpalatable dose for self-respecting Americans.

"Greater Clarksburg."

To the Editor of The New York Times:

There is a sort of incompleteness to your editorial article on "Greater Clarksburg." How was it possible to overlook those two pillars of greatness, Colonel Goff and Colonel Gore? Before Mr. Davis was nominated for the Presidency these two Colonels had seized for Clarksburg and for themselves the Republican nominations for the Senatorship and the Governorship. To omit their names from a review of "Greater Clarksburg" will leave them with a feeling akin to that of neglected stepchildren. A pall of sorrow had already descended upon their high hopes, for if Clarksburg is to have the President, the Senator and the Governor, there must be night schools to teach good Republicans the way to vote for Davis and still remain faithful to the Colonels. Clarksburg and West Virginia recognize no challenger to the pre-eminence of favorite son Davis, and bitter hours are ahead for some of the less gifted ones. Why add to this burden of sorrow by omitting the very mention of their names?

SURVEY OF SCHOOLS ORDERED BY BOARD

TO ANALYZE WHOLE SYSTEM

Improvements Will Be Made as Found Advisable During Experts' Study.

A survey of the public school organization was ordered by the Board of Education at a special meeting held yesterday afternoon. It will be conducted by George J. Ryan, President of the board, and Superintendent of Schools Dr. William J. O'Shea. The work will be started at once, and, to avoid congestion of effort at the end of the inquiry, changes and improvements in the school system will be made as they are found necessary during the survey.

The resolution authorized the President of the board and the Superintendent of Schools to proceed "with a survey of school management with particular respect to practice and equipment; character, cost and use of school buildings; central office business procedure; teaching, recruiting and teacher training; course of study changes and selection of text books; prevocational, cooperative, vocational and continuation schooling and central office and district supervision of instruction."

Dr. William H. Allen, who has conducted school surveys for several years and who in the past has been employed for special work by the Board of Education, will assist the Survey Committee. Superintendent E. C. Hartwell of Buffalo, who has specialized in the training of teachers in service; Superintendent William H. Holmes of Mount Vernon, who has made a special study of methods of individualizing instruction; R. H. Jordan of the College of Education, Cornell University; A. L. Weeks of Syracuse, an architect engineer, with field experience in planning school buildings, and J. W. Withers, head of New York University College of Education and former Superintendent of St. Louis schools, also will assist the committee. The compensation fixed for Mr. Allen is not to exceed $12,000; that of Mr. Hartwell and Mr. Weeks will be $2,000 each; Mr. Holmes, $1,000, and Mr. Jordan and Mr. Withers, $500 each. Helen M. Clarke of 2,055 Creston Avenue and Frances H. Sarka of 39 Seventeen Street, Elmhurst, were also made assistants.

President Ryan told the board that about $800,000,000 would be spent for operation and construction during the term of Dr. O'Shea as Superintendent, and that unless methods were worked out for obtaining needed information in advance of important decisions, taxpayers' money could not be handled to the best advantage and the best results be obtained for the city's children. The following questions, he said, should be answered by the survey:

"1. What are the chief high spots or excellencies in the present program of instruction and the present method of conducting the school system?

"2. What, if any, businesslike steps are we failing to take to hasten the construction of new buildings?

"3. Is there any way to secure more efficient buildings for the same money or equally efficient buildings for less money?

"4. Are we making the best educational use of our new school buildings and the old buildings?

"5. What, if any, changes are needed in the method of administering repair funds?

"6. What headway have we already made and insured to eliminate part time?

"7. What are we doing or leaving undone to make sure that efficiency of instruction shall keep pace with rapidly increasing annual allowances for instructional salaries and with modern best practices?

"8. Where, if at all, might the supervision of instruction be changed in organization or procedure for the benefit of teaching?

"9. What possibilities are there of material improvement in the method of recruiting, selecting, training and promoting tecahers and supervisors?

"10. Where, if at all, in the 6-3-3 course is there opportunity to save one year or more for a large percentage of children while still maintaining or increasing the effectiveness of their school work?

"11. What, if any, economies are possible, while maintaining efficiency, in the handling of supplies?

"12. What, if any, changes are needed in the method of choosing textbooks and in the use of visual aids to instruction?

"13. What next steps are desirable in the aim, content and wording of our courses of study?

"14. Where, if at all, is it desirable to extend the cooperative school method of learning while earning in department stores, business offices and manufacturing plants and in cooperation of schools with museums and libraries?

"15. What, if any, work is the system now doing that might be dropped without serious injury to educational results?

"16. What, if any, needed work is the system failing to do, or failing to expand rapidly enough?

"17. Where is the overhead large enough, too small or too large for administration and supervision?

"18. How, if at all, can the auditing department be made of greater help in operation results?

"19. How, if at all, can better results be obtained by changes or extensions in the educational staff's provision for studying best practices in our own system and elsewhere?

"20. How can this board be more effective in its current study of what is done for children and what is done with public money by our school system?"

President Ryan added:

"Together we intend to work out a method of getting information for ourselves, month by month, so that this board and its superintendents shall always be able to base our answers to the Board of Estimate and the public upon careful analysis."

With the exception of one or two special activities, the committee, he said, would not visit classrooms unless invited to do so for viewing "high spots" mentioned by supervisors and teachers.

WARNS AGAINST GRAIN DEALS

OMAHA, Neb., July 18.—C. J. Osborne, President of the Nebraska Farmers' Union, warned members of the union against purchase of stock in the $26,000,000 consolidation of five grain handling companies into a cooperative marketing organization at Chicago.

"True cooperation," he added, "starts at the bottom in the purchase of small elevators by the farmers. Right now a number of our smaller elevators have gone to the wall. This is because we have not learned the game thoroughly at the bottom.

"The next step in cooperating is to join the grain exchanges and learn to operate them successfully. Then it will be time to handle large elevators and delve into export trade.

"It is suicidal for farmers to dream of entering into such a gigantic plan at this time. They should remember they are purchasing the holdings of these five big concerns at reproduction cost minus depreciation. Under this plan farmers would acquire elevators at the sellers' own price and in a few years would learn that they could not realize on the investment."

ADMIRAL'S WIDOW TO BE QUESTIONED

SHE WAS CUT OFF IN WILL

RIVERHEAD, L. I., July 18.—Mrs. Mathilde Willis Sumner was ordered by Surrogate Robert S. Pelletreau here today to appear before him on July 28 for questioning about the disposition of several thousand dollars' worth of personal property included in the estate of her late husband, Rear Admiral George Watson Sumner, who died Feb. 20 last at the Pines, the Sumner home at Patchogue. Admiral Sumner's will disinherited his widow and left his estate to five children by a former marriage, one of whom has since died.

The petition for Surrogate Pelletreau's order was made by Isaac R. Valentine of Patchogue, temporary administrator of the estate, who declared that Mrs. Sumner, who is more than 70 years of age, was concealing the assets of the estate. His statement was supported by the affidavit of John Saxton Sumner of 82 Lafayette Avenue, Broolyn, one of the testator's sons.

"Since the Admiral's death," Mr. Sumner deposed, "his widow has been evasive and untruthful when interrogated as to the assets of the estate. When she was married to the decedent she had no property of any substantial amount; she was a school teacher in the primary grades before she married Admiral Sumner, with a salary ranging from $504 to $900 per annum.

"In reference to a trunk on the third floor of the Sumner residence at Patchogue, when demand was made by the appraisers that it be opened, the widow stated that she did not have the key. Opening of the trunk was therefore postponed, the appraisers placing seals on it and cautioning Mrs. Sumner not to interfere with the seals or open the trunk.

"It was later discovered that the seals had been tampered with and there was evidence of the lock having been forced. Mrs. Sumner offered keys to open the trunk, none of which fitted, and then consented that the appraisers should force the lock. After this delay nothing was found in the trunk except lace curtains and table linen."

The estate was valued at more than $100,000. The amount of the assets Mrs. Sumner is alleged to be concealing is not estimated in Valentine's petition but they are said to include war relics, heirlooms, money and bonds. Mrs. Sumner refuses to vacate the Pines, to which she says she holds a joint deed.

DOCTOR TO WED NURSE.

For the first time in nearly ten years, a doctor and a nurse, both graduates of Bellevue Hospital, who met while completing their studies there, will be married this evening. The ceremony will be performed at 5 o'clock at the Little Church Around the Corner. Miss Anne Christianson of Crookston, Minn., member of the 1924 class of nurses at Bellevue, will be the bride, and Dr. William Bates Trautman of Shepherdsville, Ky., the bridegroom. An informal reception at the Pennsylvania Hotel will follow.

On Monday they will sail for Bermuda and later go to Europe, returning Sept. 15. They will live at Cherokee Park, Louisville, Ky., where Dr. Trautman will be associated in practice with his uncle, Dr. William Bates, a well known physician of that city.

The romance dates back two and a half years, when the doctor, then an interne, and Miss Christianson, then a probationer, met at the bedside of a patient.

Dr. Trautman is a graduate of the University of Loisville, class of 1920, and has recently been taking a post-graduate course at the Harlem Nose and Throat Clinic. He is the son of Mrs. Ada Trautman of Shepherdsville, Ky., and his father was President of a bank and a well known attorney in that part of Kentucky.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Christianson of Crookston, Minn., and formerly taught in the high school in that town. She also taught for a time in Chevy Chase High School, Washington, D. C. The best man will be Dr. William Evans, a classmate of Dr. Trautman, and the bridesmaid will be Miss Pocahontas Morris of Hazard, Ky., a classmate of the bride-to-be.

JAN MASARYK TO WED.

Son of Czechoslovakian President to Take American Bride.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 18.—The engagement of Miss Wetherbee Crane of New York and Jan Masaryk, son of the President of Czechoslovakia, is to be officially announced in the near future, it was learned today. A reception at Carlsbad, which will be attended by the President and prominent officials and diplomats, will be the occasion.

Miss Crane is the daughter of Charles Richard Crane of Chicago, former President of the Crane Company and Minister to China in 1920-1921. She is a sister of Richard Crane, private secretary to Robert Lansing and later Minister to Czechoslovakia. The engagement of Miss Crane to Jan Masaryk was first rumored last April.

Jean Garrigue Masaryk is the only son of President Thomas Garrigue Masaryk of Czechoslovakia. He was appointed Czechoslovakian Chargé d'Affaires to Washington in 1919, arriving to assume his official duties early in 1920. In May of this year he was appointed Czechoslovakian Minister to London.

Charles H. Consolvo Weds.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 18.—Charles H. Consolvo, 52 years old, of Baltimore, owner of the Hotel Belvedere, Baltimore, the Hotel Monticello, Richfolk, Va., and the Hotel Jefferson, Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Mary Byrd Coble, 26, also of Baltimore and formerly of Clark County, Va., were married here last night at the Hotel Ritz-Carlton by Atlantic City Recorder Joseph A. Corio. Members of the Severn Club, a New York Cty hotel men's organization, and hotel men from Norfolk, Baltimore and Richmond and relatives of the bride, who is the daughter of Wyckham Byrd, one of the James River Byrds, were present.

Miss Florence Blue a Bride.

Miss Florence Anne Blue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Enos Lanning Blue of Darien, Conn., was married yesterday afternoon to Herbert Emmerson Quin of Harleton, Texas. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. Dr. George A. Tuttle of Norwalk, Conn. Miss Hjordis Hillman of Nutley, N. J., was the bride's only attendant. William H. North of Darien acted as best man. After a short honeymoon trip through New England Mr. and Mrs. Quin will make their home in Darien.

Miss Florence Blake to Wed.

Mrs. Michael H. Blake of 348 West Twenty-third Street has announced the engagement of her daughter, Florence F., to Edward Joseph Hayden of Richmond Hill, L. I., President of Hayden, Inc. Miss Blake is the daughter of the late Michael H. Blake, for many years Republican leader of the Third Assembly District.

SOCIAL NOTES

New York.

Mrs. Edward C. Mears Kemp and her daughter, Miss Margaret Kemp, of 127 East Seventy-first Street, who returned a week ago from a trip of five months in the Orient, are sailing today on the Majestic to pass the remainder of the Summer in Europe. They will spend August motoring in England and Scotland, where they will visit at St. Andrews. Then they will go to Paris for six weeks, after which they will return to America. On their visit to the Orient they traveled 30,000 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Bell have closed their home in Kennellworth Road, Rye, and have gone to Easthampton, L. I., to remain until after Labor Day.

Dr. and Mrs. John A. Vietor of 910 Fifth Avenue are sailing on the Majestic today to spend a month in France and England, returning to this country early in September.

Mrs. Chicester C. Kerr, instead of going to her Summer place at Spring Lake, has gone to Saranac Lake to remain until September. Mr. Kerr will join her for August.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Greenleaf Sykes and the Misses Martha and Elizabeth Sykes of 580 Park Avenue are sailing today on the Majestic to pass the Summer in Europe.

Miss Lucy T. Aldrich of Providence, who is also sailing on the Majestic, will join her sister, Mrs. John D. Rockefeller Jr., and Miss Abby Rockefeller, with whom she will visit India.

Miss Mabel Gwynne has left Medehamstede, Rye, and gone to Gloucester, Mass., to pass the Summer months.

Miss Harriet J. M. Camac, who has been passing several weeks with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Charles N. B. Camac, at La Falaise, their place at Murray Bay, Canada, has returned to New York and is sailing today to join her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Harvey Isitt, in Paris, to spend August motoring with them on the Continent. Mrs. Isitt before her marriage last month was Miss Eva Camac.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Stuart Wing have come from Old Westbury, L. I., for a short stay at the Ambassador.

Dinners in advance of the dance will be given at villas and also at the club.

TO KEEP UP PHONE FIGHT.

Nicholson Says City Will Use All Resources to Prevent Increase.

Corporation Counsel George P. Nicholson declared yesterday that he intended to continue to fight the attempt of the New York Telephone Company to get congratulated upon the victory won by an increase in telephone rates, despite the decision of the Public Service Commission denying the increase.

"The people of New York are to be the city," said Mr. Nicholson. "The battle is not yet ended, for the New York Telephone Company has turned to the Federal courts for relief. At the direction of the Mayor, I will use all of the resources of this office to protect the telephone users and to oppose the unfair demands of the New York Telephone Company, whether before the Public Service Commission or in the courts."

THEATRICAL NOTES.

A negro revue entitled "Honey," with book by Miller and Lyles, music by Robert Ricketts and Porter Grainger, and lyrics by Jo Trent, will be produced soon by a new organization incorporated under the name of Southland.

OUR POPULATION NOW 112,078,611

Boston 776,783, Cleveland Has 912,502, St. Louis 812,698, Baltimore 784,983, Pittsburgh 625,915.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Eleven cities have grown into the 100,000 population class during the last year. Estimates of population of the principal cities of the country as of July 1, this year, show there are seventy-nine having 100,000 inhabitants or more, as compared with sixty-eight last year. The Census Bureau in preparing the estimates did not calculate the population of some of the rapidly growing cities, such as Detroit, Los Angeles, Seattle, Denver, Akron, Bridgeport, Houston and Spokane.

The relative rank of some of the cities is changed by the new estimates. New Orleans has passed Cincinnati, Rochester has outgrown Jersey City, and St. Paul has surpassed Providence. Oakland's population has grown so that it now outranks St. Paul, and Providence and Springfield, Mass., have passed Grand Rapids.

New York has passed the 6,000,000 mark, Chicago is approaching 3,000,000 and Philadelphia the 2,000,000 mark, while Cleveland is somewhat short of 1,000,000. Detroit, for which no estimate was made, has likely passed the 1,000,000 mark, as its population was estimated at almost 996,000 a year ago.

New York, 6,015,504; Chicago, 2,939,605; Philadelphia, 1,951,076; Cleveland, 912,502; St. Louis, 812,698; Baltimore, 784,983; Boston, 776,783; Pittsburgh, 625,915.

San Francisco, 548,284; Buffalo, 545,273; Milwaukee, 492,087; Washington, 486,936; Newark, 445,606; Minneapolis, 417,280; New Orleans, 409,534; Cincinnati, 407,835; Kansas City, Mo., 359,650.

Fort Worth, 148,107; Des Moines, 145,053; Scranton, 141,451; Paterson, 140,637; New Bedford, 136,602; Trenton, 129,705; Salt Lake City, 128,364; Camden, 126,399; Nashville, 123,424; Fall River, 121,034.

Wilmington, Del., 119,888; Albany, 118,527; Kansas City, Kan., 117,762; Lowell, 115,755; Cambridge, 111,944; Reading, 111,812; Tulsa, 111,328; Yonkers, 109,618; Duluth, 108,395.

The Lambs and the Actors' Fund Get Income on a Part of It.

An accounting of the estate of Charles H. Hoyt, playwright, filed yesterday, gives the value of the estate as $100,000. Among the assets are royalties from the sale of film rights of his plays amounting to $18,612. Some of these plays are "A Brass Monkey," "A Trip to Chinatown," "A Texas Steer," "A Day and a Night," "A Contented Woman" and "Black Sheep."

The will directed that the royalties be divided equally between Frank McKee, a former partner of Hoyt, and Elwood Dasher, a friend. As McKee and Dasher are dead, they now go to Mattie McKee of 260 West Seventy-second Street and Grace Dasher of Indianapolis, Ind., their next of kin.

The income from the remainder of the estate, the executor reports, has been turned over to The Lambs and the Actors' Fund of America, as provided in the will. Hoyt left his country home in Charlestown, N. H., to The Lambs, directing that it be known as "Hoyt's Pasture for the Lambs."

REINHARDT'S PICTURES SEIZED FOR ALIMONY

VIENNA, July 18.—Although a decree divorcing Max Reinhardt and Elsie Heims, who for many years was his leading woman, has not been issued, the Pressburg court has seized pictures to the value of $600 in Reinhardt's castle, near Salzburg, because he refused to pay 500 gold marks a month alimony ordered by the court.

This sum is for arrears. The court also threatens to denude Reinhardt's new theatre here of some of its art objects for the same reason.

Decision Reserved in Action to Restrain Dealing in Oil Stock.

Supreme Court Justice Burr reserved decision yesterday on the application of Attorney General Sherman for an injunction restraining Charles Greenhaus, a broker, from dealing in stock of the Middle States Oil Company by inducing stockholders to exchange their stock for notes issued by him. In the argument yesterday counsel for Greenhaus asserted that his client was benefiting the stockholders, and insisted that the company had no cause to complain to the Attorney General.

Bernard J. Sandler, attorney for the company, had with him in court a supply of the 7 per cent. notes in denominations of $500, $100 and $50. Stockholders had alleged that after they had turned in their stock they could not get the notes.

Deputy Attorney General Chambers said that false representations had been made to the Middle States stockholders, and that many of them had the idea that Greenhaus was acting as trustee in Middle States Oil proceedings for their benefit, which, he said, was untrue. Frederick J. Sullivan, representing the oil company, said that the concern had received several hundred letters from stockholders who complained that they had sold their stock to Greenhaus but had not received the notes.

HONORS LONELY GRAVE OF PENN IN ENGLAND

LONDON, July 18 (Associated Press).—Members of the Poor Richard Club of Philadelphia today placed a huge wreath, the gift of the people of the State of Pennsylvania, on the obscure grave of William Penn in the little cemetery which skirts the wayside in the village of Jordans Corner, forty miles from London.

Most of Pennsylvania's 150 delegates to the International Advertising Convention made the pilgrimage by charabancs to the out-of-the-way grave. A letter was read from Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania to the Quakers of the world.

Governor Pinchot, in his letter, said that if the people of the world lived up to the principles and faith of William Penn the problems of the world would be solved quickly without war and peace would reign always.

"Our problems will never be solved until we can truthfully call each other brother, and that is what we in Pennsylvania owe to William Penn," Mr. Pinchot added.

Jarvis Wood, President of the club, delivered a short message, which was answered by a representative of the Quakers of Jordans Corner.

LONDON, July 18.—All work and no play makes even advertisers dull, so today the visiting delegates to the International Advertising Convention rounded off their week's labors as guests at various forms of entertainment provided by their British hosts.

About a thousand of them journeyed to Heven Castle, where they were received by Major Astor, M. P., and Lady Violet Astor. Another party were guests of Lord Riddell at Walton Heath, and the Federation of Master Process Engravers provided a day's golf at Moor Park for another party. Lord Ashfield entertained 700 delegates and their wives at a garden party at Hampton Court Palace and Gordon Selfridge gave a ball at Lansdowne House.

The Government lunched a representative gathering from the convention in the House of Commons. W. Lunn, Parliamentary Secretary of the Department of Overseas Trade, and J. H. Clynes welcomed the delegates, and Stanley Resor replied on behalf of the American guests. The visitors, Mr. Resor said, now recognized how much more human the British nation was compared with the picture drawn in much American literature.

YALE TAPESTRIES SELL IN LONDON FOR £6,800

LONDON, July 18.—The Yale tapestries, sold at Sotheby's today, brought £6,800. The purchasers were H. and J. Simmons.

The Yale tapestries, which are four old English panels woven with Indo-Chinese subjects, once belonged to the eldest daughter of Elihu Yale, for whom Yale University was named.

Woven into the panels are innumerable figures, buildings, exotic birds, trees and landscapes, all on black backgrounds. Two of the panels bear the mark of the Mortlake and other factories. The largest panel is 17 feet 9 inches by 10 feet high, and the smallest is 8 feet 4 inches by 11 feet high.

The tapestries were in the posession of the family of the Earl of Guilford from the time of the marriage of the eldest daughter of Elihu Yale to Dudley North of Glemham, son of the second Baron Guilford. They remained at Glemham, Suffolk, until the recent sale of that estate by the present vendor, Lord Guilford.

The tapestries belong to a well-known type—the so-called Indian tapestries—worked by Vanderbank, who got his inspiration from fine Chinese lacquer screens. Two of the panels signed by Vanderbank are at Belton, and another is in the Victoria and Albert Museum. Vanderbank designed numerous tapestries for the Crown.

WILL CUT MOROCCAN FORCE.

Primo de Rivera to Abandon Fighting Front, but Hold Forts and Cities.

CEUTA, Morocco, July 18 (Associated Press).—General Primo de Rivera, President of the Military Directorate of Spain, who is here in connection with the Moroccan revolt, has indicated that he will withdraw all of the Spanish peninsular troops from the fighting front, leaving only strong garrisons on the coast and at fortresses such as Melilla, Ceuta and Tetuan. It is said that he plans to use volunteer troops as flying columns to maintain order and in punitive expeditions.

In the Spanish zone the regular peninsular troops now number just over 70,000 of all arms, including 39,000 infantry, 3,000 cavalry, 11,500 artillery, 8,000 engineers, 4,500 supply services and 3,000 ambulance corps, besides smaller auxiliary units.

There are also both regular and irregular native units numbering 20,000 men and a foreign legion of approximately 6,000. Before these steps are taken, it is said, General Primo de Rivera intends to make a military demonstration on a grand scale in order to display strength and to show the rebellious tribesmen the futility of opposing the Spaniards.

COLD IN MIDDLE WEST.

Temperature Drops to 45 Degrees in Granville, Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 18.—Granville, with a temperature of 45 degrees—only 13 degrees above freezing—was the coldest place in Ohio last night, according to available figures issued at the United States Weather Bureau today.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 18.—The temperature in Grand Rapids last night fell to 47 degrees, equaling the lowest temperature ever recorded here during July since the establishment of the local Weather Bureau. The same temperature was recorded in 1912.

ACCUSE SCOUTS OF MUTINY.

MANILA, July 18 (Associated Press).—A formal charge of causing mutiny and soliciting soldiers to join a union, thereby causing discontent and impairing morale, have been filed against fifteen ringleaders of the recent disturbance among the Philippine Scouts at Fort McKinley.

The remainder of the Scouts, who, it is alleged, joined in the strike movement for an equalization of pay with white soldiers, are charged with joining a mutiny and conspiring to begin and join a mutiny.

Each group will be tried en masse.

DEADLOCK DELAYS QUEENS BOULEVARD

Removal of Trolley Tracks Leads to a Controversy Which Prevents Improvement.

CITY'S CLAIM IS OPPOSED

Progress upon the task of widening, regrading and repaving Queens Boulevard, one of the most traveled automobile thoroughfares in the city, is menaced with indefinite delay through a deadlock which came to light yesterday. New York City already has invested $4,200,000 for land to make possible the straightening and widening of this important thoroughfare. Scores of buildings have been demolished and many others, including a handsome stone church in Elmhurst, have been moved back from the new street line. Work upon contracts involving approximately $500,000, which now is under way and on which penalties will have to be paid by the city, is about to be suspended because of the attitude taken by Mayor Hylan and some of the other members of the Board of Estimate toward the Manhattan and Queens Traction Company, the rails of which surface road must be moved to permit of prompt progress in improving the boulevard.

Attorneys representing the city and others retained by the bondholders of the trolley company were in conference yesterday in an effort to find some way out of the difficulty. Unless they can reach some agreement this important and costly improvement may be held up for years and the principal sufferers will be not only property owners along the boulevard, but also the hundreds of thousands of automobile owners who habitually have used this main highway of Queens Borough.

Contractors at present are making deep cuts and fills for the new roadway at the side of the old and narrower boulevard. It was the intention, as soon as these cuts and fills could be completed, to shift to their new location the tracks of the trolley company, so as to permit the grading of the older portions of the highway to the new lines and the new levels.

The deadlock has developed over the question, Who is to make this track removal? The City of New York claims ownership of the railway since the Board of Estimate declared its franchise forfeited because the company failed to build an extension of its line to St. Albans. That attitude on the part of the Board of Estimate has been vigorously opposed by Maurice M. Connolly, President of the Borough of Queens.

Bondholders of the trolley company are contesting the position of the Board of Estimate in the Federal courts. An injunction granted by Federal Judge Robert A. Inch forbids the city officials to interfere with the tracks in their present location.

FOR NAVY MEMORIAL.

Cardinal Hayes Wishes It Success and Contributes $100.

Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Navy and Marine Memorial, made public the text of a letter received from Cardinal Hayes in support of the project yesterday.

"In reply to the appeal for the Navy and Marine Memorial, I shall be pleased to be associated with the movement and I enclose my contribution of $100," says the letter, which wishes "the movement every success, not only in the material building of the monument but especially in the realization of the romantic and spiritual expression you would have it convey."

It is the intention of the Navy and Marine Memorial, of which Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur is honorary Chairman, to erect in Washington a monument dedicated to those who have been lost at sea. Congress has approved the project and has allotted to the monument a conspicuous site in the capital city.

MRS. CHAS. W. ELIOT DIES.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Mass., July 18.—News was received this afternoon of the death at Northeast Harbor, Me., of Mrs. Grace Mellen Hopkinson Eliot, wife of Charles W. Eliot, President Emeritus of Harvard University. Mrs. Eliot was in her 78th year and she and Dr. Eliot went immediately following the Harvard commencement to Northeast Harbor, where they long have had a Summer home.

Mrs. Eliot was a native of Cambridge and was married to Dr. Eliot on Oct. 30, 1877, eight years after the death of his first wife. Mrs. Eliot was the daughter of the late Judge Thomas Hopkinson, who was the first scholar in the Harvard class of 1830, and for some time Judge of the Court of Common Pleas. Later he was President of the Boston & Worcester Railroad Company.

The Eliot residence in Northeast Harbor is on Moun. Desert Island. Mrs. Eliot had for many years been an invalid and for that reason rarely appeared in public. Funeral services will be held at Northeast Harbor Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

TOMORROW

FEATURE SECTION

The uncertainty of the Presidential outlook is discussed. A map accompanies the article, indicating how indefinite the situation is, with three important parties in the field. The farmer, labor, Klan, Independents and the feminine votes all add to the uncertainty of the outcome. It is suggested that the personality of the candidates may determine victory.

The achievements of Paavo Nurmi and his teammates from Finland at the Paris Olympics has led many to ask the question, "Why do the Finns excel in athletics?" This question is partially answered in an article which gives some of the background of these successful contestants, with comparisons of Nurmi's feats and those of the mythical Milo of Croton.

Now that Tammany has chosen its sixth "emperor" in the person of Judge Olvany, an article in review of the activities and purposes of Tammany Hall from its inception and the characteristics of the new chief's five predecessors is of interest. The Judge's fitness for his post is discussed.

An informative review of the political situation in Brazil. What the Sao Paulo adventurers are aiming at; the powerful factors moving against the military clique which for the second time in the past two years has taken up arms against the Government.

MAGAZINE SECTION.

The important part which radio has taken in politics is discussed by Helen Bullitt Lowry. The political orator must now abridge some of his discursive speeches, and no longer may he emphasize and give aid to his remarks by pacing up and down the platform. He is confined to the immediate vicinity of a microphone.

Recent disastrous forest fires in the West give unusual interest to a description by Wallace Smith of smoke chasers—their duties and dangers. Drawings by the author show a smoke-chasing Paul Revere at Wind River, Wash., and a fire patrol digging trenches to stay oncoming flames.

Edward Alden Jewell tells most delightfully of the baby Moses and the daughter of Pharaoh in the fountain of the Gardens of the Pincio, Rome, who practice the most thorough bath on an occasion when he happened to be there; then he goes on to describe the majesty of Michelangelo's Moses in the Church of San Pietro in Vincoli, Rome.

BOOK REVIEW

"Eternal Rome, the City and Its People from the Earliest Times to the Present Day," by Grant Showerman, is reviewed by James Luby, accompanied by a beautifully reproduced drawing by Giuseppe Mentessi of the Arch of Septimus Severus. Mr. Showerman stresses the unbroken hold of the Eternal City on the imagination of men through the ages.

A record of the life and work of John Peter Altgeld, one-time Governor of Illinois, who clashed with President Cleveland when the latter insisted on sending Federal troops to Chicago to quell the Pullman strike, has been written by Waldo R. Browne. Robert L. Duffus reviews the man as a liberal ahead of his time.

Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan: a chronicle play in six scenes and an epilogue," in which Shaw, with a reasonability which is consistent throughout, reveals the character of the Maid in a totally different light from preconceived notions, forms the basis of an interesting discussion.

ROTOGRAVURE-PICTURE SECTION

Double page of photographs of scenes and contestants in the Olympic Games in which America has a total of 255 points, with Finland second at 166. Picture of "the world's greatest athlete"—P. Nurmi, Finland, who won the 1,500-meter and 5,000-meter runs in one day and the 10,000-meter run two days later.

An eighty-year-old melodrama from England, coupled with a brief bit of operatic burlesque, came adventurously to the Frazee Theatre last night, to swell by one the declining dramatic list of mid-July. As with the recent revival of "The Fatal Wedding," the motivating force was in all probability the success of "Fashion." "Sweeney Todd" corresponds to the American piece in period. It turned out to be a flavorous old melodrama, which, as is the way with these old pieces, has turned comic in the spots where it was most seriously meant. And this, of course, together with a certain archaeological interest, gives it its chief value as entertainment on Broadway today.

"Sweeney Todd"—it carries the subtitle of "The Barber of Fleet Street, or The String of Pearls"—probably was not ever regarded as representative English entertainment, even in the 1842 of its original production. Its crudities are perhaps no greater than those of "Fashion," but the English stage was a somewhat more polished institution than the American in those days. "Sweeney Todd," probably, was the Lyceum melodrama of its day.

At all events, its tale of a murderous barber who drops his customers through the floor to the cellar, there to make them into veal pies—even in those days the Englishman had his sense of humor—furnishes not a few laughs as it is acted at the Frazee at present. The villainous barber is played quite well by Robert Vivian, but the most effective performance is given by Percy Baverstock, who gives a splendid air of seriousness to the rôle of a flowery Colonel.

Here and there, particularly in a scene in a madhouse, the old melodramatic flavor shows through, and the story actually holds for a few minutes. Chiefly, however, "Sweeney Todd" is of interest as an exhibit of what we escaped. It has been produced by Wendell Phillips Dodge with much care and due attention to the period.

The afterpiece, entitled "Bombastes Furioso," is a typical bit of operatic burlesque, neither funnier nor less so than they generally are. After all, the theory that opera lends itself particularly to burlesque treatment was never a highly tenable one, in the view of one who has observed not a few of the burlesques over the years.

GREAT CROWD AT STADIUM.

Oratorio Society and the Philharmonic Perform Beethoven's Ninth.

A crowd which filled every seat, stood in dense formation and sat on the ground attended the performance of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony at the Stadium last evening by the Philharmonic Orchestra under William van Hoogstraten, assisted by 200 picked voices from the Oratorio Society. The soloists were Frazer Gange, who sang the baritone solo in a resonant and powerful voice; Ruth Rodgers, Helen Marsh and Charles Stratton. The thousands listened with deep attention and responded with a common impulse to this message from the past century.

There was no mistaking the attitude of an audience which had turned out in such numbers to do honor to the great composer. Mr. Van Hoogstraten, the orchestra and singers must have felt the significance of the occasion; they threw themselves without reserve into their task, and accomplished a mass uplift of the spirit like that of religious experience.

The final choral movement, with the orchestra re-inforced by the chorus, brought the people literally to their feet.

JOHN W. DAVIS, Candidate

In addition there are two pages devoted to Olympic stars, now in training or contesting. Another feature is a large picture, taken from the air, showing a multitude of over half a million people thronging the beaches of Coney Island.

EMPIRE OIL CHARGE DENIED BY DOHERTY

Dismissal of $10,000,000 Suit Is Asked on Technical Grounds, However.

SAY CONTRACT WAS BROKEN

Supreme Court Justice Burr reserved decision yesterday on an application by Henry L. Doherty and others to dismiss the complaint in the $10,000,000 damage suit brought against them by William K. Vanderbilt, Benjamin F. Yoakum and William J. Payne, as stockholders of the Empire Transportation and Oil Company. The defendants denied that by their action the stockholders of the Empire company were damaged, as alleged in the complaint filed by Samuel Untermyer as attorney for the plaintiff, but they asked the dismissal of the complaint on the ground that the action should have been brought by the corporation instead of by individual stockholders.

The suit is based on allegations that Vanderbilt, Yoakum and Payne were large stockholders of Mexican oil properties which they turned over to Doherty to be consolidated under the name of the Empire Transportation and Oil Company, to be managed by Doherty, who was to lend $2,000,000 for the development of the consolidated concern and was to get half the stock. It is alleged that the loans were to be continued for a period of five years.

The stockholders charge that after Doherty came into possession of the properties the company was wrecked and was bought in for Doherty's benefit by a corporation controlled by him on representations that the property was worth $1,700,000, whereas it had a value of $25,000,000. The plaintiffs also alleged that Doherty negotiated a contract with the Sinclair company by which he was to get for one of his corporations in which the plaintiffs were not interested 20 per cent. of the oil produced on the property and the Empire company was to have only 40 per cent., the remainder going to the Sinclair company for its profits.

In contending that the suit was brought properly by the individual stockholders rather than by the corporation, Mr. Untermyer argued that the action was based on a breach of individual contract with Vanderbilt, Yoakum and Payne on one hand, and Mr. Doherty and his associates on the other.

BUSINESS NOTES.

A housewarming will be held at 1:30 P. M. today at the new quarters of Stern Brothers, dress manufacturers, 242 West Thirty-eighth Street. Music will be provided by Harold Stern and his orchestra from the Hotel Belleclair. A large attendance of business friends is expected.

The special Ribbon Committee of the Silk Association of America has endorsed the publication of a new issue of the book "Ribbon Art." It will be illustrated in color and will contain many new suggestions and directions for the making of ribbons into useful and ornamental articles. The book will be ready for distribution about Aug. 15.

Abe Milstein and Albert Feigelson, formerly with Frank & Eisen, have entered upon the manufacture of coats and suits at 114 West Thirtieth Street.

CALIFORNIA OIL SITUATION.

Price Reductions Won't Affect It, Says Standard President.

The reductions in the prices of crude oil announced in the mid-Continent district will have little if any effect on the oil situation in California, in the opinion of K. R. Kingsbury, President of the Standard Oil Company of California, the largest organization operating on the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Kingsbury's opinion is based upon the following reasons: first, the present prices in California for crude oil and finished products are so low that these markets are not competitive with the mid-Continent or Gulf Coast fields; second, the relative prices for crude oil in California and the mid-Continent and Gulf fields afford sufficient margin for California to ship its surplus crude oil to the Atlantic seaboard.

The head of the California organization further said: "During the first six months of this year California shipments of crude oil to the Atlantic seaboard averaged a little more than 100,000 barrels daily, against a daily average of over 200,000 during the peak production. California's potential production of crude oil in September last year approximated 970,000 barrels a day; at present the potential production is 640,000 a day. This anticipated decline in the production of crude oil has now reached a point where local consumption, together with shipments to the Eastern markets, has resulted in a practical balance in the situation here. Consumption of gasoline, fuel oil and other petroleum products continues to increase while production of crude oil in California continues to decline."

COTTONSEED PRODUCTION.

Mills Have 29,285 Tons on Hand, as Compared to 13,586 a Year Ago.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Cotton seed crushed in the eleven months from Aug. 1 to June 30, amounted to 3,285,102 tons, the Census Bureau announced today, compared with 3,226,771 in the same period a year ago. Cottonseed on hand at mills, June 30, totaled 29,285 tons, compared with 13,586 a year ago.

Exports of cottonseed products in the eleven months were: Crude oil 23,406,602 pounds, compared with 25,625,475; refined oil 14,207,753 pounds, compared with 37,041,624; cake and meal 119,772 tons, compared with 221,173; and linters 107,238 bales, compared with 37,777.

Live Stock Prices at Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Shippers were after light and medium weight butcher hogs, which advanced ten cents, while other kinds were generally unchanged. The top of the day was $8.15, a new high for the year, or 60 cents above Monday and 85 cents above last year. The average price was up ten cents at $7.75. Shippers took about 9,000 of 31,000 hogs received. A better demand prevailed for lambs and, while receipts were 14,000, prices showed little change. Most of the Westerners sold at $14.50. Beef steers were generally steady. Receipts were 4,000, with the top at $10.25.

Spring Gingham Prospects Fair.

It is still too early to venture any guess as to Spring prices for ginghams, says a leading manufacturer of the better grade novelties in these fabrics. Business is still quiet, but there are, he points out, indications that the Spring season will be fairly good. Salesmen on their first trip have taken satisfactory orders and report that retail stocks are low. The better grades, especially, are in demand by dress manufacturers, and a wide diversity of patterns and colors is ready to meet their requirements. There is some trend toward stripes, plaids and unusual color combinations, with the result that the fabrics bear little resemblance to the old staple patterns.

Silk Underwear Styles Varied.

Glove silk underwear is being shown in a wider diversity of styles than ever before and reorders are coming in steadily, one of the largest manufacturers of this merchandise said yesterday. Prices are at least 20 per cent. lower than last year's, he pointed out. While there is no anticipation of future wants, he said, there is liberal buying for present needs. The favored color is still pink, with peach a close second. There is a decided trend toward lace-trimmed novelties, and especially toward color combinations.

Has a Winter Refrigerator.

One of the newest items on the list of a leading manufacturer of household novelties is a popular-priced window-box refrigerator to be used in Winter without ice. It rests on the window-sill, with the partially raised window resting on its upper inside edge, and projects outward. Additional support is received from two wires attached to the outside frame of the window. It is made of galvanized iron and is 24 inches long, 15 inches high and 9½ inches deep. It has sliding doors and is equipped with a shelf. The wholesale price is $17.50 a dozen.

Style Changes Worry Shoe Men.

The attendance at the style show of the shoe manufacturers at the Mechanics Building in Boston this week has been unusually large, according to a jobber who has just returned from that city. Dealers are somewhat worried, he says, over the rapidly changing styles in women's shoes, which are in some cases rendering large stocks valueless. Gorings continue in favor. In many of the samples the gorings are elaborately beaded in gold, jet and other colors. Patent leather predominates, with satin a close second and kid less in favor. In men's shoes business is uneven at the moment. Shoes with crêpe rubber soles are a leading feature, even for Fall delivery.

Lace Outlook Is Promising.

Lace importers and manufacturers are much encouraged over the prospect of an unusually good season. Orders are coming in steadily, and salesmen have had unusual success in bookings for September and October deliveries. Buyers are anticipating their wants, a condition that has been unknown in the lace trade for ten years or more. Metal laces are holding up well, but they are of a softer type than heretofore, and in medium widths. Belgian laces of metal combined with colored embroidery on a dark ground are very popular in certain quarters, as well as narrow trimmings beaded in a wide variety of colors. In the staple lines Venetian point is easily first in widths ranging up to 18 inches, or even in 27-inch flouncings. Flouncings, however, are not likely to be generally popular, although many new and attractive effects in these goods are seen.

Offers a Novel Night Light.

A handy electric night light with a novel "on-and-off" arrangement is being placed on the local market. It is made in the conventional candlestick form, with a small bulb at the top, and the current for lighting is supplied by a flashlight battery in the base. Its feature is that when lifted from a table or wherever else it is placed, the bulb lights. When put back the light goes out. This is accomplished by means of a series of contacts in the base that are made or broken when the light is lifted from or returned to a flat surface. The base and the "candle" portions of the light are finished in various colors. Three small batteries, it is said, will supply all of the current needed for a year. The light wholesales at $2.95 each.

The Later Heavyweight Demand.

While as yet there are no signs of an active spot demand for men's wear Fall fabrics, the woolen goods trade is still confident that it will materialize. Next month and September, in the opinion of representative selling agents, will see the retailers more anxious to cover their Fall needs, which will require the manufacturing clothiers to go into the market for additional piece goods. Estimates made by the mill representatives are that the retailers have so far not covered more than half of their requirements, if as much as that. If the demand shapes up as expected, there will be a substantial shortage of desirable fabrics, it is asserted, as the mills have proceeded very carefully in making goods for stock.

Must Push Anthracite Hard.

The ability of the anthracite market to absorb tonnage as fast as the collieries can produce it is being put to a severe test, Saward's Journal will say today. A progressive falling off in requirements is under way, and each week the sales organizations have to redouble their efforts in order to keep the output moving. Independent prices are weakening, and, while the companies stick to their circulars, the surplus of certain sizes which they are obliged to stock is becoming larger. A number of small operators have closed down until conditions improve. Bituminous coal is so hard to sell that many salesmen have been called in because they were not making expenses.

Gray Goods Prices Rising.

The tone of gray goods prices continued to improve in this market yesterday, more especially in the print-cloths. All of the 38½-inch 60-48s that were available at 7½ cents were disposed of, and 7⅝ cents is now the general asking price. A limited business at the latter figure was done in the closing hours. Ten cents was paid for July lots of 39-inch 68-72s, with similar deliveries of 38½-inch 64-60s sold at 9 cents. Bids of that figure for later shipments were rejected by sellers. In the sheetings July deliveries of 37-inch 48-square four-yard goods were sold at 10½ cents, and there was some trading in 36-inch five-yard sheetings at 8¾ cents. For a limited quantity of 37-inch 3.95-yard drills 10¼ cents was paid. The rest of the market was devoid of interest.

THE WEEK'S PRICE TREND.

Foodstuffs Prices Were Higher—Advances Exceed Declines.

For the first time in many months Dun's list of wholesale commodities prices this week showed an excess of advances over declines. So marked was the disparity between the two, in fact, that there were nearly three times as many of the former as of the latter. In a list showing 82 revisions there were 61 advances, against 28 advances in 59 changes last week. The chief strength, judged by the preponderance of "ups" over "downs," was shown by the markets for foodstuffs and raw wool.

The following list gives the minimum wholesale prices quoted on selected standard commodities this week. They are corrected to yesterday, and with them are given comparative prices for last week and the corresponding week a year ago:

†Nominal.

So numerous were the advances in the foodstuffs this week that they outnumbered the declines by nearly three to one. The feature of these changes was the sharp upturn in the price of flour, due to the increased cost of wheat. Spring patents went up 70 cents a barrel, while Winter soft straights and the family grade of fancy Minnesota flour went up 50 and 65 cents a barrel, respectively. Middle Western lard was also higher here, but no change was seen in hams or bacon. At Chicago mess pork and live steers were unchanged, but higher prices were registered by live hogs, live sheep and short ribs.

Changes in the dairy products list, although upward this week were again confined to the best listed butter and the best quality of fresh gathered eggs. In both cases the advances were fractional.

A rise in fancy apples, the price of which is largely nominal, was the only change in the listed fresh fruits. The dried ones showed advances in citron, peaches, lemon peel and orange peel. The declines occurred in apples, apricots and prunes.

A rise in choice red kidney beans and a further decline of 25 cents a barrel in new potatoes were the only changes in the vegetables. Potatoes are now held at $2.75 a barrel, against $5 at this time a year ago.

For the first time in a long while the beverage list was bare of changes either way. The only changes in the spices were advances in cloves and white pepper. The best raw sugar declined again, and this time the price of fine granulated dropped in sympathy.

All of the week's changes in the list for grains were upward, they taking place in wheat, corn, oats, rye and malting barley. The only drop in the hide list was in No. 1 kips, while advances took place in No. 1 native packers, heavy native cows, No. 1 buffs, No. 1 extremes and Chicago city calfskins. No change was seen in leather.

Twenty-one changes were recorded in the combined lists for drugs, chemicals, dyestuffs and oils, of which thirteen were advances. Features were few and far between. The only revision in the naval stores was a rise in turpentine.

Common Hudson River brick, which went down, supplied the sole change in the building materials. The only change in the lumber list was a break in California redwood bevel siding. In the metals declines in Bessemer pig iron and antimony contrasted with advances in zinc and tin.

Ten of the listed grades of domestic wool were higher this week, these being the first advances shown in that part of the general list for some time. Japanese raw silk was also higher, while both Brazilian and plantation crude rubbers continued their advance.

The week in the textiles was not productive of many changes. Burlaps were stronger here, largely due to the continued shortage of heavy goods. A firmer tone to unfinished cottons also developed, but prices on several fabrics in a prominent line of wash goods that was opened for next Spring showed declines.

To Exhibit at Millinery Show.

Announcement was made yesterday of the names of exhibitors at the Fall Fashion Show of the Retail Millinery Association of America, Inc., by Alfred Fantl, President of the association. At the show, which takes place on July 29 at the Hotel Astor, there will be eight wholesale and three retail exhibitors, a special association exhibit and an additional number featuring misses' and young women's millinery. The wholesale firms are Gage Brothers & Co., Dave Herstein Company, Charles Kibel, Kroll Hat Company, Randa Hat Company, Rosenblum & Co., Nathan Schreiber and the Vogue Hat Company. The retail exhibitors will be Bruck-Weiss, Mme. Frances and Hickson's, Inc. The showing of misses' and young women's millinery will be presented by the May Smith hats. An entertainment feature will be staged by the Pullastic Company of America, showing the contrast between styles of 1924 and those of 1824 and 1724.

Hawaii Has a Record Sugar Crop.

HONOLULU, July 18 (Associated Press).—The final estimate of the Hawaiian sugar crop of 1924 indicates a record production of 678,000 tons, it was announced today. It exceeds by 32,000 tons last year's crop. The high record production was in 1915, when 646,445 tons were produced in the Hawaiian Islands. The estimated value of the present crop is $70,000,000.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Railroad Issues Lead in a Wide Market, Exceeding One Million Shares—Grains React.

Wall Street considered the refusal of the Interstate Commerce Commission to reduce grain prices as a great victory for the railroads. On the Stock Exchange this news vied with the latest "merger rumors" in firing the imagination of those who have become interested in the railroad shares, and in a market which has not been exceeded in volume since the latter part of February, prices for most of the representative issues advanced into new high ground for the year. It could hardly be said that the decision will greatly affect the year's net outcome of traffic results. What it did, however, was to remove one of the obstacles which railroad officials believed lay in the path of satisfactory yearly earnings.

It is rather unusual to see the railroad shares advance so buoyantly and vigorously at a time when the actual statistics indicate more idle cars and locomotives than at any previous time in the history of the roads at this season of the year. Figures announced yesterday place the number of idle freight cars at 350,000 and the locomotives at 7,000. Of course, it is argued that this surplus equipment will be needed a little later in the Autumn to care for the rush of grain and merchandise traffic anticipated at that time. Probably it is a reflection, too, of the splendid position of the roads so far as their equipment stands. They are ready, at least, to handle efficiently almost any volume of trade which may develop. In that respect, at any rate, the possibilities are limitless.

The stock market had to share interest yesterday once more with the grain markets, but this time because of a reaction which carried September wheat down approximately 4 cents and September corn to a level approximately 3 cents below the previous close. The cause was, obviously, an "overbought market." Such declines are not unusual in cases where speculative interest has grown to such tremendous proportions and where the markets get more or less out of hand, as the grain markets have done during the last week. There was some favorable news which was used as a "peg" to get the market lower. Beneficial rains occurred in some sections of Canada, in which the damage from drought had been particularly severe. There probably had been some sober overnight reflection, too, by holders of grain on the fallacy of placing too much dependence at mid-season in stories of a "crop famine." The pressure on the grain markets is likely to become more intense as the season progresses, and this, of course, must be considered a factor in the market. Present "cash prices" for the grains are exceedingly attractive to the actual grower and there is probably the added incentive of pressure from banking quarters.

The exchanges were quietly firm yesterday and, although not a great deal of progress was made, they appear to have shed much of the nervousness which characterized the minor fluctuations at mid-week. There is a great deal of optimism in banking quarters at home and abroad over the probable outcome of the conference. Our bankers, particularly, feel that it is "now or never" with the problem of reparations and the Dawes scheme for control must be put into operation without further delay, even though it is at the cost of an intensive campaign to sell the bonds of Germany to investors of the world. It is quite evident that commercial bills are not pressing heavily on the market at the moment, and whatever trend the exchanges develop will quite generally be considered a forecast or prophecy of the outcome of the London conference.

MONEY.

FRIDAY, JULY 18, 1924.

Extreme dullness prevailed in all departments of the money market, with no particular change in the quotations, except that in the outside trading some day-to-day accommodation was arranged at 1¼ per cent., where 1½ had prevailed previously, the official rate on the board continuing at 2 per cent. Little was done in fixed periods, but there were offered again six to eight months funds at 3½ per cent., the demand for the near maturities being nil. Both commercial paper and acceptances discounted without change, discrimination in name resting with the purchasing bank on merchants' bills that moved at 3¼ per cent.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

Most Active Market Since February.

Trading on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday totaled more than 1,100,000 shares, the most active day since Feb. 18 last, when sales aggregated 1,259,000 shares. Although the railroad stocks were again most prominent, due to the refusal of the Commerce Commission to permit a reduction of freight rates in the Northwest, buying was well scattered, and virtually all sections of the list recorded good gains, save the steel issues. These lagged behind the market pending publication of the Bethlehem and Steel Corporation earnings later in the month and dividend action on Bethlehem common. Railroad stocks recorded the largest gains, advancing from one to two points or more. Some issues established new high records for the year. The leaders were Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Rock Island, Norfolk & Western, the St. Paul issues and Atchison. Petroleum stocks were firm, displaying a better tone than in many months. Gains of a point or more were numerous in this group, both among the Standard Oils and independent issues. Utility issues were again firm, with the exception of American Water Works and West Penn issues, which broke sharply in the late dealings. Many of the low-priced specialties, including the rubber tire stocks, were firm throughout the session.

More Adjustments in Crude Prices.

Further reductions in the prices of crude oil were announced yesterday, but the reductions received only passing attention in the financial district, and petroleum stocks moved up with the general market. The reductions were made in Wyoming and Texas, and had been expected, as they were made to place these grades of crude in line with mid-continent prices on Thursday and on a competitive basis. The mid-continent reductions also resulted in a downward readjustment of gasoline prices in the Middle West. According to predictions yesterday, it would not be surprising if another cut of a cent a gallon in gasoline were announced in the East soon. But despite these adjustments oil stocks gained ground yesterday. General Petroleum added 1⅜ points net to its gain on Thursday. Standard of Kentucky moved up 2½ points on reports of pending favorable developments, while Standard of Ohio was up 4 points, and Standard of Nebraska the same amount. Independent oil issues also were higher, but with few exceptions net gains were confined to fractions.

Heavier Car Loadings.

Although freight loadings to date have shown little indication of an upward turn in business, the American Railway Association is preparing for such a change. One of the movements in that direction was the announcement made yesterday that shippers should load cars heavier. Increasing the car load while there is more than 350,000 freight cars in storage and 7,100 locomotives not in use may seem a needless economy, it is declared, but there is a possibility that most of the cars will be back in service for the Fall. Even in case they are not, railway officials declare, it is a needless waste of equipment to use more than are really needed.

Easy Sailing in the Pools.

In brokerage offices comment was heard yesterday that the present stock market has opened up unusual opportunities for various pools which, after very lean returns in the earlier part of the year, appear by now to be recuperating some of their early losses. Many stocks were named in which pool operations were reported as the guiding influences, and one broker remarked that "all the pool leaders have to do now is blow on their favorite ships and let them sail away."

Grain Rate Decision and Market.

In the financial district the grain rate decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission was considered as "exceptionally constructive" from the viewpoint of the railroads. Officials representing railways in all parts of the country took the same view, although the granger roads will benefit to the greatest extent. What this decision will mean to the railroads, it was said yesterday, is that they will have an opportunity to make up some of their losses in the last few years if the business holds up this year as is expected at this time. Yesterday the prices of the railway shares advanced an average of .69 of a point, with most of the Northwestern railroads reaching new high records for the year. Railroads like the Atlantic Coast Line and the New York Central also entered the movement and reached new high ground for the year. Outstanding in the development yesterday was the advance of the shares of Rock Island.

The Market for Bonds.

Heads of underwriting houses spent considerable time studying the bond market for some clew as to what might be expected in the coming weeks, and the conclusion that appeared to have been reached in most cases was optimistic. "The only difference between the present market and the boiling market of one month ago is that one cannot price new issues today at levels higher than market prices and look for them to 'move up' to those levels by the time the actual offering is made," one banker declared. "But the market is still as strong fundamentally as ever and, priced right, any amount of bonds, seemingly, can be sold." In the open market the recent period of steadily mounting averages appears to have been displaced with a more even movement undertone, with pronounced firmness of tone. In looking back over the recovery of bond prices to date, striking price appreciations are noted, particularly in the railroad convertible list. Norfolk & Western convertibles have moved up 17 points and Erie convertible 4s have moved up 11 points.

Looking for 1½ Per Cent. Call Money.

Predictions were made yesterday that the call loan rate which has held steady with the exception of the month-end at 2 per cent. would decline to 1½ per cent. This was based on the steady accumulation of loanable funds in New York, an addition having been made recently as a result of the great improvement in farm prices. Rural banks report the liquidation of loans that have been "stale" for two or more years. They in turn are thawing out their frozen assets, and for the first time in many months they now have a surplus of money, some of which is being sent into New York for use here.

Railroad Market Boiling.

Those who predicted early in the year that 1924 would witness a remarkable market comeback in the railway shares had reason for self-congratulation yesterday. The railroad shares were a centre of interest to the followers of the market. As is usual with such a movement, there was no end to the railroad gossip that floated about the financial district. On one hand it was possible to hear of a division of the New Haven railroad and utility properties, on the other of the segregation of the Delaware & Hudson coal and railroad properties. The hope of increased dividends on the Southern Pacific was again discussed, and the merger in which the Rock Island might play a part received its share of attention. While these rumors may have helped the stocks, it was pointed out low money rates, the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission on grain rates and the indication of improved conditions all played a part in the advance of the railway shares.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

Fresh interest was shown in the European exchanges yesterday, with the result that rates moved up for slight gains. Bankers and dealers said that it was only a question of a short time when the point which France had raised at the Dawes plan conference would be amicably adjusted and the road smoothed to a satisfactory conclusion. The appearance of some bids, from representative purchasers, while offerings were scanty, soon had the market pointing up from Thursday's levels.

Sterling closed at $4.37¼, a gain of ⅞ cent; French francs moved up 5½ points to 5.13 cents, but dropped part of this gain at the finish, while Belgian, Italian, Holland, Swiss and the Scandinavians were quiet but firm. Far Easterns were irregular, with the South Americans steady. There was another fractional improvement in the Brazilian rate, which got up to 10 cents, banking support being behind the milreis, which caused it to recover some of its recent decline.

FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

Firm Tone Prevails on Both London and Paris Exchanges.

LONDON, July 18.—Gilt-edged securities were firm on the Stock Exchange today. Oil shares were steadier and British industrials quiet. Old British consols were unchanged at 57⅛, as were British 5 per cent. war loan at 101¼ and British 4½ per cent loan at 97. De Beers Mining and Rand Mines were also unchanged at 12⅛ and 3 respectively.

PARIS, July 18.—Prices were strong on the Bourse today. Three per cent. rentes dropped 10 centimes to 53 francs 15 centimes, and the 5 per cent. loan was unchanged at 67 francs 90 centimes. Exchange on London was quoted at 85 francs 90 centimes, against 85 francs 12 centimes on Thursday, and the dollar was quoted at 19 francs 70 centimes, against 19 francs 47 centimes yesterday.

RUHR COAL OUTPUT DOWN.

Only 1,310,000 Tons in May, Against 7,780,000 a Year Ago.

According to statistics published by the Frankfurter Zeitung, the Ruhr pit coal production in May totaled only 1,310,000 tons, against 7,780,000 tons in May, 1923, and 8,970,000 tons in May, 1913, this year's decline being due to the strike.

The coke production totaled 570,000 tons, against 1,890,000 in May, 1923, and 1,920,000 in 1913.

BUYING MORE CONFIDENT

Cheerfulness has prevailed in business circles during the last week as a result of developments which indicate better trade conditions for the last half of 1924. The optimism resulted chiefly from the improved crop reports, the higher prices in grain and commodity markets, and the rise in security prices. Improved sentiment is reported in wholesale lines, but the retail markets continue in the best situation at the present time. The basic industries continue to operate at the low point of the year, but the belief prevails that these branches will show a turn for the better before many more weeks.

Dun's Review says in part:

"The increased firmness of different markets is significant of the closer balance that exists now between production and consumption of goods. For the first time in twenty weeks Dun's list of wholesale quotations shows an excess of advances, though the latter were largely confined to the foodstuffs group. Even with a lack of active buying now, many sellers are less inclined to make price concessions, and there are indications in some of the textile divisions and elsewhere that available stocks of merchandise are not plentiful. The present seasonal lull should logically be followed by a revival, and the noteworthy rise in grain prices will augment the purchasing power in the agricultural sections of the West."

Bradstreet's says in part:

"Rather more firmness and activity in some of the raw material markets, such as wool, cotton, silk, scrap steel, copper and other non-ferrous metals, seem to indicate that even the factory industries are beginning to feel the buying urge. Pig iron is quieter but firmer, and there are predictions of better buying of soft coal in the near future in the face of lower prices in Indiana and Western Kentucky."

ELECTION DEADLOCK BETS.

Wager Made at 1 to 8 That C. W. Bryan Will Be the Next President.

Several freak wagers on the election were made in the financial district yesterday. Firms reported moderate sized bets being on the following basis: One to 5 that the election for President of the United States will go to Congress; 1 to 8 that if it does Bryan will be the next President; 1 to 10 that La Follette will receive more popular votes than Davis and 1 to 12 that La Follette will be the next President.

President Coolidge continues a 3 to 1 favorite for re-election, with an abundance of money offering at that figure, according to J. S. Fried & Co., who also report that there is considerable money being offered on Davis at odds of 1 to 3½.

Applications for Listing.

Application has been made to the New York Stock Exchange for permission to list the following securities: St. Paul Union Depot Company, $15,000,000 first and refunding mortgage 5 per cent. coupon bonds, Series A, due Jan. 1, 1972, guaranteed; Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway, $3,452,000 additional first and refunding mortgage gold bonds, due April 1, 1934; Austin, Nichols & Co., Inc., voting trust certificates for 150,000 shares of common stock without par value, extended to Aug. 1, 1929; Southern Pacific Company, $28,000,000 additional common stock; Federal Light and Traction Company, $310,000 additional thirty-year first lien stamped 6 per cent. sinking fund gold bonds, due March 1, 1942, and International Railways of Central America, $30,000,000 capital stock.

FINAL DISTRIBUTION ON OLD I. R. T. BONDS

The Interborough-Metropolitan 4½ per cent. Bondholders' Protective Committee is notifying holders of receipts for certificates of deposit that on July 22 it will make a final distribution of $3.85 for each $1,000 principal amount of bonds represented by Series A receipts for certificates of deposit, and $1.54 for each $1,000 principal amount of bonds represented by Series B receipts.

The notice marks the final step in the winding up of the affairs of the protective committee, and virtually also those of the old Interborough Consolidated Corporation, which went into bankruptcy. Under the plan of readjustment for the Interborough Rapid Transit Company adopted in May, 1922, holders of Interborough-Metropolitan 4½ per cent. bonds received the right to participate in the plan either by purchasing the new I. R. T. 6 per cent. notes to an amount equal to 16 per cent. of the principal amount of their bonds, or by surrendering 60 per cent. of their bonds to an underwriting syndicate by which the 6 per cent. notes were to be purchased.

I. R. T. stock pledged to secure the Interborough-Metropolitan bonds when reduced to possession upon the enforcement of the trust agreement was distributed among bondholders participating in the plan. Holders of Interborough Consolidated preferred and common stocks had an opportunity of subscribing for such portion of the new 6 per cent. notes as was not taken by the Interborough-Metropolitan bondholders. Since the Interborough Consolidated, as the old holding company for the I. R. T. properties, went into receivership and the assets were sold under foreclosure, the preferred shares which before the war were worth around $90, and the common shares, which were sold at about a third of this figure, dropped to virtually nothing.

Because there is no market for these stocks, at one time worth millions of dollars, thousands of investors have been wondering what to do with them.

The bondholders' committee says that the trustee in bankruptcy of Interborough Consolidated Corporation, believing the 150,546 shares of the New York Railways Company's stock held to be valueless, has deposited this stock with the court pursuant to an order which provides that upon payment of the required sum for Federal and State stock transfer taxes, any of the above-mentioned bondholders may receive certificates for shares of this stock at the rate of 2 1-3 shares for each $1,000 bond.

BELL TELEPHONE DEAL.

Pennsylvania Company Seeks to Acquire Lehigh Properties.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for authority to acquire certain properties of the Lehigh Telephone Company of the same State.

Under the sales agreement between the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania and the Lehigh Telephone Company the Bell will sell to the Lehigh for $4,227,100 its properties in the Counties of Carbon, Northampton and Lehigh. The Lehigh company will sell to the Bell System for $1,830,000 its properties outside of the area which contains the properties purchased from the Bell System, including properties in Wayne, Pike, Luzerne, Wyoming, Bucks and Montgomery Counties. The object of the exchange of territory is to eliminate loss due to competitive operations.

Railroad Lease Canceled.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 18.—Lease of the Suncook Valley Railroad a twenty-two mile branch of the Boston & Maine from Suncook to Centre Barnstead, has been canceled, according to President F. W. Sargent of the Suncook Road. The lease terminates Sept. 15, and the directors today decided to run the line as an independent feeder.

Wholesale Sugar Price Reduced.

Another reduction in the wholesale price of refined sugar was announced yesterday. Arbuckle Brothers reduced the price 15 points, to 6.50 cents a pound.

WEEK'S NEW BONDS TOTAL $49,757,000

State and Municipal Offerings Aggregate $17,174,000 and Foreign Issues $16,161,000.

$8,500,000 FOR UTILITIES

A decrease in the volume of new bond offerings became apparent this week. The total was $49,757,000, comparing with $56,769,498 the week before, which marked the ending of a long period of successive $100,000,000 weeks. The question now is not of selling new issues, provided the prices are "right," but of finding new issues to sell, investment bankers say.

By groups the offerings of this and last week compared as follows:

	This Week.	Last Week.
State and Municipal..	$17,174,000	$20,269,498
Foreign	16,161,000	18,000,000
Public Utility	8,500,000	13,200,000
Railroad	7,522,000	....
Industrial	400,000	1,500,000
Miscellaneous	....	3,800,000
Totals	$49,757,000	$56,769,498

Although issues of bonds for States and municipalities again led the market in point of volume, bankers reported yesterday that business of this kind appeared to be shrinking. Except for a prospective issue of bonds for the State of Pennsylvania little new business of this class was said to be in sight.

As a result of the improvement in public utility business in general, recent offerings of bonds for such companies have been rapidly absorbed. In the future, it was believed, the public utilities would turn on a larger scale to financing new enterprises through the sale of stock. One issue of $10,000,000 of stock is being prepared for an offering next week.

R. F. De Voe & Co., Inc., are offering participation certificates in a $700,000 6 per cent. secured gold note of the St. Louis Southwestern Railway Company, priced at 101¼ and interest, to yield about 4 per cent. to March 1, 1925, and 5.75 per cent. to maturity, March 1, 1930. The note is secured by $1,400,000 par value, St. Louis Southwestern Railway Company first terminal and unifying gold 5 per cent. bonds.

The Chase Securities Company, John Nickerson & Co., Hambleton & Co. and the Federal Securities Corporation announced that the new issue of $3,500,000 Associated Gas and Electric Company secured gold bonds had been oversubscribed.

S. W. Straus & Co. announced that permanent first mortgage serial coupon gold bonds of the $1,000,000 Ludwig Baumann & Co. building issue were now ready to exchange for interim certificates outstanding.

Miller & Co., Charles D. Robbins & Co. and Buell & Co., the banking syndicate offering the $1,250,000 Western Maryland Railway Company first mortgage 4 per cent. gold bonds due 1952, announce the issue sold.

GAIN IN IDLE FREIGHT CARS.

Railroads of the United States now have 356,389 surplus freight cars on hand in good repair, according to figures filed with the Car Service Division of the American Railway Association. This large number is due to the increase in equipment during 1923, the efforts that have been made by the railroads to keep their equipment in repair, and the decrease in traffic in recent months. Recent car loading figures show that the traffic is more than 10 per cent. under the same period of last year.

More than half of the surplus cars are coal cars. The reports also show that freight cars in need of repair on July 1 totaled 194,869, or 8.5 per cent. of the number on lines. This was an increase of 2,398, compared with the number reported on June 15.

Beginning March 22, 1923, the Stock Exchange officially quotes Liberty bonds in units and fractions, the fractions being 32ds of a unit, and the quotations after the decimal point representing one or more 32ds. In the above table, therefore, the figures of highest and lowest prices during 1924 and since date of issue are reduced to the form now used in the Stock Exchange quotations.

Commercial Loans and Discounts Gain In Member Banks' Report as of July 9

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Increases of $48,000,000 in loans and discounts and of $27,000,000 in net demand deposits, as against reductions of $49,000,000 each in investments and accommodation at the Federal Reserve banks, are shown in the Federal Reserve Board's weekly consolidated statement of condition on July 9 of 748 member banks in leading cities.

Loans secured by stocks and bonds show a decline of $8,000,000, while "all other," largely commercial, loans and discounts show an increase of $56,000,000. All classes of investments show reductions for the week, United States bonds by $4,000,000, United States Treasury notes by $30,000,000, United States certificates of indebtedness by $5,000,000 and corporate securities by $10,000,000.

Member banks in New York City report a decrease of $38,000,000 in loans on corporate stocks and bonds, as against increases of $1,000,000 in loans on United States Government securities and of $40,000,000 in "all other" loans and discounts. Their holdings of United States securities declined by $17,000,000, while their holdings of corporate securities increased by $2,000,000.

Net demand deposits increased by $27,000,000, the increase of $20,000,000 reported for banks in the New York district, of $13,000,000 in the Cleveland district and of $10,000,000 and $9,000,000 respectively in the St. Louis and Philadelphia districts being partly offset by a decrease of $30,000,000 in the Chicago district.

Time deposits increased by $19,000,000, of which $11,000,000 is shown for banks in the San Francisco district. Government deposits declined by $12,000,000. The New York City banks report an increase of $5,000,000 in time deposits, as against a reduction of $4,000,000 in Government deposits.

Reserve balances of all reporting banks increased by $17,000,000; the larger increase of $30,000,000 reported for the New York City banks was offset in part by decreases in some of the other cities. Cash in vault increased by $7,000,000, a decrease of $2,000,000 being shown for the New York City members.

Borrowings of all reporting institutions from the Federal Reserve banks were reduced from $133,000,000 to $84,000,000, an like borrowings of the New York City banks were reduced from $38,000,000 to $7,000,000.

DAIDO POWER BONDS ARE QUICKLY SOLD

GENERAL ELECTRIC IN DEAL

Through Subsidiaries an Interest Is Acquired in Company Obtaining Loan.

Following the sale by the banking syndicate yesterday of $15,000,000 of bonds of the Great Consolidated (Daido) Electric Power Company of Japan, a statement was issued through Dillon, Read & Co. confirming the report that General Electric Company interests had arranged to purchase a "substantial number" of shares of the Daido company. This statement said in part:

"Dillon, Read & Co. have, through some of their important clients, arranged for the sale of a substantial number of shares of the Great Consolidated (Daido) Electric Power Company of Japan.

"Participating in such purchase are certain interests associated with the International General Electric Company and the Electric Bond and Share Company. This operation reflects the confidence of these investors in the industrial future of Japan, particularly in the hydro-electric enterprises of that country."

The statement calls attention to the scarcity of coal and oil in Japan, which makes it necessary for her to place increasing reliance on water power, and adds:

"The business experience of the General Electric Company in Japan covering a period of over thirty years has been uniformly profitable and satisfactory and unattended by any substantial losses whatever."

Subscription books on the Daido bond issue were closed soon after they were opened yesterday, indicating that the purchase of the larger part of the offering had been arranged before the offering was advertised in yesterday morning's papers.

Participating with Dillon, Read & Co. as syndicate managers was the Guaranty Company. They reported that particularly heavy applications for the bonds had been received from California and other Pacific Coast States, the total amount applied for from that market representing about 20 per cent. of the entire $15,000,000 issue.

Momosuke Fukuzawa, President of the Daido company, who has been in New York for more than a month in connection with the bond offering, and, it is understood, in connection with the placing of orders for electrical equipment, said that he was gratified by the way the issue had been received here. "It is to me renewed evidence," he said, "of the belief of American investors in the future of Japan and in the good faith and credit of its business enterprises.

"I am confident that this financial operation will do much to convince the thoughtful people of Japan that America has not ceased to hold our country in high regard. I attach great importance to today's event in its bearing on future relations between the two countries."

CHINA ACCEPTS PLAN TO PAY SIX LOANS

Details of the plan of adjustment of the dispute between creditors of three nations with the Chinese Government were announced yesterday by J. P. Morgan & Co., as representatives of American holders of six important Chinese issues.

The first notice of such a plan was published in this country on July 5 in a special cablegram to THE TIMES which told of the restoration of the six issues to an interest-paying basis. Only recently, however, was the text of the Chinese Government's agreement with creditors received in this country, in which a substantial amount of Chinese bonds is held.

The Chinese Government states that it will cancel a previous order, growing out of China's entry into the war against Germany and associated nations, regarding the payment of interest on certain bonds classed as parts of the German issue. Under this plan all bonds held by German nationals were invalidated. Many British, French and American nationals had purchased these bonds prior to the World War and, despite the fact that they were nationals of nations allied with China in the war, they, too, found that their bonds were invalidated.

To straighten out this tangle, the Chinese Government decided that it would resume the payment of interest and principal on all of the old German bonds except those in which it was evident that German nationals were the actual holders. As a result, payment will be made on the following issues: The 5 per cent. sterling loan of 1896, the 4½ per cent. gold loan of 1898, the 5 per cent. Tientsin-Pukow Railway loan of 1908, the 5 per cent. Tientsin-Pukow supplementary loan of 1910, the 5 per cent. Hukuang Railway sinking fund gold loan of 1911 and the 5 per cent. reorganization gold loan of 1913.

The American interest is confined principally to the Hukuang issue, comprising £1,500,000, or about $7,500,000, of bonds, of which £1,111,000 of the total had been invalidated on the ground of German ownership, although an investigation showed that actual ownership of all but $1,945,000 was in the hands of American, British and French nationals.

The formal text of the Chinese Government's announcement, as summarized by The London Times, was said yesterday by American bankers to present the provisions of the new plan in a nutshell. "Accordingly the full service of these loans will be resumed forthwith," it reads. "Coupon and drawn bonds of the 1896 loan, the 1898 loan and the 1913 loan already due will be paid on Monday next (July 7). Coupons and drawn bonds of the three railway loans due before Oct. 1 next will be paid at the rate of two coupons and one drawing per year on the dates provided originally for payments, commencing as from Oct. 1. Coupons and drawn bonds falling due on or after that date will be paid on the respective due dates."

UNSOLD BONUS BONDS.

Not more than $25,550,000 of the authorized total of $340,000,000 soldier bonus bonds voted by various States remain to be sold, according to the Bond Buyer in its current issue. Probably there will be no more than $18,000,000 of this remaining total sold, as some of the States will not require the full amount authorized to make payments to their soldiers. The proposed bonus of $35,000,000 by the State of Pennsylvania has been declared invalid, leaving only three additional States that are now considering like action with contemplated bonus issues of $14,500,000. In view of the Federal bonus, it is not believed those States which have not already taken action will do so.

The States that have paid bonuses are California, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Washington and Wisconsin, and a referendum will be taken this year on a bonus in Colorado, Montana and North Carolina.

Northern States Power Issue.

Stockholders of the Northern States Power Company have approved the directors' proposal to issue 10,000,000 shares of Class B common stock of no par value. The new stock will share in dividends with the present common in the ratio of 10 cents on B common for every $1 on the existing common, but will follow the present common stock as to assets. Of the new stock authorized, 500,000 shares will be issued immediately and acquired for $5,000,000 by the same interests which have operated the company for several years.

GRAIN RATE RULING HELPS RAIL STOCKS

Refusal of I. C. C. to Reduce Schedule Brings Optimistic Reports From Roads.

The refusal of the Interstate Commerce Commission to reduce grain rates as requested by ten Western States had a strengthening effect on railway shares in the stock market yesterday.

From all parts of the country statements were issued by railroads to the effect that the decision was very "constructive" from their point of view. While the decision will add nothing to the income of the railroads, it was pointed out that it meant the Interstate Commerce Commission would adhere to the provisions of the Transportation act of 1920 and give the railroads a chance to earn a "fair return" on the amount of capital invested.

In a statement issued by Charles Hayden, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, yesterday afternoon, he summed up the sentiment expressed by many of the New York railroad men. He said:

"We are naturally relieved at the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission upholding present rates on grain and its products. Further reduction in the grain rates at this time would have been disastrous for the Rock Island and the other granger roads. We have always felt that the commission, having the facts before it, would reach the conclusion that no further reductions could possibly be made at this time, but it is a relief to have the question settled."

According to Mr. Hayden another reduction of 10 per cent. in the grain rates would have resulted in an annual loss of $1,513,000 a year for the Rock Island alone.

Officials of other granger railroads expressed similar views. A representative of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy issued a statement saying: "The decision on grain rates is very encouraging. Last year the Burlington earned about $20,000,000 from grain traffic and a reduction of 10 per cent. in rates would have meant a cut of approximately $2,000,000 in our annual gross.

"The information we have from Washington indicates that the decision is gratifying also from the viewpoint of the stand the commission takes toward the rate base in Western territory and the alleged excessive maintenance of equipment by Western railroads in 1923."

Atlantic Coast Line	127¼	2⅞
Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe	105⅝	1⅝
Chicago Great Western pf	27⅜	1⅛
Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul	16⅝	1⅜
Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific	36¼	2½
Great Northern	65½	1⅜
New York Central	107½	1
Norfolk & Western	124¼	1⅜
Northern Pacific	65½	2⅛
Texas & Pacific	34¼	1⅜

While the decision had its greatest effect in the granger roads, it was of such a sweeping nature that the results were apparent throughout the railroad list.

Bankers called attention to some of the other factors that contributed to the advance in the railroad market, among them the low price of money and the constantly increasing discussion of railroad mergers.

FARMERS' LEADERS WILL VIEW THE CITY

The New York Central Railroad Company announced yesterday its program for a three-day marketing trip to New York, arranged in the interests of New York State farmers. The trip will cover July 21-23, inclusive, and it was said yesterday that forty-four out of the fifty-five New York State county agents and farm organization officers had accepted the invitation to join the inspection trip, which was arranged through the Agricultural Relations Department.

Produce commission merchants, hotel managers and wholesale buyers have co-operating in arranging the program, and trips will be made to wholesale purveyors, hotels, milk platforms, express depots for the handling of eggs and other products, railroad piers devoted to fruits and vegetables, packing houses, bakeries and other great distributing centres, accompanied by recognized experts, who will explain the various processes involved in marketing. A trip to the radio station WEAF will be made during the broadcasting of marketing reports.

The program for next Monday provides for a welcome to the farmers' representatives by F. E. Williamson, General Superintendent of the New York Terminal District, and a response by Enos Lee, President of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation; visits to the kitchens of the Hotel Commodore and of the French liner Paris, a dinner, at which experts of the American Railway Express Company will give talks on packing and handling of eggs and other products for shipment, and a trip to the New York Central milk platform at 130th Street, the Borden's plan at 439 West 127th Street and to the Dairymen's League plant at Nineteenth Street and Avenue B.

On Tuesday the program will include an inspection of the Jersey City terminal of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, inspection of butter and egg markets, visits to stores and factories, and inspection of the Bush Terminal docks.

On Wednesday the program provides for inspection of the Dairymen's League Cooperation Association, Inc., offices, at 120 West Forty-second Street; the WEAF broadcasting station, a trip around Manhattan Island, a visit to the Federated Fruit and Vegetable Growers' office and visits to railroad and steamship terminals.

BANK'S STOCK DIVIDEND.

First National of Amityville Increases Capital to $100,000.

The First National Bank of Amityville, N. Y., has paid a stock dividend of 100 per cent. and sold $20,000 of its stock at par to its stockholders, thereby increasing its capital to $100,000.

The institution is now seventeen years old and began with a capital of $25,000. It now has capital, surplus and undivided profits aggregating $170,000. Deposits are in excess of $1,900,000 and total resources exceed $2,100,000. The bank has installed a new safe deposit and storage vault, the old vault having been torn out to provide more room for banking quarters. Charles A. Luce is President of the bank.

225 Employes Buy B. M. T. Stock.

Subscriptions for Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Corporation stock are being received by the company from employes in every mail, it was stated yesterday at the Clinton Street offices in Brooklyn. Since announcement of the offer made to 14,000 employes of the system on Tuesday, 862 shares have been subscribed for by 225 employes, it was announced. The corporation offered to sell its workers 15,000 shares on time payments which would make the final cost about $60 a share. The stock has a present market value of $69.

WORLD WHEAT CROP IS HEAVILY REDUCED

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Secretary Wallace today announced that forecasts of wheat production received up to yesterday by the Department of Agriculture from eleven countries that last year produced 64 per cent. of the world wheat crop estimated a total of 1,913,000,000 bushels. This represents a decrease of 286,000,000 bushels, or 15 per cent. of the 2,199,000,000 bushels produced by these countries last year.

The indicated yield in Canada, based on the conditions reported as of July 1, is 318,640,000 bushels, as compared with 474,199,000 last year, a cut of 32.8 per cent. This indicated yield is subject to change, due to any subsequent revision of the area sown and to weather conditions up to the time of harvest. The indicated yield in the prairie Provinces is 300,530,000 bushels, as against 452,260,000 last year.

The first forecast of wheat production in Egypt is 37,001,000 bushels, compared with 40,654,000 bushels harvested last year. The forecast for Morocco is considerably above last year, but Tunis shows a reduction of about 56 per cent. The crop in Algeria is reported to have suffered from droughts and if the injury is as great as in Tunis and Egypt the total production in North Africa will be at least 12 per cent. below last year, the department says.

Conditions in the Balkan countries now seem somewhat less favorable than earlier in the season. Further reductions in Hungarian forecasts are reported by the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome. Wheat and rye forecasts for Hungary are considerably below last year, but somewhat above the average for 1920-22. Oats and barley forecasts are below last year, and also below the 1920-22 average. Wheat is forecast at 59,892,000 bushels, compared with 67,705,000 last year; rye, 27,164,000, against 31,274,000; barley, 18,831,000, against 24,649,000, and oats 19,290,000, against 25,547,000.

The revised estimate of the Argentine corn crop for 1923-24 is 276,756,035 bushels, compared with 176,102,739 bushels last year. This is the largest corn crop since 1914-15, when 325,178,000 bushels were produced. Allowing 83,000,000 bushels for home consumption and seed, there will be an exportable surplus of about 190,000,000 bushels this year. Previous estimates for the crop were around 270,000,000 bushels.

The flaxseed crop of Canada, estimated from acreage and condition report, will be 6,135,000 bushels, compared with 7,140,000 last year. The indicated yield of oats is 423,623,000 bushels, compared with 563,998,000 last year, and barley 66,217,000, compared with 76,998,000.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Flour prices are rising as a result of the recent sharp advance in quotations on wheat. During the last month the increase for the best grade of family patents has amounted to more than $1 a barrel. Reflecting the activities on the Chicago Board of Trade and the Winnipeg markets, prices were quoted in Minneapolis today at from $7.75 to $8.05 a barrel for the best grades sold in carload lots. On June 12, when the present upward trend of prices began, flour was quoted at the Minnesota mills at sums ranging from $6.80 to $7. This is a distinct advance over prices of a year ago. In the period from July 28 to Aug. 9, 1923, flour brought between $5.80 and $5.90. In fact, the present high quotations have not been evidenced since July of two years ago.

Reports from Kansas City state that this week prices for standard patents jumped 65 cents a barrel and are now hovering around $7. Millers explained that flour quotations are based from day to day on the cash wheat market. It is significant that buying has been general within the last few days. The public is purchasing in expectation that prices will go higher.

The enthusiasm for buying wheat relaxed a bit today, however, with declines of from 4 to 4⅝ cents in Chicago and from 4 to 4⅝ cents in Winnipeg. Quotations here fluctuated widely between $1.24½ and $1.27⅛ for September wheat, while in Winnipeg the top price was 21½ cents, under the previous day's close.

The reason for the lessening in enthusiasm was twofold, it was explained. Much needed rains in the Canadian Northwest are giving aid to the Spring wheat crop and there is a feeling among the traders that grain prices have advanced too fast.

RUBBER TIRE PRODUCTION.

The Rubber Association of America, which represents about 80 per cent. of the industry in the United States, reports that the production of rubber tires in the United States in May was larger than shipments by 268,616 casings.

May production, according to the figures, aggregated 3,038,586 tires, compared with 3,307,478 in April and 3,659,986 in May, 1923, while shipments totaled 2,769,970 in May, against 3,013,364 in April and 2,844,443 in May last year. Stocks of tires in hand amounted to 6,313,193 on May 31, against 6,164,226 on April 30, and 6,906,594 on May 31, 1923. Inventories of inner tubes aggregated 8,761,812 on May 31, an increase of 1.5 per cent., compared with April, but 5.7 per cent. compared with a year ago. Inventories of balloon tires totaled 465,635 on May 31, this being the first time that these figures were reported separately.

Australia's Wheat Surplus.

Australia's wheat harvest for the past season is estimated at over 126,000,000 bushels. Home requirements are estimated at 47,000,000 bushels, leaving an exportable surplus of 79,000,000 bushels, of which 60,000,000 bushels have already been exported, according to recent figures. An average crop is expected in the ensuing season.

Name of the Bank Was Misstated.

In a recent compilation of bank stock gains the name Bowery Savings Bank was used in place of the name Bowery Bank of New York. Savings banks have no capital stock and no stockholders.

OKLAHOMA RAINS UNSETTLE COTTON

ONLY JULY MAKES A GAIN

Week-End Figures Show 42,000 Bales in Sight, Against 34,000 Last Year at This Time.

Rains of an inch to an inch and a half in parts of Oklahoma had an unsettling influence on the cotton market yesterday. Profit-taking following the recent sharp advance supplied contracts, but nervousness over absence of general rains in Texas remained the main factor in the situation. An advance in the July premium to 520 points over October at one time, together with heavy speculative purchases, steadied the market after an early setback of 60 points and left final prices 17 to 27 points lower on new crop months, while July ended the day at an advance of five points.

The failure of Liverpool to respond to the sharp advance on this side, together with private reports of overnight rains in Oklahoma, unsettled the early market. With the Government report announced for Monday and an extensive advance in values the past week, realizing developed in several quarters and started a reaction of over half a cent. After closing at the top prices of the previous day, initial quotations showed a decline of a quarter of a cent, and later in the morning October broke through 26 cents to 25.90. Around the 26-cent level a more active demand appeared and prominent uptown and Western operators took cotton on a large scale. The fact that conditions in Texas remained unchanged and another sharp advance occurred in wheat prevented the development of any general selling movement, and profit-taking was not sufficient to change the character of the market. Greater irregularity in the way of frequent fluctuations prevailed, but reaction encountered supporting orders, and strength of the July position helped to sustain prices. July sold 520 points over October, the most extensive spread of the month, and considerable covering took place at these differences throughout the session. A rush of buying during the afternoon ran October to 26½ cents, and final prices showed a loss of only about a dollar a bale.

Weather details again indicated favorable distribution of moisture in most Eastern sections. With only light showers in the Carolinas and heavy rains in parts of Mississippi where moisture has not been excessive, conditions have improved in many parts of the Atlantic. Three stations in Oklahoma had over an inch, with nine places reporting showers. Texas had no rain, however, and twenty-six stations reported temperatures of 100 to 106 degrees.

Week-end figures showed 42,000 bales in sight, against 34,000 last year, making the total movement 11,162,000 for the season, against 11,010,000 last year. Spinners took 94,000 bales, against 96,000 last year, making 11,022,000 for the season, against 12,016,000 last season. There was a decrease in the visible supply of 52,000, against 61,000 last year, which left the world's visible of American cotton 1,010,000, compared with 961,000 a year ago. The supply of all kinds of cotton was 2,319,000 bales, against 2,255,000 a year ago.

WOOL MARKET STRONGER.

BOSTON, July 18.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: "The strength of the previous two weeks in raw wool has developed to an even greater extent during the last week, and prices are anywhere from 5 to 10 per cent. above the low point of three or four weeks ago. It seems toward the week-end that this initial buying movement has spent itself to a considerable extent, which would be no more than natural, since the buying was, in all probability, largely in the nature of insurance against the requirements of the mills in the coming lightweight season. All told, however, the movement of wool in the last two weeks has been much above a normal average in volume, probably amounting to twenty or twenty-five million pounds.

"The foreign markets are better this week, left-over wools in the primary markets being sold readily, while Bradford has marked up tops, in some instances, a penny a pound.

COPPER METAL FIRMER.

Copper metal was again a shade firmer yesterday and most of the larger producers reported that the majority of business was being done on a 12½ cent basis, or ⅛ cent a pound better than was quoted on Thursday. Some of the smaller companies were said to be selling metal at the 12⅝ cent level, but little copper was to be had at this figure. One of the largest companies in the district withdrew from the market at the above levels, except to supply regular customers with immediate needs.

The export market was quiet, and prices were unchanged at 12.45 cents, f. a. s., New York harbor, and 12.70@12.75 cents, c. i. f., London, Havre and Hamburg.

FAIR WEEK IN DRY GOODS.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, July 18.—Marshall Field & Co., in their weekly review of the wholesale dry goods trade, say:

"Current wholesale distribution of dry goods was greater than last week's volume, but was slightly less than during the same period a year ago.

"Road sales did not quite reach the total of a week ago, but exceeded those of the corresponding week last year.

SHOWERS IN CANADA END RISE IN GRAINS

CHICAGO, July 18.—Grain markets forfeited the bulk of the advance in prices of the previous day. Showers in Canada and disappointing cables from Liverpool disclosed a decidedly strained technical position, and with Eastern and Northwestern, as well as local longs, free sellers, wheat declined sharply and closed about the bottom, with net losses of 4⅜ cents. Corn lost 1⅜@3¼ cents, with oats off 1⅛@1¾ cents and rye 1⅝@1¾ cents.

On the break there was some buying that looked like reinstating of long lines sold out on the bulge late Thursday. The trade had an impression that part of the selling today was for Livermore, who is said to have been active in the market for some time.

There is a strong belief that, based on the world's situation, wheat is worth around $1.25 this season, and as a good part of the buying has been based on the theory, the rains on both sides of the international line may not change the trend of values.

Much more optimistic crop reports were received from Canada during the day, with several estimates made suggesting a yield of around 300,000,000 bushels for the three Provinces. Stewart, a leading Winnipeg operator, sold out his long wheat and reports suggested a crop of 305,000,000 to 315,000,000 for Canadian Northwest.

Export demand was inconsequential, due to the inability of exporters to operate freely under existing conditions. Heavy rains have fallen in the Southwest, delaying threshing and the movement.

Primary arrivals of wheat today were 1,379,000 bushels; week ago, 1,146,000; last year, 1,144,000. Shipments were 448,000 bushels; week ago, 451,000; last year, 581,000.

Buying of the new crop corn futures was on a big scale today, based on relatively low temperatures over the belt. Leading cash interest was also credited with bying December, and there were buying of September and selling of December to close spreads.

Old-crop deliveries were heavy, as farmers have sold considerable cash corn in the past few days, and late messages from the seabord claimed that 1,250,000 to 1,500,000 bushels of Argentine corn had been bought to come to this country and a like quantity by Canada. Owing to high prices for the domestic grain industries can grind Argentine corn and export the product profitably.

Primary arrivals for the day were 846,000 bushels; week ago, 439,000; last year, 737,000. Shipments were 430,000 bushels; week ago, 406,000; last year, 318,000.

Oats weakened with corn and on the better weather in Canada. Harvesting is delayed over part of the belt by wet weather, but there was a noticeable increase in country offerings to arrive and premiums on spot were off ½@1½ cents, as compared with July.

Milwaukee was reported to have sold 220,000 bushels of rye for shipment to this market.

CRUDE OIL PRICES ARE AGAIN REDUCED

Ohio, Texas, Humble and Other Companies Announce Lower Quotations.

Further reductions in the prices of various grades of crude oil were announced yesterday to bring quotations in line with mid-continent crude oil, which was reduced on Thursday, for the purposes of competition. The Ohio Oil Company yesterday announced a cut of 25 cents a barrel in Wyoming crude oil, which covers the following grades: Elk Basin, Grass Creek, light, Big Muddy, Rock Creek, Mule Creek and Lance Creek, while Sunburst, Mont., crude was reduced 7 cents a barrel. The Texas Company and the Humble Oil and Refining Company also reduced mid-continent prices to conform with the schedule put into effect by the Prairie Oil and Gas Company on Thursday.

The Humble Oil and Refining Company also reduced the prices of various grades of Texas crude oil from 25 to 50 cents a barrel. Under the new schedule Powell, Mexia and Currie, Texas, crude oil are quoted at $1.50 a barrel. Grade A Gulf Coast crude was cut 25 cents a barrel to $1.50, while Grade B Gulf Coast was cut 15 cents to $1.30 a barrel. The company also posted a price of $1.50 a barrel for Wichita (Archer County) crude oil 33 degrees gravity and above.

The reductions in the price of mid-continent and other grades of crude oil are expected to bring another downward adjustment in gasoline prices in the Eastern States in the near future. According to reports circulated in oil trade circles yesterday, the Standard Oil Company of New York and Standard of New Jersey are expected to cut gasoline prices 1 cent a gallon within the next week. The Standard of New Jersey yesterday reduced export naphtha 1 cent a gallon.

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana yesterday announced a reduction of 1 cent a gallon in the wholesale price of gasoline in its territory, and the reduction was immediately met by a similar cut on the part of the Sinclair Oil Company.

According to private advices received in the financial district yesterday the Midwest Refining Company has announced a reduction of 25 cents a barrel in Salt Creek grade crude to $1.35.

HEAVIER LOADINGS AID FREIGHT SERVICE

The United States Steel Corporation, the largest shipper in the country, is accomplishing favorable results in its effort to cooperate with the railroads in the heavier loading of cars, according to figures published yesterday. From 1911 to 1923 the average carload in outbound traffic of the thirteen shipping subsidiaries increased from 69,200 pounds per car, or 34.6 tons, in 1911 to 94,700 pounds, or 47.35 tons, in 1923. This represents an increase of 25,500 pounds, or 37 per cent.—while the increase in the capacity of the cars probably was not more than 10 per cent.

With this heavier loading, it is pointed out, the companies in the thirteen years used 352,094 cars less than the number that would have been used if the average load had not been greater than in 1911. Iron ore shipments are not included in the above figures, as the ore is always loaded to the full capacity of the cars used.

According to the report, the National Tube Company, a subsidiary of the Steel Corporation, recently loaded one of the new Wabash 50-foot cars, having a capacity of 140,000 pounds, with 129,700 pounds of 14-inch pipe, or 92 per cent. of the marked capacity. In the cars most commonly used, those of 100,000 pounds capacity, the average load was 65,000 pounds, or 65 per cent.

In line with the efforts of the railroads to induce shippers to load freight cars with heavier loads and thus increase the efficiency of the carriers, and to make available more cars when the peak of traffic develops in the Fall, the American Railway Association has just issued a bulletin showing what has been accomplished along these lines in the last year. The average load per car for all commodities carried in carload lots in 1923 amounted to 34.4 tons. The average carrying capacity of freight cars as of Jan. 1, 1924, was 43.1 tons. Compared with 1922, the average load per car in 1923 was an increase of 1.2 tons.

Refrigerator Car-Mile Record.

The Illinois Central Railroad has set a new record for the average refrigerator car miles with 98.88 a day in June. This is against a previous record of 97.13 car miles a day in June, 1922.

LATEST DEALINGS IN REALTY FIELD

The thirteen-story Manhattan Square Hotel at 52 to 58 West Seventy-seventh Street on a plot 100 by 102.2 feet, adjoining the southeast corner of Columbus Avenue and opposite the Museum of Natural History has been purchased by Jerome C. and Mortimer G. Mayer for a reported price of $1,200,000. The seller was the Hotel Securities Corporation and Raber-King negotiated the deal.

The building contains 286 rooms and 110 baths, arranged in suites of one, two and three rooms. All the furnishings and equipment are included in the sale, including the unexpired term of a lease now held by H. Frohman.

The purchase of this interest gives the buyers immediate possession. They are now negotiating with a hotel man for a long-term lease on the property.

Devonshire Apartments Sold.

The Lersand Realty Company sold the six-story elevator apartment house on a plot 41 by 100 feet at 325 West Eighty-third Street, known as the Devonshire. The building rents for $20,000. The property was held at $125,000. This is the third sale of this property by the brokers, Wood, Dolson Company, Inc., in the last year and a half.

Isadore B. Geller, operator, sold 501 West 169th Street, which is on the northwest corner of Amsterdam Avenue, and is a six-story building on a plot 100 by 50 feet. The building is arranged for eight stores and twenty-five families. The premises were sold to Harry Kornhoff, an investing client of Max Stadlen, broker. The property rents for $20,000, and was held at $150,000.

The Lowerre Investing Company, represented by Edgar A. Leaycraft & Co., sold the five-story tenement with stores at 1,928 Lexington Avenue to S. Klingenstein, this being the first change of ownership since 1896. John Hamilton was the broker.

Peter Grimm sold for Mrs. Clara Deischbourg 239 East Fifty-first Street, a five-story flat containing ten apartments. The buyer is George E. Stuckey, who has been buying considerable property of this character in the immediate vicinity. The property was offered for sale at $35,000.

Wechsler & Wechsler sold for Albert Reitman and Bernard Greenberger, as executors of the estate of Ignatz Weisberg, deceased, to a client of H. B. Cantor, the five-story twenty-family flat, on a lot 25 by 100 feet, at 617 East Fifteenth Street. The building shows a rental of more than $5,000.

HENRY CLAMAN'S WILL.

The will of Henry Claman, former proprietor of the Hotel Claman, now the Times Square, filed for probate yesterday, leaves one-fifth of his estate to his widow, Mrs. Millie Claman of 250 West Eighty-fifth Street. The residue is left in trust, the income to be divided equally among his children, Irving, Sydney and Gladys Claman and Hilda Brown, after Mrs. Claman distributes $100,000 "among twenty different charitable organizations to be selected by her."

The sum of $10,000 each goes to William Claman of 8,678 Bay Parkway, Brooklyn; Joseph Claman of 628 West 151st Street; Leah Cohen of 549 West 163d Street, and Annie Friedman of 810 Fox Street, the Bronx, all brothers and sisters. The value of the estate was not disclosed.

THE BRONX MARKET.

Operators and Investors Purchase Tenement Properties.

John D. Huneke sold 3,459 De Kalb Avenue, a six-story new-law tax-exempt apartment house on a lot 50 by 100. The building accommodates twenty-six families. The property rents for $18,700 and was held at $115,000. The purchaser is an operator. J. P. & L. A. Kissling were the brokers.

Albert Stern sold to a client of Henry Waltemade for investment 323 Beekman Avenue, a five-story corner apartment, with store, held at $40,000.

The Herman A. Acker Corporation sold for the 180th Street Leasing Company the vacant plot on the north side of Burnside Avenue, west of Andrews Avenue, being 77 by 100, on which the purchaser intends to erect a one-story business building. The property was held at $45,000.

J. Clarence Davies, Inc., sold for James Egan to S. Harvey 457 Concord Avenue, 97 feet north of 145th Street, a one-story frame building on lot 25 by 100 feet.

BUY NEWARK FACTORY.

Paper Manufacturers Acquire South Street Plant.

The large plant of the Breeze Metal Hose and Manufacturing Company, located on South Street, between Pacific and Jefferson Streets, and extending through the block to Calumet Street, Newark, has been sold through the E. J. Maier Corporation to Miller Brothers Company, manufacturers of paper bags and boxes.

The property covers about sixteen city lots and consists of one and two story brick and concrete fireproof buildings, containing 25,000 square feet.

The new owners will take early possession and will make extensive alterations before moving their plant into the property.

MADISON AVENUE LEASE.

Seventieth Street Corner to Be Improved.

Joseph R. Scheinberg, President of the Joray Holding Company, Inc., leased for a term of sixty-three years from Edward R. Finch the northwest corner of Seventieth Street and Madison Avenue, which fronts 100 feet on the avenue and which site is to be improved by the lessee with stores and offices. Stephen H. Tyng Jr. & Co., Inc., negotiated the entire transaction.

The same brokers sold 783 and 785 Madison Avenue, which were remodeled and now bring a handsome return.

Harlem Block Front Buyers.

The Marler Realty Company, Aaron Schwartz, President, are the buyers who acquired through Ryan & Co. from the Schuck Construction and Building Company the block front of new-law houses known as 1 Convent Avenue, 375 to 379 West 127th Street and 1 to 5 St. Nicholas Terrace. The property measures about 245 by 105 feet and consists of five buildings, housing 110 families. The entire property rents for about $70,000 per annum and was held at $475,000.

Writer Buys in Fieldston.

A. L. Musa has sold his English villa on Goodridge Avenue, Fieldston, to James Wallen, a writer. The property was built for and formerly occupied by the illustrative artist, Arthur I. Keller. It is one of the best specimens of pure English suburban architecture in America. Mr. Wallen will occupy it in the Fall. George Howe was the broker.

Laundry Increases Holdings.

The West Side Wet Wash Laundry, 428 West Forty-first Street, purchased from I. Levy the adjoining one-story buildings, 430 to 436 West Forty-first Street, on a plot 100 by 98.9 feet.

Cutter Bear Makes Port at Nome.

NOME, Alaska, July 16 (Associated Press).—The United States Coast Guard cutter Bear, which has been held in Bering Sea ice fields since May, arrived here this afternoon. Officers of the ship state no suffering was experienced by any one on board during the long tie-up. The work of unloading twenty tons of overdue mail is under way.

IMPORTERS LEASE QUARTERS

Foreign Art Goods Concerns to Locate Here.

Cushman & Wakefield, Inc., leased a large portion of the third floor of the Heckscher Building, Fifth Avenue and Fifty-seventh Street, to Henry Symons & Co. of New York and London for their American headquarters. This concern is one of the largest dealers in French and Italian antiques and objects of art, and their decision to locate in this building is an indication of the general movement among the large dealers in art to the Fifty-seventh Street neighborhood. Henry Reinhardt & Son, Lewis & Simmons and Friedner & Ebstein have recently located in the Heckscher Building. The lease is for a term of years.

Douglas L. Elliman & Co., Inc., leased for a long term of years the northerly store in the building at 717 and 719 Madison Avenue to Balfin Company, Inc., Peking, China, importers of Asiatic and Oriental art goods.

This is the first venture of Balfin Company, Inc., in the United States, having confined the operation of its branch stores to the Continent.

Police Department.

In the matter of charges against Inspectors Thomas E. McDonald, James S. Bolan, Thomas T. Ryan, George C. Liebers, Byron R. Sackett, Thomas F. Walsh, John F. Sweeney and Charles A. Formosa, and Deputy Inspector George R. Wakefield, 9 cases:

On July 11, 1923, by General Orders 19 the commanding officers of inspection districts and precincts, and, indeed, all members of the force, were instructed that all places where intoxicating liquor is kept, sold or manufactured in violation of the Federal law, was a common nuisance; that all places kept and maintained as resorts for persons to obtain or drink intoxicating liquor as a beverage was a disorderly place, and that it was their duty to repress such places and to disclose to their superiors the location and the name or names of the persons maintaining such places.

Thereafter, on Aug. 6, 1923, by General Orders 24 the commanding officers of inspection districts were ordered to certify that General Orders 19 had been substantially complied with and properly enforced; that all places within the district under their command engaged in, or suspected of being engaged in, unlawful traffic in intoxicating liquor were duly reported and that there were no places within such district, other than those reported, suspected of violating the law. The commanding officers of all districts and precincts were specially warned that they would be held strictly accountable for the prompt and efficient enforcement of General Orders 19.

Strict observance was enjoined upon the commanding officer of each inspection district respecting the provisions of General Orders 24, and particularly that part of the orders directing that a complete survey be made by the chief inspector commencing Nov. 1, 1923, of all places in each inspection district suspected of violating the national prohibition law, and all concerned were duly warned that in all cases where there was probable cause to believe that the commanding officers of precincts or inspection districts were negligent or inefficient in the suppression of the places described in General Orders 19, they would be dealt with according to law and the rules and regulations of the department.

The Chief Inspector was directed to submit a classified report showing the number and character of the places in each Inspection District that were suspected of violating the Federal Prohibition law, giving the number of each class of such places reported on forms described in General Orders 24, the number of places in each Inspection District that had been suppressed and the number still in operation. The Chief Inspector was further directed to carefully inspect the records with reference to the places which were the subject of a special communication to the Commanding Officers of the various Inspection Districts respecting which no action was taken or results obtained, and more particularly in cases where results were obtained by the Special Service Division or special squads attached to other offices.

The Chief Inspector was directed to investigate conditions in any Inspection District, the Commanding Officer of which failed or neglected to comply with and observe the provisions of General Orders 19 and 24, the cause of such neglect or failure and, where the facts warranted such action, charges should be preferred against such officer, enumerating in separate specifications each place where such neglect was apparent by reason of the fact that the persons conducting and maintaining such places were arrested, prosecuted and convicted by Federal officers or special squads assigned to that duty. The necessity for these raids by the special squads tended to show that many of the Commanding Officers of the Department had neglected their duty, disregarded departmental orders or were inefficient in the performance of their duty.

I am not unmindful of the fact that the Federal laws governing criminal procedure are archaic, insufficient and highly technical and that in many cases the absence of a proper code for the prosecution of persons violating the National Prohibition law and sufficient courts and law officers to insure a speedy trial of such offenders tends to provide a shelter for the guilty, rendering futile the efforts of alert and efficient peace officers. In many instances where officers of this department have undertaken to obtain and execute warrants for offenders against the Federal Prohibition law the unreasonable delay in obtaining such warrants has rendered our efforts futile to enforce the law. In many instances members of the department have been compelled to wait for hours, and frequently for several days, in the Federal Courts to obtain warrants for the arrest of offenders on evidence obtained after persistent endeavor and great expense, only to find that the service of such warrants and subsequent raids became fruitless for the reason that the offenders were undoubtedly warned of the impending raids and arrests.

The law imposes on the Police Commissioner the control of the administration, disposition and discipline of the members of the Police Department and police forces, and the duty to make, adopt and enforce such rules, orders and regulations as may be necessary to effect the prompt and efficient exercise of all powers conferred by law.

The Regulations of the department in force at all the times herein mentioned include a provision imposing the duty on all Commanding officers to enforce all laws and ordinances, and that any violation of the Regulations or neglect of duty would be made the subject of charges against such Commanding Officer or member of the force.

The provisions of General Orders 19 warned all concerned that a perfunctory or modified effort to suppress disorderly places and enforce the law was not the measure of the duty of members of this department, but that the laws must be enforced at all times of the day and night, with all the effective machinery at the disposal of the department, and that the existence of disorderly places is not a matter to be regulated but conditions or crimes to be suppressed.

The efficiency of commanding officers in the execution of any order issued by the administrative authority of this department must be judged by his prompt obedience, thorough observance and absolute conformity with such order and by the results obtained in the enforcement thereof. To assume that a law cannot be enforced because of the absence of general approval upon the part of the public or a lack of complete cooperation upon the part of coordinate branches of the State, city or Federal Government, or for any reason whatever to proceed wholly or in part upon the assumption that strict obedience to such order is not expected and will not be exacted, constitutes neglect of duty and disobedience of orders which should not and cannot be excused, overlooked or condoned. It may be difficult to measure or weigh the full extent of the neglect or disobedience in the instant case, but the fact is well established that in this instance definite, plain and peremptory orders of the Police Commissioner were not obeyed, and the evidence submitted in the defense of these officers, seems to be by way of excuse and mitigation rather than proof that the orders were earnestly and faithfully observed and enforced.

Were it possibly through the medium of testimony and competent evidence produced upon the trial of these cases to more definitely fix the responsibility for the disobedience of the orders of this department upon the part of these officers and were it not for the fact that in some degree at least proper support and cooperation was unobtainable or was withheld by the representatives of the Federal Government, the judgment and penalty in these cases would necessarily have been much more drastic, for the reason that disobedience of such direct, positive and explicit orders upon the part of high officials of this department is subversive of discipline and destructive of the morale of the department.

Fines Imposed.

Charges were made and preferred against Inspector Thomas E. McDonald, in command of the Third Inspection District, for neglect of duty and violation of the regulations, in that the said Inspector failed and neglected to properly enforce or comply with the provisions of General Orders 19 and 24, series of 1923, and that he failed and neglected to properly supervise or take proper police action with respect to suppressing disorderly places and preventing violations of the National Prohibition law at divers times and in various places within the said Inspection District, fully described and set forth in ninety-one specifications of the said charges. The said charges were examined, investigated, heard, and a trial thereof was had commencing on Jan. 21, and continuing on Feb 13, 14, 15, 20, 21 and concluding April 4, 1924.

Now, upon reading the record of the testimony and the evidence submitted upon the said trial, and upon all the papers and proceedings had in respect to the said charges and the examination, investigation, hearing and trial thereof, and after due deliberation, it is ordered, that the findings and decisions of the First Deputy Police Commissioner upon the said trial be, and the same are hereby in all respects, approved; that the said inspector is guilty as charged and that he be, and is, hereby fined fifteen day's pay.

Charges were made and preferred against Inspector James S. Bolan, in command of the Fourth Inspection District, for neglect of duty and violation of the regulations, in that the said Inspector failed and neglected to properly enforce or comply with the provisions of General Orders 19 and 24, Series of 1923, and that he failed and neglected to properly supervise or take proper police action with respect to suppressing disorderly places and preventing violations of the National Prohibition law at divers times and in various places within the said inspection district, fully described and set forth in sixty-one specifications of the said charges. The said charges were examined, investigated, heard, and a trial thereof was had commencing on Jan. 21 and continuing on Feb. 25, 26, 27, 28 and concluding on April 14, 1924.

Now, upon reading the record of the testimony and the evidence submitted upon the said trial, and upon all the papers and proceedings had in respect to the said charges and the examination, investigation, hearing and trial thereof, and after due deliberation, it is: Ordered, That the findings and decisions of the First Deputy Police Commissioner upon the said trial be, and the same are hereby in all respects, approved; that the said Inspector is guilty as charged and that he be, and is, hereby fined fifteen days' pay.

Charges were made and preferred against Inspector Thomas T. Ryan, in command of the Fifth Inspection District, for neglect of duty and violation of the regulations, in that the said Inspector failed and neglected to properly enforce or comply with the provisions of General Orders 19 and 24, Series of 1923, and that he failed and neglected to properly supervise or take proper police action with respect to suppressing disorderly places and preventing violations of the National Prohibition law at divers times and in various places within the said inspection district, fully described and set forth in thirty-four specifications of the said charges. The said charges were examined, investigated, heard, and a trial thereof was had commencing on Jan. 21 and continuing on Feb. 28, 29, March 3, 4 and concluding April 14, 1924.

Now, upon reading the record of the testimony and the evidence submitted upon the said trial, and upon all the papers and proceedings had in respect to the said charges and the examination, investigation, hearing and trial thereof, and after due deliberation, it is: Ordered, That the findings and decisions of the First Deputy Police Commissioner upon the said trial be, and the same are hereby in all respects, approved; that the said Inspector is guilty as charged and that he be, and is, hereby fined ten days' pay.

Charges were made and preferred against Inspector George C. Liebers, in command of the Sixth Inspection District, for neglect of duty and violation of the regulations, in that the said Inspector failed and neglected to properly enforce or comply with the provisions of General Orders 19 and 24, Series of 1923, and that he failed and neglected to properly supervise or take proper police action with respect to suppressing disorderly places and preventing violations of the National Prohibition law at divers times and in various places within the said inspection district, fully described and set forth in four specifications of the said charges. The said charges were examined, investigated, heard, and a trial thereof was had commencing on Jan. 21 and continuing on March 3 and concluded on March 4, 1924.

Now, upon reading the record of the testimony and the evidence submitted upon the said trial, and upon all the papers and proceedings had in respect to the said charges and the examination, investigation, hearing and trial thereof, and after due deliberation, it is: Ordered, That the findings and decisions of the First Deputy Police Commissioner upon the said trial be, and the same are hereby in all respects, approved, that the said Inspector is guilty as charged and that he be, and is, hereby fined five days' pay.

Charges were made and preferred against Inspector Byron R. Sackett, in command of the Eighth Inspection District, for neglect of duty and violation of the regulations, in that the said Inspector failed and neglected to properly enforce or comply with the provisions of General Orders 19 and 24, Series of 1923, and that he failed and neglected to properly supervise or take proper police action with respect to suppressing disorderly places and preventing violations of the National Prohibition law at divers times and in various places within the said inspection district, fully described and set forth in eleven specifications of the said charges. The said charges were examined, investigated, heard, and a trial thereof was had commencing on Jan. 22 and continuing on March 4, 5, 6, 7 and concluding April 14, 1924.

Now, upon reading the record of the testimony and the evidence submitted upon the said trial, and upon all the papers and proceedings had in respect to the said charges and the examination, investigation, hearing and trial thereof, and after due deliberation, it is: Ordered, That the findings and decisions of the First Deputy Police Commissioner upon the said trial be, and the same are hereby in all respects, approved; that the said Inspector is guilty as charged and that he be, and is, hereby fined fifteen days' pay.

Charges were made and preferred against Inspector Thomas F. Walsh, in command of the Ninth Inspection District, for neglect of duty and violation of the regulations, in that the said Inspector failed and neglected to properly enforce or comply with the provisions of General Orders 19 and 24, Series of 1923, and that he failed and neglected to properly supervise or take proper police action with respect to suppressing disorderly places and preventing violations of the National Prohibition law at divers times and in various places within the said inspection district, fully described and set forth in thirteen specifications of the said charges. The said charges were examined, investigated, heard, and a trial thereof was had commencing on Jan. 22 and continuing on March 7, 10, 14 and concluding on April 14, 1924.

Now, upon reading the record of the testimony and the evidence submitted upon the said trial, and upon all the papers and proceedings had in respect to the said charges and the examination, investigation, hearing and trial thereof, and after due deliberation, it is: Ordered, That the findings and decisions of the First Deputy Police Commissioner upon the said trial be, and the same are hereby in all respects, approved; that the said Inspector is guilty as charged and that he be, and is, hereby fined fifteen days' pay.

Charges were made and preferred against Inspector John F. Sweeney, in command of the Eleventh Inspection District, for neglect of duty and violation of the regulations, in that the said Inspector failed and neglected to properly enforce or comply with the provisions of General Orders 19 and 24, Series of 1923, and that he failed and neglected to properly supervise or take proper police action with respect to suppressing disorderly places and preventing violations of the National Prohibition law at divers times and in various places within the said inspection district, fully described and set forth in twenty-seven specifications of the said charges. The said charges were examined, investigated, heard, and a trial thereof was had commencing on Jan. 22 and continuing on March 20, 21, 25 and concluding on April 14, 1924.

Now, upon reading the record of the testimony and the evidence submitted upon the said trial, and upon all the papers and proceedings had in respect to the said charges and the examination, investigation, hearing and trial thereof, and after due deliberation, it is ordered that the findings and decisions of the First Deputy Police Commissioner upon the said trial be, and the same are hereby in all respects, approved; that the said Inspector is guilty as charged and that he be, and is, hereby fined fifteen days' pay

Charges were made and preferred against Inspector Charles A. Formosa, in command of the Thirteenth Inspection District, for neglect of duty and violation of the regulations, in that the said Inspector failed and neglected to properly enforce or comply with the provisions of General Orders 19 and 24, Series of 1923, and that he failed and neglected to properly supervise or take proper police action with respect to suppressing disorderly places and preventing violations of the National Prohibition law at divers times and in various places within the said inspection district, fully described and set forth in nine specifications of the said charges. The said charges were examined, investigated, heard, and a trial thereof was had commencing on Jan. 22 and continuing on March 26, 27 and concluding on April 14, 1924.

Now, upon reading the record of the testimony and the evidence submitted upon the said trial, and upon all the papers, and proceedings had in respect to the said charges and the examination, investigation, hearing and trial thereof, and after due deliberation, it is ordered that the findings and decisions of the First Deputy Police Commissioner upon the said trial be, and the same are hereby in all respects, approved; that the said Inspector is guilty as charged and that he be, and is, hereby fined fifteen days' pay.

Charges were made and preferred against Deputy Inspector George R. Wakefield, in command of the Tenth Inspection District, for neglect of duty and violation of the regulations, in that the said Inspector failed and neglected to properly enforce or comply with the provisions of General Orders 19 and 24, Series of 1923, and that he failed and neglected to properly supervise or take proper police action with respect to suppressing disorderly places and preventing violations of the National Prohibition law at divers times and in various places within the said inspection district, fully described and set forth in twenty-six specifications of the said charges. The said charges were examined, investigated, heard, and a trial thereof was had commencing on Jan. 22 and continuing on March 10, 14, 18, 20, 21 and concluding on April 14, 1924.

Now, upon reading the record of the testimony and the evidence submitted upon the said trial, and upon all the papers and proceedings had in respect to the said charges and the examination, investigation, hearing and trial thereof, and after due deliberation, it is ordered that the findings and decisions of the First Deputy Police Commissioner upon the said trial be, and the same are hereby in all respects, approved; that the said Deputy Inspector is guilty as charged and that he be, and is, hereby fined ten days' pay.

Charges Dismissed.

Under this head the Commissioner repeats the general paragraphs, excepting the last two, introducing the findings as to the eight Inspectors and Deputy Inspector Formosa, and then announces these findings:

Charges were preferred against Inspector William A. Coleman, in command of the First Inspection District, of neglect of duty, violation of the regulations and failing and neglecting to take proper action to suppress places within the First Inspection District, where unlawful traffic in intoxicating liquor was being carried on. The trial of these charges commenced on Jan. 21 and continued on Feb. 5, 8, 11 and was concluded on April 14, 1924.

Now, upon all the papers and proceedings had in the matter of said charges against Inspector William A. Coleman and after reading and considering the record of the testimony and evidence taken upon the trial of the said charges and due deliberation had thereon, it is ordered that the said charges and the specifications thereof be, and the same are, hereby dismissed.

Charges were preferred against Inspector Edwin H. West, in command of the Second Inspection District, of neglect of duty, violation of the regulations and failing and neglecting to take proper action to suppress places within the Second Inspection District where unlawful traffic in intoxicating liquor was being carried on. The trial of these charges commenced on Monday, Jan. 21, 1924, and continued on Jan. 28, 29, 30, 31, Feb. 1, 4, and was concluded on April 14, 1924.

Now, upon all the papers and proceedings had in the matter of said charges against Inspector Edwin H. West and after reading and considering the record of the testimony and evidence taken upon the trial of the said charges and due deliberation had thereon, it is ordered that the said charges and the specifications thereof be, and the same are, hereby dismissed.

Charges were preferred against Inspector Thomas J. Kelly, in command of the Twelfth Inspection District, of neglect of duty, violation of the regulations and failing and neglecting to take proper action to suppress places within the Twelfth Inspection District where unlawful traffic in intoxicating liquor was being carried on. The trial of these charges commenced on Jan. 22, continued on March 25, 26 and concluded on April 14, 1924.

Now, upon all the papers and proceedings had in the matter of said charges against Inspector Thomas J. Kelly and after reading and considering the record of the testimony and evidence taken upon the trial of the said charges and due deliberation had thereon, it is ordered that the said charges and the specifications thereof be, and the same are, hereby dismissed.

BANKRUPTCY NOTICES.

AT A STATED TERM OF THE UNITED States District Court in and for the Southern District of New York, held at the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 9th day of July, 1924.—Present: Hon. Learned Hand, U. S. D. J.

In the matter of HARVEY A. WILLIS, doing business under the name of HARVEY A. WILLIS & COMPANY, Alleged Bankrupt.—In Bankduptcy.— No. 35,125.—Order of foreclosure.

The Receiver herein, having petitioned this Court for an order directing all persons claiming any property or proceeds thereof in the hands of the Receiver, or which may hereafter come into his hands, to file a claim thereto on or before the 23rd day of July, 1924, or be forever barred, and for other relief, and said motion having duly come on to be heard before me,

Now, on reading the Order to Show Cause upon said motion and the petition of Henry H. Kaufman, Receiver herein, dated June 23, 1924, thereto annexed, and it appearing that said Order to Show Cause and the Petition annexed thereto had been duly mailed to creditors of the above-named alleged bankrupt and other persons interested herein and published in accordance with the terms thereof, and after hearing Roger S. Baldwin, Esq., counsel for the Receiver, in support of said motion, and no one appearing in opposition thereto and due deliberation having been had thereon, now, on motion of Baldwin, Hutchins & Todd, attorneys for the Receiver, it is Ordered that all creditors of the above-named Alleged Bankrupt who have not waived their property rights and all other persons, firms or corporations claiming moneys, stocks, bonds, securities or other property or any interest therein or in the proceeds thereof, in the possession, custody or under the control of the Receiver herein or to which he, or any successor herein may be now or hereafter entitled, be and they hereby are directed to file their claims in and to said moneys, stocks, bonds, securities and other property or the proceeds thereof, on or before the 9th day of August, 1924, in the office of Robert P. Stephenson, Esq., No. 32 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, and it is further

Ordered that the determination of all of said claims be and the same hereby is referred to said Robert P. Stephenson, Esq., as Special Master to hear, take testimony and report herein to this Court; and it is further

Ordered that all creditors, persons, firms of corporations who shall fail to file such claims on or before the 9th day of August, 1924, be and they hereby are forever barred and foreclosed from making or asserting any claim, title or ownership in and to any of said moneys, bonds, stocks, securities or other property or any part thereof, now or which may hereafter come into the possession of the Receiver herein or his successor; and it is further

Ordered that all creditors or claimants who have instituted reclamation proceedings herein and which are pending or undetermined, are directed to intervene herein; and it is further

Ordered that the Petition or Affidavits in said reclamation proceedings be and they hereby are made and shall be considered as claims filed pursuant to this Order; and it is further Ordered that service of a copy of this Order shall be made by mailing a copy thereof to all creditors of the above-named Alleged Bankrupt who have not waived property rights, and all other persons interested herein, whose names appear on the books of the above-named Alleged Bankrupt, at the addresses thereon, on or before the 16th day of July, 1924, by publishing the same in the New York Times once a week for two successive weeks, the last publication to be not later than July 26, 1924.

FREEDOM ELUDES FULLER AND M'GEE

Brokers Give $10,000 Bail Each on Sentence, but Strike Snag on Contempt Charge.

BACK ON GOVERNORS ISLAND

Judge Goddard, Who Held Up Proceedings, Is Expected to Give Decision Today.

Edward M. Fuller and William Frank McGee, the convicted brokers, were all smiles as they left the Criminal Courts Building at noon yesterday, bound for the Federal Building in the custody of a United States Marshal. They had just furnished $10,000 bail each to Judge Nott in General Sessions through a surety company on their sentence last Summer of from fifteen months to four years in Sing Sing on their pleas to guilty to bucketing stock orders of customers of their firm, E. M. Fuller & Co.

They expected that they were to be arraigned immediately before Federal Judge Goddard to be purged of contempt of the Federal Court in failing to return, more than a year ago, papers from their bankrupt brokerage business and which had mysteriously disappeared. Their smiles quickly faded later in the afternoon when they were taken back to Governors Island, where they had been detained since their sentence by Judge Nott.

Something had gone wrong in the plan to set them at liberty under a total bail of about $25,000 each preparatory to their appearance as witnesses at the forthcoming trials of William J. Fallon, their former counsel in the bucketing proceedings; Charles A. Stoneham, onetime head of a brokerage firm and now principal owner of the Giants' baseball club, and Arnold Rothstein, the gambler, on Federal indictments growing out of the Fuller & Co. bankruptcy inquiry.

Brokers Hold Reception.

The brokers held a reception to their friends on a bench outside the bail bond bureau of District Attorney Banton's office in the two hours in the morning in which they awaited the arrangement of their bail papers, and for an hour after, while seated in the office of the United States Marshal in the Federal Building, they maintained their buoyant spirits. At the end of that time they learned that Judge Goddard and Carl E. Whitney, their lawyer; William J. Millard, Assistant Federal Prosecutor, and Francis L. Kohlman and Carl J. Austrian, attorneys for the trustee in the Fuller bankruptcy inquiry, had been in conference in the Judge's chambers in the Woolworth Building across the street, but it did not look as though they were going to be purged of contempt of the Federal Court as readily as they had expected.

The conference was behind closed doors, and when it ended neither the Judge nor any of the lawyers who attended would reveal what had transpired. Mr. Millard said eventually that it was about "a civil matter and not a criminal matter," and this was taken to mean that Judge Goddard had asked to be informed about the ramifications of the Fuller bankruptcy investigation since the failure of the firm in 1922 for almost $5,000,000 before he would take under consideration the application of the lawyer for the convicted brokers that they be purged of contempt of the court.

Plead Guilty to Indictments.

Fuller and McGee the day before, after Judge Nott had consented to accept bail for their temporary release, had pleaded guilty to indictments charging them with using the mails to defraud and with concealing assets of their firm. They furnished $2,500 bail each on these indictments, which were returned by the Federal Grand Jury while they were prisoners in Ludlow Street Jail soon after they had been declared in contempt of the Federal Court.

No explanation had been offered by any Federal official for the desire to have the two brokers released on bail, pending their appearance as witnesses against Fallon, Stoneham and Rothstein. Nor did Fuller and McGee, in jesting with friends and acquaintances yesterday, reveal the purpose of this move.

After the brokers departed in the custody of three deputy marshals, it was said that Judge Goddard would begin his vacation today. It also was reported that certain papers in the Fuller & Co. bankruptcy proceeding were not available for the Judge's inspection when he called for them at the close of the conference with the lawyers. There was a report, however, that the papers were delivered to Judge Goddard later. He is expected to send his decision in connection with the effort to clear Fuller and McGee of the contempt charge to the clerk of the Federal Court this morning.

OPPOSES 200 EMPLOYES.

Civil Service Reform Association May Start Legal Action.

The Civil Service Reform Association issued a statement yesterday in which it said it believed the employment of more than 200 employes in the Department of Health, on the ground that they are "persons of established scientific attainments," was in violation of the Civil Service law. It added that the association's Law Committee had taken under consideration the advisability of instituting legal proceedings to test the validity of the appointments.

The employes in question, according to the statement, were appointed without competitive examination under the plea of an emergency due to an epidemic. The Health Department requested the continuation of their employment, and on July 3 the Civil Service Reform Association requested the Municipal Civil Service Commission to hold a public hearing on the application.

The Civil Service Commission refused to hold a hearing, and on July 16 approved the application of the Health Department. On that date the Civil Service Reform Association addressed a letter of protest to the commission over its ruling.

BILL PASSES; NO ONE THERE

Acting Mayor William F. Collins went through the motions yesterday of holding a hearing on the first bill of the municipality assembly as prescribed by law. The bill gives the Mayor power to designate the newspapers in which public hearings on all matters proposed in the municipal assembly, the lower legislative body operating under the Home Rule bill, are to be advertised.

The hearing was to be held in the Mayor's reception room and was so advertised. No one appearing for or against the bill, Acting Mayor Collins announced that he would sign it next Monday. He said there would be a hearing next Friday on the bill to restore to Commissioner of Accounts David Hirshfield his power of subpoena.

THEODORE WOLCZKI FREED.

Magistrate Moses R. Ryttenberg in the Tombs Court yesterday dismissed a charge of simple assault against Theodore Wolczki, 35 years old, and residing at 42 Washington Square South.

When Miss Dorothy Snedicor, the complainant, who occupied an apartment in the Washington Square South house, sent word she was unwilling to proceed with the charge, the Court said the evidence was insufficient on which to proceed with an examination. Wolczki told the Magistrate that Miss Snedicor's charge that he had beaten her several nights ago in her apartment was unfounded.

ALLEGED FRUIT TRUST IS SUED BY STONE

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Attorney General Stone announced today that suit had been entered under the anti-trust laws against the Seattle Produce Association of Seattle, Wash., on the ground that it was operating in restraint of trade, constituting a conspiracy to dictate and control the cost to the public of necessary foodstuffs.

In a statement issued by the Department of Justice it was said that the purpose of the suit was "to protect consumers of fruits and vegetables from paying exorbitant prices for such products."

In the bill of complaint filed today in the United States Court for the Western District of Washington, the Attorney General asks that the Court issue an order against twenty-four large Seattle firms, dissolving the alleged unlawful association, and that its members be enjoined "from further engaging in a like conspiracy in restraint of trade." The bill says that the produce dealt in is purchased in California, Colorado, Oregon, Flordia and other States, and in Honolulu, Mexico, Japan and Cuba.

"The Seattle Produce Association," the petition states, "has been engaged in alleged illegal operations since its organization about three years ago, its membership comprising 90 per cent. of all the produce dealers in the Seattle district."

According to the Department of Justice the officers of the association are B. Hertzman, President; Jack Girard, Vice President; A. S. Nickerson, Treasurer, and E. S. Gill, Secretary-Manager, with the Board of Directors consisting of E. H. Cruse, W. A. Duckworth, J. E. Radford, James T. Rice, William Schroeder and Mack Weinstein.

YACHT CLUBHOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., July 18.—A fire which started shortly before noon today destroyed the main building of the New Rochelle Yacht Club on Harrison Island. Many valuable medals, models and paintings belonging to members were saved by employes. The building was valued at $35,000.

Hundreds of motorists lined the shore at Hudson Park, about 500 yards from the island, and gave Chief of Police Frank Cody much difficulty in keeping the lines clear for firemen. On a third alarm every piece of apparatus in the city was called to the park, and under direction of Fire Chief Walter Jones lines of hose were stretched across the water. Several gallons of chemicals were thrown upon neighboring buildings by employes at the club.

The clubhouse was erected as a private dwelling in Hudson Park in 1886, and in 1895 it was removed to the island and rebuilt. In recent years it has been occupied by the club, of which Arthur H. Titus, Manhattan banker, is now commodore. The fire today was discovered by guests in the main dining room. The cause has not been definitely ascertained.

A meeting of the trustees of the club was held here last night and plans were made for the immediate construction of a temporary clubhouse to be ready for occupancy on July 26.

Commodore Titus said last night the need for speed in providing temporary quarters was because of the New York-Halifax ocean race, which is scheduled to start on July 27. Plans have been made for the entertainment of members of the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron and the skippers of the competing boats. These will not be curtailed in any way, Commodore Titus and the "Before the Race" dinner will be held in the temporary quarters next Saturday night, as originally planned.

Commodore Titus said that between a dozen and fifteen schooners, sloops and yawls would start in the race.

FEDERAL JUDGE HALTS EXECUTION BY STATE

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURGH, July 18.—An unprecedented legal move has gained a respite for Joseph Valotta, convicted murderer of Policeman Edward Cough, who was to have paid the penalty for his crime in the electric chair at the Western Penitentiary next Monday.

In the Federal Court here today Judge Thompson signed an order granting a writ of habeas corpus, returnable on Aug. 6, and a stay of execution pending final disposition. Alleged violation of the condemned man's constitutional rights is the basis for the action, the first of its kind in a United States court in this country, and, according to legal experts, the first of its kind in any court in the country.

The petition averred that Valotta is a citizen of the United States, and sets forth that if any State court attempts to deprive a citizen of his life, liberty or property without due process of law, or attempts to take his life or liberty in violation of immunities, or rights granted under the Constitution of the United States, the Federal District Court has the power to entertain jurisdiction, grant a writ of habeas corpus and bring the prisoner before the court to determine whether his constitutional rights have been violated.

The contention of Valotta's counsel is that he was not convicted by due process of law, and that the Commonwealth produced no evidence whatever that he had killed the policeman willfully, deliberately and with premeditation.

Counsel sought to go before the State Supreme Court for a rehearing, but several of the Judges were away and could not be reached. Previously the State Board of Pardons had refused a commutation of sentence. The verdict of the jury had been sustained by the State Supreme Court on technical grounds.

STEAL PAYROLL IN SAFE.

Three well-dressed young men who held up Stephen Gill, part owner, and Rose Doyle, a stenographer, in the office of the Reliance Power and Steel Company, on the second floor of 94-96 Mangin Street, late yesterday afternoon, and took $658.75 in payroll envelopes, apparently were familiar with the office routine. Evidently aware that Gill and Miss Doyle were accustomed to being alone each Friday afternoon when the payroll was made up, the three men walked in without knocking. They displayed their revolvers and ordered Gill and the stenographer to "sit tight."

Gill tried to temporize. The young men seemed to enjoy his efforts to convince them that there was no money in the office.

"I haven't got it," was the reply.

One of the robbers then walked to the open safe and calmly took the payroll money, neatly arranged in envelopes, and put it in his pockets. The three stepped to the door and said:

"Sit still until we're gone and you'll be all right. Make a wrong move and you'll be out of luck."

When the police were notified later they learned that the thieves had fled in a taxicab.

NUISANCE CHARGES FILED IN RITZ CASE

TRIAL SOUGHT FOR JULY 28

Informations against the officers and employes of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel Company, who were arrested on charges of violating the Volstead act and maintaining a public nuisance, were filed yesterday by United States Attorney William Hayward. The defendants will be taken before Federal Judge George W. McClintick of Charlestown, W. Va., at 10 A. M. Monday. Judge McClintick is substituting for other Judges who are on vacation. Assistant United States Attorney Maxwell S. Mattuck, appearing for the Government, will ask that the trial be set for July 28.

The men charged with maintaining a nuisance are Duncan Harris, President; Errol Kerr, Treasurer, and John Watt, Secretary of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel Company. Eight waiters and one patron are charged with selling or possessing liquor in violation of the Volstead act. The charges grew out of a raid made on the Japanese Roof Garden of the Ritz-Carlton last Friday night, which followed visits by prohibition agents, who alleged they bought champagne at $20 a quart.

Hotel men throughout the country are watching the case with closest attention, according to Divisional Prohibition Chief R. Q. Merrick. Mr. Merrick said yesterday he had been informed that one hotel proprietor had cabled from Europe to his representative in New York to watch every move of the prohibition authorities. Mr. Merrick has received many letters, both praising and condemning the raid on the Ritz-Carlton.

Michael Moore, 27, a negro cook, of the Grace Line steamer Carolina, was sent to jail for ten days in default of a $10 fine by Magistrate Liota in the Bridge Plaza Court for his activities after drinking bootleg liquor. Chief Engineer Joseph Crawlay said Moore returned to the ship, at the foot of Huron Street, Brooklyn, brandishing a knife and shouting:

"I am the Emperor Jones, and this is my flagship! All white men, look out!"

United States Attorney Ralph C. Greene in Brooklyn announced that the fines paid by liquor law violators in his district amounted to $249,180 from July 1, 1923, to July 1, 1924. There were 3,005 arrests, and more than 80 per cent. of the 2,328 cases brought to trial resulted in convictions.

TO MAKE NOSE FROM RIB.

CHICAGO, July 18.—An operation on Miss Rosetta Duncan's nose, broken in an encounter with police of Cicero, a suburb, on July 4, will be made to restore its former shapeliness, surgeons have decided. Cartilage will be taken from one of Miss Duncan's ribs, cut and shaped to the required size and grafted into the nose, they plan.

Miss Duncan and her sister Vivian, co-stars in a musical comedy playing here, and her brother, Harold, were arrested at Cicero for violating a traffic rule while motoring from the Hawthone races to Chicago. The Duncans charged that Cicero policemen brutally beat her and her brother. In addition to a broken nose, Rosetta said, they broke several of her ribs. Physicians attending her brother stated that a blow on the eye he received from one of the policemen will impair his vision.

The Duncan party recently was fined $1 and costs for violating traffic and appealed the case. The policemen said to have been implicated in the affair filed suit yesterday for $60,000 damages as the result of injuries they said Rosetta inflicted when she resisted arrest.

Charges against the policemen filed by the Duncans will be heard within a week by the Grand Jury, State's attorneys said.

TWO KILLED BY AUTOS.

Man Crushed to Death Cranking Car on Ferryboat.

Chasing a toy balloon in front of his home at 352 Sixteenth Street, Brooklyn, last evening, George Thier, 4 years old, ran into the rear wheels of a motor truck and received injuries from which he died soon after at the Methodist Episcopal Hospital. Samuel Silverstein, driver of the motor truck, of 356 Sixteenth Street, was exonerated.

Frank Varga, 22, of 23 Hamilton Street, Maspeth, Queens, was killed last evening on the ferryboat Englewood, plying between Port Richmond, S. I., and Bayonne, N. J., when he cranked the motor of his truck while it was in gear at the landing on the New Jersey side. He was crushed against the rear of a touring car.

Two girls and three youths, riding on a motorcycle and sidecar at Ocean Parkway and Avenue Z, Brooklyn, early yesterday morning, were thrown out when the machine ran into a stalled automobile. Mary Wallace of 52 State Street, Brooklyn, was taken to the Coney Island Hospital in a serious condition with a fracture of the skull. Leonard Maro, 10 Amity Street, owner and operator of the motorcycle; Sadie Macky, 711 Henry Street; William Ferris, 2,914 Fifteenth Avenue, and John Passo, 6,816 Fourteenth Avenue, all of Brooklyn, were treated by an ambulance surgeon for cuts and bruises. Maro was arrested by Policeman Henry of the Sheepshead Bay Station on a charge of felonious assault. The policeman said that he was driving the motorcycle recklessly.

MAY SUCCEED OLVANY.

It was indicated yesterday that State Labor Commissioner Bernard L. Shientag will be strongly urged upon Governor Smith as a successor to Judge George W. Olvany of the Court of General Sessions, who soon will retire to devote himself to the leadership of Tammany Hall.

Commissioner Shientag is held in high regard by Governor Smith and made a sacrifice in deference to the wishes of the Governor when he accepted appointment to his present position at the head of the Department of Labor.

The Central Trades and Labor Council of Greater New York and vicinity yesterday endorsed Commissioner Shientag for the prospective vacancy on the General Sessions bench. It is likely that whoever is named by Governor Smith will become a candidate for the vacant place in the election this Fall.

Secretary John F. Coughlin of the Council was instructed to notify Tammany Hall of its action in endorsing Commissioner Shientag.

THREE CLIMBERS SCALE PEAK OF MT. GEIKIE

Canadian Mountain of 10,854 Feet Has Defied Alpinists for Years.

Special to The New York Times.

MONTREAL, Quebec, July 18.—Mount Geikie has been conquered. After years of unsuccessful endeavor by the best Alpinists in Canada and the United States this grim peak, highest and most forbidding of all the mountains in the Rampart Range, Jasper National Park, Alberta, has surrendered to the efforts of two Canadians and an American.

The climbers were Cyril G. Wales of Edmonton, Alberta; M. D. Geddes of Toronto and Val A. Flynn of St. Louis, Mo.

The mountain was tackled July 14 at 2:30 o'clock in the morning, on the southeast side. The climbers proceeded up a steep snow gully and up rock chimneys until finally they reached a tremendous crack in the face of the slope. Following this crack, they found it led straight through to the heart of the mountain and emerged as a tunnel on the north face, where the mountain dropped a sheer 3,000 feet to the floor of the Tonquin Valley. The climbers were forced to retrace their steps.

Further up the mountain the climbers found their way blocked by a huge chasm which could be crossed only by a snow bridge, a drop from which meant death. They took the chance, and by lying full length on the bridge and working their way across on their elbows and knees distributed their weight in such a way that the bridge held.

Within 300 feet of the top the mountaineers found themselves on the little seven-foot ledge where the last attempt on the mountain had ended in 1923. Creeping along this ledge, which encircled the south side of the mountain, they were able to gain footholds in the face of the cliff and reach the top. It was 4 o'clock in the afternoon when the party found themselves on the peak. Here they rested for a short time before beginning the descent, the greater part of which was accomplished by moonlight. They arrived back in camp at 4:30 o'clock in the morning of July 15, after a steady effort of twenty-six hours.

Two other parties were waiting to make the attempt on Geikie if this effort failed. Among them was Dr. Therington of New York, who, with his guide, Conrad Kain, saw the party on the top of Geikie from the north side and returned to Jasper Park Lodge.

WHISTLES AT CROSSINGS.

Pedestrians and all vehicular traffic must come to a halt at grade crossings at the sound of whistle signals, which were adopted yesterday as an additional safety expedient by the management of the Long Island Railroad. From the offices of the company the following explanation of the new system was made public:

"Railroad traffic men and crossing watchmen, according to the rule just placed into effect, will blow a whistle as a warning for drivers of automobiles, motor trucks, motorcycles, bicycles, horse-drawn vehicles and pedestrians to halt at public highways which intersect the railroad tracks at grade. However, no signal whatever will be given for traffic to cross, the lowering of the stop disk by the crossing watchman or the raising of the gates and the stepping aside of the traffic man being sufficient notice for traffic to resume movement over the crossing.

"Under the old rule or practice there were twenty-four crossings on Long Island where, in addition to the crossing watchmen, so-called traffic men were stationed, who, by means of whistle signals, stopped and started traffic, and also advised crossing watchmen when to raise or lower the gates. With the adoption of the new rule for protecting the public at grade crossings, all crossing watchmen and traffic men, numbering about 800, have been provided with whistles, which they will sound only for the stoppage of traffic.

"There are 257 watchman-protected and gate-protected crossings on Long Island, where the lowering of the gate or the upholding of the stop sign constitute signals for stopping traffic. Five of these crossings are equipped with a bell, operated by the crossing watchman, a bell which rings continuously while the circuit is cut in. At seven crossings a similar bell is operated by a crossing watchman at an adjacent crossing. Forty-nine crossings are equipped with track circuit bells located on poles, and at nine crossings there are track circuit bells in the watchmen's shanties. Fourteen crossings are equipped with flashlight and bell signals.

"In adopting the simple and uniform method of stopping traffic at crossings by means of whistle signals the railroad management believes that with the co-operation of motorists and drivers of other vehicles, as well as pedestrians, accidents at Long Island grade crossings will be substantially reduced, especially at this season of the year, when not only the highways are crowded with motor cars, but when heavy railroad passenger traffic renders it necessary to operate trains more frequently."

CITY FIGHTS STOCK ISSUE.

Corporation Counsel Opposes Brooklyn City Railroad Plan.

Corporation Counsel George P. Nicholson said yesterday that he was not particularly surprised that the Transit Commission had given its approval to the $4,000,000 issue of capital stock by the Brooklyn City Railroad Company. He had hoped, however, that the commission in the interest of the public might withhold its approval. Mr. Nicholson said:

"As Corporation Counsel, I opposed this issue of $4,000,000 capital stock. I do not believe there was justification of any sort for the approval. The issue is, in my view, opposed by sound financial considerations.

"The Brooklyn City Railroad Company, in its petition, asked for approval on the ground of reimbursing its Treasury. But I emphasized to the commission that there would be no reimbursement in any sense of the word; the company would not get any cash, but would merely issue the new $4,000,000 capital stock to its present stockholders.

"The issue is nothing more or less than a stock dividend, for which there is no authorization under Section 55 of the Public Service Commissions law. The idea of reimbursement is a thin evasion of the reality of the transaction.

"The result of the issue will, as I see it, be harmful to the city in two respects. First, it will cover up the earning power of the Brooklyn City Railroad Company and will thus postpone the time when the company will be required to restore transfers and give decent service in Brooklyn. In the second place, there will be the $4,000,000 more of capital stock which may be involved in the Transit Commission's scheme of transit readjustment. If that scheme should ever be carried out there will probably be just so much more to be paid by the city for the depreciated traction systems.

"This decision of the Transit Commission is in line with the approval two weeks ago of the reorganization of the New York Railways system, as well as the other actions which will make more difficult the ultimate solution of the transit problem of the city. The reorganization of the New York Railways system will place initial fixed charges upon the properties of nearly $1,000,000 a year, and then there will be large additional interest burdens because of the necessary reconstruction and re-equipment."

St. Louis Has Double Hanging.

ST. LOUIS, July 18.—Charles Merrell and Hugh Pinkley, slayers of Patrolman Michael O'Connor, were hanged at 4:08 o'clock this afternoon. It was the first legal execution in St. Louis in seventeen years. The men stood on parallel trap doors in the sixth floor of the City Jail and were dropped through to the fifth floor.

POLICE GUARD BROOK IN FIGHT ON TYPHOID

TWO NEW CASES HERE

Palisades Official Says More Signs Will Give Warning of Danger in Englewood Stream.

With two more cases of typhoid fever developing, making a total of seventy directly traceable to Englewood Brook in the Palisades Interstate Park, State and local health officials and the park authorities yesterday took further precautions to prevent the spread of the outbreak.

Officials of the State Board of Health, acting under a recent law, passed at the request of the park authorities, took over supervision of health measures in the park north of the New Jersey line, local boards of health along the Palisades region became more watchful and the park authorities announced that thirty police officials would patrol the reservation during the week-end and warn campers and picknickers not to drink from the streams through the park.

Dr. Frank J. Monaghan, Commissioner of Health, announced that the two new cases developed in Manhattan. One was that of a girl of 13 and the other, the first adult, was a woman of 45. Three other cases, he said, were under suspicion.

The Commissioner also outlined the situation in a letter to Dr. Matthias Nicoll Jr., State Commissioner of Health, following the announcement that the State authorities would take charge of health matters in that part of the park lying within New York State.

In writing to Dr. Nicoll, Commissioner Monaghan pointed out that not only was there danger from the water, analysis of which showed pure typhoid bacilli, but there was added danger in bathing where the polluted waters empty into the Hudson River. He also asked that guards be placed at every point where the brook falling over the cliff makes it possible for hikers and others to use water for drinking or for washing foods. "The mere placing of signs has had no effect," he said. "A medical officer of this department satisfied himself of this by personal inspection on the afternoon of July 17."

E. W. King, Assistant Secretary of the Palisades Interstate Park Commission, announced that to supplement the signs in English, others in Italian and Yiddish had been painted and would be put up today.

"We have also instructed the park police to warn off any persons seen approaching the water as if they intended to drink it." Mr. King said: "We are working with the State Boards of Health for New York and New Jersey and with the New York City health officials. It was upon our suggestion that the law was passed making the Bear Mountain region a health district, and we are pleased to have the State officials take advantage of it.

"The report that sixty children became ill at one camp at Bear Mountain was not only untrue but unnecessarily alarming. All the sickness has been in the Palisades region, but to make quite sure we are having the waters of every stream in the park analyzed."

DOHENY AND HIS SON POST OIL CASE BONDS

Each Puts Up $5,000 to Answer Indictments Returned in Washington.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 18.—Edward L. Doheny and his son, Edward L. Doheny Jr., posted $5,000 bonds each today for their appearance in Washington, D. C., to answer to recent indictments in the Government oil lease cases. Former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall, who also was indicted and who made his bond recently in El Paso, is visiting Doheny here, but was not present at the proceedings.

BANTON DECISION STANDS.

Says His Staff Endorsed Refusal to Prosecute Craig's Charges.

District Attorney Joab H. Banton stuck yesterday to his refusal to place before the Grand Jury Controller Craig's charges against Mayor Hylan, Chamberlain Berolzheimer and President Hulbert of the Board of Aldermen. In a second letter to the Controller, Mr. Banton said:

"Replying to your letter of the 17th instant, just received, I beg to state that the opinion I rendered yesterday morning was rendered after careful consideration of all the authorities. It is concurred in by members of my appeals staff and other members of my staff who have been called in consultation."

WANT ANOTHER CONVENTION

The Hotel Association of New York City announced yesterday that it endorsed the resolution recently adopted by the New York Non-Partisan National Convention Committee, of which Joseph P. Day is Chairman, in support of a movement to bring the Republican National Convention, due to meet in four years, to this city.

"As the largest city in the country she has the facilities to entertain her visitors as they can be entertained nowhere else," a statement issued by the hotel men said. "During the recent Democratic convention expressions of high praise were extended the City Hotel Association by officials and delegates on the manner in which the hotels took care of all visitors to New York."

NAVAL RESERVISTS GROUND.

Eagle Boat 26 Gets Off With Slight Damage.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 18.—Eagle Boat 26, which went ashore early today at Great Salt Pond, Block Island, while cruising with New York naval reservists, was towed into this harbor this afternoon. The vessel was only slightly damaged and repairs will be made by her own crew.

BOSTON, July 18.—"Sentinels of the Republic," of which Louis A. Coolidge is President, oppose the child labor amendment," said Mr. Coolidge today. "I am against the centralization of power which its adoption will make possible," he added. Assistant Attorney General Lincoln said: "The adoption of the amendment by this State would be a calamity. It is too Socialistic."

Seize Munitions on Ship in India.

LONDON, July 18.—The police of Singapore have detained the North German Lloyd steamer Schlesien and seized fifty cases of ammunition aboard marked "machinery for Tientsin," according to a Singapore dispatch to The Daily Mail. The police of Colombo confiscated a number of rifles on the Schlesien when the vessel was there recently.

No other Residential Section of New York City Has an Environment More to be Desired than Jackson Heights

A Small Book
That Speaks Volumes
But Cannot Tell Half The Story

"Homes and Gardens" tells you much of what Jackson Heights has to offer.

It pictures the architecturally splendid Garden Apartments, but it cannot impart the cheer and comfort of Jackson Heights and its recreational facilities.

It cannot do more than suggest the living atmosphere and environment of this distinctive residential section of New York City.

Let us send you a copy of "Homes and Gardens." Then, when you have read it, only a visit to Jackson Heights will complete the story.

Racial Bigotry

It is not too much to say that every American should read Religious and Racial Prejudices in the United States, by Frank Johnston, Jr., Justice of the Illinois Appellate Court.

This statement applies to old and young of both sexes, native, or foreign born. If more literature of this type were at the disposal of all, there would be less danger from the menace that Justice Johnston speaks of. Read this enlightening article today.
